WAR ON DEPOT SPITTERS.—Officials of the Northern Pacific Terminal Company, with the co-operation of the policemen stationed at the Union Depot, are waging a reientless war on thoughtless people who expectorate around the station. Large, conspictous signs have been lately posted, tailing the public's attention to the fact that the filthy practice will not be tolerated and that offenders are to be tolerated and that offenders are to be geverely dealt with. Warning is given that violators of the city ordinances on the subject will be summarily arrested and that the depot officials will follow the causes to the Police Court to ensure prosecution. There has always been a penalty attached to spitting around the station but it has been difficult to put a stop to it. Recently the crusade has been taken up anew and no effort will be spared to put an end to the disgusting habit. The patrolmen who are stationed at the depot are ready, when called upon, to arrest any persons guilty of disregardto arrest any persons guilty of disregard-ing the notices that have been put up and it is thought the positive stand taken by the management of the terminal com-

ALLEGED TRIEF CAUGHT .- In the arrest of Chester Harvey by Acting Detectives Price and Inskeep yesterday afternoon, the police believe that they have captured a clever criminal, known in the world of crime as a "room worker." He was booked at headquarters on a charge of vagrancy, but it is thought that he will be accused of several thefts today. According to the police, Harvey has been renting rooms in various houses in Port-land, and after having engaged a room, he is said to have stolen everything of value he could find. In many instances, the police state, he is known to have fun-sacked every room in large ledging-houses, and he is regarded as a dangerous anty Fruit Inspector Richard Deich yesterday seized nearly 1000 nursery trees that he found infected with San Jose scale. The trees were shipped here, some of them from New York, to local orchardists and nur-sery men. The worst of the lot the in-spector burned. The remainder will be held in quarantine until they have been thoroughly disinfected by being dipped in lime and sulphur, in accordance with the regulations of the horticultural authori-tics. The shipment consisted of prochtick. The shipment consisted of peach, pear and apple stock.

EMBANKMENT MAY BE DAMAGED,-The downpour of rain saturated the Grand avenue embankment, and on the north west end over the Oak street sewer a slide in the bank is threatened. Above and on either side of the sewer the earth shows a tendency to slide down into the ravine. If the rain continues considerable damage may be done. It was in-tended to cover the surface of the em-bankment with crushed rock, commencing yesterday, but nothing was done.

T is sometimes more difficult to live up to a reputation than to make it, but Ellen Beach Yaw had no trouble in establishing her claim to the highest soprano voice in the world when she appeared in concert at the Hellig Theater hast night. While her voice is decidedly unique, and she belongs to a class distinctively her own, it is most pleasing, and euch fine vocalization and phrasing have seldom been heard. High, pure and bird-like, her notes come with perfect ease, and as they ascend the register to a pitch almost unknown to the human voice, there is no apparent effort on the part of the singer and no fear on the part of the audience that she may not reach the highest note. She is purely colora-tura, and the high compass of her voice tura, and the high compass of her voice

The announcement that Miss Yaw would sing the "Bell Song" from Delibes'
"Lakme" aroused much interest among the musicians of Portland, but her rendithe musicians of Fortiand, but her rendi-tion of it was not quite so pleasing as the aria from "Traviata." This is not to be considered as a criticism of her "Bell Song," however, for she gave it in the original key, and her work was most aroriginal key, and her work was most artistic. In this, as in all other numbers, she was most seriously handicapped by a poor accompanist, who could neither read readily, nor play in good time, nor keep up with the singer. The "Traviata" number was most exquisitely done, her shading and trilling being absolutely birdlike. The last number. "Vilianelle," by Del have several of the cars now passing over the Burnside bridge fouted over Morrison by way of Union avenue. Grand avenue property owners also are working to get these cars for that street.

NEW CLOAK HOUSE OPENS. The Bartholomew Company Gathers Fine Stock of Women's Garments.

Portland keeps apace with the demands of style and fashlen in women's wearables, as is demonstrated by the addition of the most up-to-date establishments. The newest of these is the Bartholemew Co., who open today at No. 302 Washington st., with a splendid stock of cloaks, suits, skirts, novelry silk waists and silk petticoats.

