Coaches Comment on Game.

Coach Bezek said: "The Oregon team showed a great fighting spirit. The men played better ball than in any previous game of the year. Chandler's work was of a high order, and Clark's punting and defense deserves special mention. I am perfectly satisfied with the result."

Coach Place said: "When the first half was over, Washington looked the stronger, but the experience of the Oregon men enabled them to profit by every mistake of Washington. The long, tiresome trip from Seattle took on my men during the second half. Oregon showing better form. We were defeated fairly and have no complaints to make. The Oregon fellows are good, sportsmanlike winners."

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Nov. 20.—(Special)—Washington's colors were lowered by Oregon here today in a clean, hard-fought football game. The final score of which was 16 to 6. The game was one of the most sensational intercollegiate contests ever seen in the West and was marked by numerous plays of exceptional brilliancy. Honors were even at the end of the first half, when the score stood 6 to 6, but during the second half Oregon completely outplayed Washington and scored two additional touchdowns.

The Oregon eleven played through today's game with Hug, Moulton and Latourette standing on the side lines, but their substitutes distinguished themselves by their fierce, aggressive playing. Goaded to desperation by their long streak of hard luck, the Oregonians fought the battle of their lives against Coach Place's men. Every man was in the game from whistle to whistle and the game they put up aroused the unbounded admiration of a large and enthusiastic crowd of spectators.

Oregonians in Best Condition.

The Washington men likewise fought a desperate battle. They kept Oregon on the jump from start to finish and only after the middle of the second half were they outclassed. The tedious trip from Seattle evidently told on the Washington players, for they were not in as good a condition as were the Oregon men.

Captain William G. Chandler is the star of the Oregon eleven. He played all over the field and put up the most sensational game of his career. He was seen falling upon fumbles and tackling like a fiend, the Oregon captain played the game of his life and his running down under punts enabled Oregon to wage the battle in the visitors' territory.

Moore's Vies With Chandler.

Left End Moore was a close second to Chandler, his sweeping end runs playing havoc with the Seattle collegians. Dudley Clark played splendidly as defensive quarterback, while McKinney and Zacharias broke up many of Washington's plays. Clark and Moore did the punting for Oregon and got off a number of sky-scrapers.

Hammond, who played in the varsity line-up for the first time this year, proved the wisdom of his choice as guard and friends of the team wonder why he has been so long on the side lines.

Kuykendall showed no little improvement over the game he played against Willamette and used good judgment in calling for punts when Clark was out-kickable Bagshaw. Right Tackle Arnsperger played his customary brilliant game.

For Washington Rich End Boggs was the star performer. Bagshaw at quarter and half played glibly and well and displayed good generalship. Center Teigtmeier was strong and reliable and was the best player in Washington's forward line. Shirley Parker, who played in the backfield, showed a great turn of speed in returning punts.

Oregon Makes Points First.

Oregon's first touchdown came 12 minutes after the game began. Oregon had forced the fight into Washington's territory, and the visitors were attempting a punt from their own 5-yard line, when Zacharias broke through and blocked the punt. Quick as a flash, W. Hammond fell on the ball, and a moment later McKinney was shoved over for a touchdown. Kuykendall kicked a goal.

A few moments later Washington made a quarterback kick and regained the ball on Oregon's 30-yard line, Jarvis falling on the leather. In the second half the visitors sent Boggs around the end for a touchdown, which Bagshaw converted into a goal.

There was no more scoring in the first half, although Moores and Kuykendall attempted several place-kicks. Early in the second half, Kuykendall received a punt and ran 40 yards through a scattered field for a touchdown, but missed the goal.

Chandler Makes a Touchdown.

The third touchdown came 20 minutes after the opening half, when Chandler recovered a punt on Washington's 20-yard line and carried the ball, dragging two Washington tacklers along with him. The remainder of the game was a punting duel, with honors even between Moores and Chandler.

The field was wet and rain fell during the game. Penalties were few, the game being a clean, gentlemanly exhibition. The Washington men were satisfied with the result of the game, and were loud in their praise of the treatment received here. The game puts Oregon in direct line for the Northwest championship, the only remaining college game being the one with the Agricultural College next Saturday. The Oregon rooters did great work during the game.

FEW DUCKS BAGGED

Portland Hunters Complain of Poor Shooting.

FLOODS SPOIL THE SPORT

First Flight of Wild-Fowl Passed Over State Without a Stop. Some Nimrods Fear Season Is at an End.

These are gloomy days for Portland duck-shooters. Limit bags have been few and far between of late as John D's contributions to charity, and unless the ducks should take a notion to come in and the high water to subside this week, local hunters will have one of the poorest seasons in many years.

When the season opened hunters complained of no water. The first flight of ducks passed over the state without even slackening speed because all the sloughs and lakes were dry, and clubs that last year got the limit on the first Sunday of the open season did not get as much as a shot at a duck. Some of the clubs that could afford the expense pumped water into their lakes and were repaid by fairly good shooting, but even with water and liberal baiting the sport was not good, for the birds were not in the country.

