COST OF GARBAGE CREMATORY. - Superin tendent Daggett, of the crematory, esti-mates that to institute a garbage depart-ment, owned and controlled by the city will cost approximately $55,846. This includes a new crematory of 50 tons capa-city, a barn, horses and feed for one ear and the salaries of the teamster and other labor required. It is planned to create a garbage department and place it on the same basis as the street-cleaning and sprinkling departments, the city to own and operate the entire plant. It is argued that the crematory could be made self-supporting if a fee was collected by the city from the householders for cartis no reason why this fee should not be considerably less than that paid the becavengers at the present time and that the work could be made more systematic and more satisfactory. However, some of the city officials are of the opinion that there should be no charge to the householder whatever and that the cost

OLD RESIDENT RETURNED -- Dr. F. B. Old Resident Heturnen-Dr. F. B. Eaton, formerly a well-known Portland resident, has returned here from Call-fornia to resume his abode, after an absence of ten years. He says that the changes in the appearance of the city are very marked, more so than steady residents who have seen the progress of the alterations day by day, stop to think of. The improvements in the business part of the city, he says, are very numerous and give many new metropoli-tan airs. The big advances in real estate values would be astounding to him had he not been informed of their steady rise. Dr. Eaton says that surprising changes are those on Washington street and on Fifth street and on the East Side near Morrison-street bridge. Dr. Eaton was for 20 years oculist of Good Samaritan Hospital and was a professor in the University of Oregon medical department. While in California he was an associate professor in the post-graduate department of the University of California.

MAY WIDEN EAST GLISAN.-The East Twenty-eighth Street Improvement Association has started a movement to widen East Glisan street between the west line of the Ladd farm and the Sindy road to 30 feet, to conform to the proposed street through the Ladd farm and to the city limits at Montavilla. A needal committee has the project in special committee has the project in hand, and will make a report at a meet-ing of the association Thursday evening. The widening will affect about ten blocks. The Sandy road runs northeast, Between East Twenty-eighth street and the Ladd farm houses have been built on both sides of the street, but in most cases, should the street be widened, these would not have to be moved back. If the movement to make a wide street succeeds East Gilsan would be one of the finest streets on the East Side, extending the the security.

WED ON A RUSH ORDER Young Couple Hasten Ceremony at Dictates of Business.

"Ordered to New York. Come and be "Ordered to New York. Come and be married here." This telegram, sent from Portland three days ago by J. M. Breyer, of San Francisco, to Miss Florence Blumenthal, of San Rafael, Cal., paved the way for their wedding in the pariors of the Oregon Hotel last uight. The marriage partook of the haste of an elopement, but with commercialism as the inspiration of haste. The date originally had been fixed for next January. Mr. Breyer, traveling representative for a big New York house, was making his tour of the Coast towns before returning to San Francisco to be married when, without warning, he was ordered to report in New

If I went East now the marriage would be delayed several months. I couldn't stand that, so I wired the girl to come on."

wired the girl to come on."

That Miss Blumenthal had similar objections to delay was shown by the eagerness with which she responded to the call. Chaperoned by her aunt, Mrs. M. Lichenstein, of San Francisco, she arrived, in Portland last night at 8 o'clock. At 9 o'clock the ceremony was performed, Rev. Jacob Bloch officiating.

FIGHTS DUEL WITH ROBBER

Chicago Policeman Is Dead and Ex-Convict Is Dying.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—Policeman Luke Fitzpatrick is dead and Charles Hanson, an ex-convict, is dying, the result of a fight early today at an elevated railroad station.

Hanson and a companion last right blew open the safe of a Hammond, Ind., grocery store and escaped with several hundred dollars and negotiable paper, after exchanging shots with the Ham-mond police. Later the robbers boarded a car for Chicago. The conductor, who had heard of the robbery, being sus-placious of them, informed Policeman Fitzpatrick upon reaching Chicago. Fitzpatrick and the conductor followed the men. Fitspatrick ordered them to halt, and they at once opened fire on him. Fitspatrick was struck several times and fell down the stairs, but managed to empty his revolver at Han-son, who ran down the stairs to es-cape. Hanson fired several more shots at the officer, who died soon after-

Mrs. Anderson Asks Divorce.

Mary L. Anderson has sued Charles August Anderson for a divorce on the ground of desertion. They were married at Ottertail Minn. October 12, 1881, and have two children, Henry Oliver Ander-son, aged 16, and Clarence Norman Anderson, aged 12, whose custody Mrs. Anderson asks for in her complaint. A. King Wilson and O. A. Neal are her attorneys.

Theatrical Dates Go Badly Awry.

As Result of Floods "Marriage of Kitty" Is Canceled and Leon-cavallo Postponed One Day at Hellig-By Arthur A. Greene.