As every garment has just been purchased by their own buyer, and received within the last few days direct from New York by express, the stock is naturally of very late production, and a number of strikingly new and handsome styles and exclusively original effects are shown.

The new firm will carry both moderate price and highest class grades and propose to occupy a leading position in their line.

Consumers' League Believes Women in Stores Should Work No Longer.

ANNUAL MEETING

Miss Mary Montgomery Is Re-Electcd President-Members Oppose Night Shopping During Christmas Season.

HELD

Mercantile establishments should not be exempt from the ten-hour law for we from the viewpoint of the members of the Consumers' League, which yesterday aftrnoon at its annual meeting held at the Hotel Portland took a stand upon this question. The league pledged itself to operate with the movement to amend the law by striking out the clause which exempts mercantile establishments from the operations of the statute.

This recommendation was embodied in the report of Mrs. M. R. Trumbull, chairman of the legislative committee, and was adopted by a unanimous vote. Her report, which was adopted in its entirety, also opposed the raising of the age limit of the child labor law from 14 to 16 years. She did not believe that there should be any amendments to this particular statute of child legislation until public sentiment shall move more vigorously to sus-tain the present age limit of 14 years. That the Consumers' League has become a material force in the community was shown by the large attendance at he meeting. There are about 140 members in the organization, and fully threefourths of them were present yesterday. They were greatly interested in all the edings, and it was evident that they are of the type of members who are willing and determined to uphold the principles of the organization to which they be-president. The other officers elected were: Vice-presidents, Mrs. U. S. G. Marquam, Miss Martha Hoyt, Mrs. Holt C. Wilson; recording secretary, Miss Caroline Strong; corresponding secretary, Miss K. L. Trevett; treasurer, Miss Hefen A. Wilson. The new board of directors is composed of Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mrs. S. M. Blumauer, Mrs. M. R. Burke, Mrs. E. B. Colwell, Mrs. Thomas Kerr, Mrs. Helen Ladd Cor-bett, Mrs B. H. Trumbull.

The following honorary vice-presidents were elected: D. Solls Cohen, A. L. Frazer, Rev. H. J. McDevitt, Rev. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. H. W. Corbett, Mrs. T. I. Ellot, Mrs. H. D. Green, Mrs. W. J. Honeyman, Mrs. James Laidlaw, Mrs. W. S. Ladd, Mrs. J. R. Montyomery and Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. J. R. Montyomery and Mrs. Ladd, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery and Mrs. R. B. Wilson

Reports submitted by the various offi-cers told of the splendid work accomplished by the league during the past year. Miss Montgomery, the president, in her report stated that the first efforts this year of the organization will be to mitigate if possible the cruel fatigue, as she termed it, to which the saleswomen and men in the retail stores are subjected to preceding Christmas.

She said that now Christmas is quite meaningless to them as a festival, and that the proportion of illness among them after the holidays is very large. She said that if the public would avoid shopping at nights not only during the holiday sea-son, but at all times, the practice of keeping open after hours might be par-tially abolished.

Mrs. E. B. Colweil, a member of the board of directors, read a report in which was recited the attempt of the league to have the retall stores close on Wednes-day afternoons during the Summer day afternoons during the Summer months. She declared that, although the movement failed in effecting its end, it created much favorable public sentiment, which she believed would be of great aid when the movement is revived for next

Bishop Scadding made a brief address before the assemblage, in which he made the assurance that the league will re-ceive his utmost co-operation in the dif-ferent movements it has undertaken. He said he had come to Oregon decided to put his whole heart and soul into any agitation that makes for the betterment of humanity, and that his work is not limited to the church. He also stated that it was the duty of all Christian peo-ple to convert their ideals into grateful and gracious deeds. Bishop Scadding spoke with deep carnestness, and the members of the league believe that in him they have found a warm friend whose influence will be felt in their work. Dr. C. H. Chapman told why a Consumers' League is needed in Portland. He moke of the overworked employer of the spoke of the overworked employes of the retail stores during the holiday shopping season that is now approaching, but dwelt particularly upon the billboards which dot

AT THE THEATERS

GOOD PLAY AT BAKER.

What the Press Agents Say.

'At Pincy Ridge" Unusual Story of Life in the South.

The treachery of an octoroon slave woman in changing infants left to her care makes the foundation for the unusual and deeply interesting story around which the play "At Piney Ridge" is written. It is being played at the Baker this week.

'A Royal Slave" Pleases at Empire. The big audiences that crowd the Empire nightly to witness the rich production of "A Royal Slave" are captured by the thrilling dramatic interest of the play itself and by the rich costuming and scenic properties. Only one more matines Saturday. Last time Saturday night.

'Brother Against Brother" at Star. In "Brother Against Brother" the Allen Stock Company at the Star has a melodrama which will be found particularly pleasing to the patrons of this house. Miss Verna Felton, as the waif who is shot while at-tempting to defend her friend, has the best chance of the season to display her sbility as an emotional actress.

The attraction at the Heilig Theater to-norrow (Friday), Saturday and Sunday lights, November 9, 10 and 11, with a spe-ial matines Saturday, will be Augustus

'Lion and Mouse'' Coming to Heilig.

'Lost 24 Hours' at Baker Next Week The Baker Company will present the funniest comedy ever written next week and give its patrons a chance for the best laugh of the season. It is called "Lost, 24 Hours," and will put every spectator who sees the predicament of the man who lost this much time into a rare good humor.

'As Told in the Hills" Next Week.

Detective Drama at Star.

"A Man of Mystery" will be the attraction at the Star next week. This is a detective pluy which is said to be even more realistic than "Sherlock Holmes."

He declared that ordinarily more good could be accomplished by merely favoring the firms that are deserving, but that in this instance he did believe that the stores that deface and make the city hideous by their bold and flaring advertisements of the billboard variety.

"Fighting the Beef Trust" Don't be fooled by those other con-cerns who claim to be fighting and licking the beef trust. They are only agents for the trust. They sell beef trust ment. They have stolen our motto. The beef trust will steal any-thing.

Great Drama at the Lyric.

The public seldom has a chance to see a great play revived with all the careful attention to detail which marked its original New York production. For that reason the presentation of "The Octoroon" by the Lyric stock company is one of the events of the theatrical season.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Military Play "Arizona" With Mounted Cavalrymen at Heilig.

Thomas greatest play, "Arizona." This year's production will include a troop of 25 mounted cavalrymen. Seats are now selling for the engagement.

The advance seat sale will open next Saturday merning, November 10, at the Heliig Theater for "The Lion and the Mouse," which comes next Monday and Tuesday nights, November 12 and 13, with a matinec Tuesday. This will be one of the dramatic treats of the season, and crowded houses are assured.

"As Told in the Hills," which is coming to the Empire next week, is a type of the best American melodrams and does not depend on scenic or mechanical effects. It relies rather on its superior dramatic merit and the ability of the company.

Councilman Bennett asked for the senti-ment of the club. He said that a propo-sition had been made to divide up the im-provement at Union avenue, and go on with the fill eastward; and dropping it west to East Water street. He said that the street committee is inclined to favor that plan, simply making repairs to the elevated roadway between Union avenue and the river. It was voted that there should be no compromise in the improve-ment of East Stark, and that the whole improvement from East Water to East ment of East Stark, and that the whole improvement from East Water to East Seventh street should go forward at once. Attention was called to the actions of conductors on cars of the O. W. P. line on Hawthorne avenue. The statement was made that they make a practice of stopping cars 12 and 16 feet from intersections, compelling women and children sections, compelling women and children to get off in the mud. Several instances were given where this was done. The matter was placed in the hands of the transportation committee. In ceply to a question, Councilman Vaugan said that he might introduce an ordinance requiring brush on vacant lots to be cut down and removed, but he hoped that it would not be necessary. He said that he hoped every neighborhood would organize and do this without an

Cash Talks in Great Shape At Reed-French's Piano Store

The Reed-French Company's daring proposition to sell a first-class piano at absolute cost, for cash, brought a number of piano buyers to Sixth and Burnside yesterday.

In two instances people just came in to look, but the invincible argument of a beautiful piano at about one-half its usual price overcame any doubts the ladies might have had, and they buy Cable-Nelsons without a particle of misgivings.

We have no doubt as to the public response to this ad .- it is as natural as the laws of gravitationa magnificent Cable-Nelson Piano for $260 reaches a climax in piano selling-it is an unheard-of proposition in the Northwest.