THESE be strenuous times for thea-trical men owing to the traffic lockade on the north and east. Manager Pangle spent the busiest day of his life tangle and the extent of John Cort's griefs at Seattle can only be imagined. Four advance representatives, were here yesterday keeping the wires hot in their efforts to locate their companies and re-arrange their dates. They were efforts to locate their companies and re-arrange their dates. They were Maynard Waite, of the Robert Edeson Company, Arthur Ward, for Max Figman, R. W. Priest shead of Maude Fealey in "The Illusion of Beatrice" and J. Saunders Gordon in advance of Leon-cavallo. The "Marriage of Kitty" and "Sign of the Cross" Companies arrived at 9:15 o'clock last night, too late for the former to give a performance and Portland will miss the attraction altogether. "The Sign of the Cross" will go on as advertised.

It has been arranged to get the Edeson CHURCH BAZAAR OPENS

It has been arranged to get the Edeson Company here Thursday and an extra performance of "Strongheart" will be given Thursday night. A special train will be made up to take this show south on the Southern Pacific Saturday night, thus making a Saturday night performance possible.

One of the big dissapointments in cident to the demoralization is the necessity of abandoning the Leoncavallo per formance of "Zaza" scheduled for Sun day night. The Italians are perched an island somewhere in Western Washington and cannot possibly reach here until Monday morning. A special matinee Monday afternoon has been arranged at which "Zaza" will be given and all tickets for Sunday night will be honored at that time. "Pagliacci" will be given Monday night. Leoncavallo has been compelied to cancel Tacoma and Portland may consider itself lucky in getting him may consider itself lucky in getting him at all in view of present difficulties.

The Max Figman Company has escaped from its flood troubles and will be here Sunday and will give a performance of "The Man on the Box" Sunday night, taking the place of Leoncavallo. The company will remain here over Monday and give the performances arranged for Tuesday and Wednesday nights and Wednesday afternoon. The Thanksgiving attraction, Harry Beresford in "The Woman Hater" may miss also as the comman Hater" may miss also as the com-pany is now flood-bound at North Yaki-ma with small prospects of getting out. Taking the situation all in all the Northwest has never seen such a time of frenzied theatrical maneuvering.

At the Stock Theaters

'The Sign of the Four" at the Lyric THE best evidence that the Lyric stock company is improving each shining our in its efforts towards giving the public the best possible popular-price offerings is "The Sign of the Four," which was given its initial performance yesterday afternoon with Frank Fanning in the role of Sherlock Holmes. By comparison with the production of the same siece at the Heilig last week the Lyric company has all the best of the argu-ment. In the instance of every member of the cast the acting is vastly better and the production is superior. The part of Holmes, the great London detective, is well suited to Frank Fanning because Fanning is seen to best advantage in repressed work. He makes the mysteri-ous detective a creature of flesh and blood performs his seeming through his remarkable powers of deduc-tion and common sense. Fanning doesn't pose and affect the supernatural as some actors do in playing the part. It is a mighty good piece of work and Mr. Fan-ning deserves great credit. In the person of S. M. Griffiths the company has a new member who is des-tined to become a favorite if his success in the part of Dr. Watson is to be taken s a criterion. Herbert Ashton is quite factory as the unspeakable Jonathan Small, the wooden-legged murderer. He should hold his unruly voice in a little tighter grip during the scene in the secnd act, when he discovers the dead body of his enemy. Had Small really shouted as Ashton does the whole household would have been down on him in a seeing.

ENRY M'RAE, of the Allen Stock Company, returned to his own at the Star Theater last night when the new bill for the week, "Polly and I," was opened. He is once more the light-hearted, happy go-lucky but manly hero, and it is thus that his many admirers love him the best, ast week he was positively uncanny in "The Man of Mystery," and while it gave him an opportunity to display his rare versatile powers, he did not seem natural. But this week he and all the others of the strong aggregation are at their best. "Polly and I" is a play of comedy and pathos, and there is enough of each to prevent the other from dragging. It is a good, wholesome play, and the Allen Stock Company deserves unstituted praise for its splendid presentation. It is the old but sowerful story of a rich young man falling in love with a girl whom he believes to be far beneath his station in life. To shield her from disgrace he takes the blame of a theft, but after many exciting scenes and strong climaxes the truth comes out and the wrongs are righted.

Pantages.

HE especial feature act of this vaude ville emporium did not arrive in time for the afternoon show yesterday, much to the discomfort of Manager Johnson, but before the evening performance the players were on hand and their act justified the boasts of the Pantages people The big turn is that of the five La Fond brothers, a quintet of musical acrobatic clowns who made the audience sit up and clowns who made the audience sit up and take notice as local vaudeville pafrons seldom do. Their act is brand-new and refreshingly original, one ridiculously funny feat following close upon the other, making this feature a corking good one. Another stunt that is hard to beat is offered by a little company of musical comedians calling themselves the "Two-and-One-Half Cascades," the "one-half being a child humorist who is a wonder at funmaking. Biff and Bang a team at funnaking. Biff and Bang, a team of knockabout comedians, have a fast and furious act that made a hit at both and furious act that made a fit at total yesterday's performances. share of the entertainment with his illustrated bailad. The moving pictures are unusually interesting this week, rounding out a show of much merit.

MANAGER ERICKSON was plunged into the depths of woe yesterday because the floods have deprived him of his new vaudeville acts which should have opened at the Grand yesterday afternoon. Because of delayed trains and the baggage blockade none of the acts advertised for this week have reached Portland and last week's show has been held over for