Some of the hunters, men who have shot from the blinds for a number of years, are of the opinion that the birds have all passed through. This they say was due to the fact that when the first flight came through there was no special effort to make to secure better boats for pleasure use and improve this department in every respect.

Encouraged by the great showing made in the contests last summer the club hopes to turn out a winning crew for the coming year. Nearly all the old oarsmen will be back. The juniors of last season are all in Portland and have signified their intention of trying out for the contests.

Mr. O. Glass will send a full detail of single, double and fours to the Seattle regatta, which is to be held next July. Owing to the early date of the regatta it will be necessary to get the rowers out sooner than ever before, and it is probable that training will be commenced some time in March.

LICK LOSES AT SEATTLE.

Puget Sound High School Boys Win by 11-0 Score.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 20.—(Special)—Seattle High School defeated Lick High School of San Francisco, today by the score of 11 to 0, on a field that was a sea of mud. The Seattle boys handled the ball cleanly and accurately, while the fumbles were frequent on the part of the Lick team.

In the second half, shortly after the kick-off, Coyle made two long forward passes over the heads of the struggling line of players to Thayer, at right end. In both instances Thayer had a clear field for a touchdown, but his bad leg slowed him up and he was dragged down from behind. On his last run he planted the ball with his hands in the goal line. Seattle then resorted to the old-fashioned football, sending Pullen, the big tackle, in a tackle around tackle play. When stopping Pullen had the ball within a yard of the goal line. Smith, left half, was then shot through for a touchdown through right tackle. Coyle kicked an easy goal.

Soon after the kick-off, Bell, for Lick, tried a fake kick. As he was about to be tackled, he tried to make a forward pass. Burke, left end for Seattle, jumped high in the air and caught the ball. Surrounded by half a dozen of his teammates, Burke ran 35 yards to a touchdown. Coyle missed a goal.

BOXING TOURNAMENT IS OFF

Exhibition Contests Between M. A. A. C. Men Will Be Substituted.

The novice boxing tournament at the Multnomah Club, which was scheduled for November 27 and 28, has been called off. A number of boxing matches by the club's fastest men will be given instead. These bouts will be held on the evening of November 27, and if the University of Oregon football team arrives in Portland the night before the game, a special invitation will be extended to the players to attend.

The judges have tried to secure boxers as evenly matched as possible, and have selected the following: Walsh versus McGuire in the 125-pound class; McQuade versus Merta in the 145-pound class; Coleman versus Belt at 155; Bud Hughes versus Pete Anderson at 175; and Nicken versus French at 185. Each bout will be three rounds, and in case of a draw an extra round will be added, but no amateur contest will be allowed to go over four rounds. The contestants are to weigh in at the ring-side.

WILL HOLD AN AQUATIC MEET

Y. M. C. A. Juniors Plan Interesting Contests for November 22.

A junior aquatic contest will be held in the Y. M. C. A. swimming tanks on the evening of November 22. A large number of entries have been made and some fast sport is looked for. The events will be a 20-yard swim and 200-yard swim. J. J. Byrne and Walter Abbig being the contestants. Byrne is the man who defeated John Leland Henderson, of Hood River, last summer in swimming from Oregon City to Portland, and Abbig is also a crack swimmer. There will be also a diving contest and a 100-yard swim. The final event will be a submission contest and the winner who remains under the longest will be declared the winner.

From the number of good men who will contest, it is thought that a number of records for the local Y. M. C. A. will be broken.

EX-MAYOR CAUGHT IN RAID

PENDLETON POLICE SWEEP ON GAMBLING-HOUSE.

City Recorder and Two Professional Gamblers Found in Double-Doored Apartment.

PENDLETON, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special)—In a raid on a gambling den at a late hour tonight the police arrested ex-Mayor W. F. Mallock, who is also an ex-State Senator; Recorder Fred Hendley, William Roach and Sam Miller, the latter two being professional gamblers. The officers were acting under instructions from Mayor Fee and City Attorney McKourt.

The raid was carried out by Night Officer Waters and Cronin, a special deputy. The arrests were made in a gambling-room over the State saloon, on Main-street near Court, and in a room that was specially fitted up with a double set of locked doors, after the police closed up open gambling several months ago.

Though the officers have known that gambling was being carried on there every night, this was the first attempt made to raid the place. Though the arrests were successfully made, it is doubtful if any convictions will result, as no money was in sight, poker chips being used in lieu thereof. The poker table, chips and cards were all seized by the officers and taken to police headquarters, to be used as evidence at the hearing, which will take place tomorrow.

Mrs. U'Ren is Opposed.

OREGON CITY, Or., Nov. 20.—(Special)—While sentiment is strong in favor of the purchase by Oregon City of the old McLoughlin home and preserving it as a memorial to the founder of this city, there is some objection to the investment of $4000 in this property. It is maintained by those opposing the scheme that for the same money a public building can be erected. The subject of levying a special tax with which the city is to acquire this property will be submitted to a referendum vote of the electors of this city at the annual municipal election next month.

In a letter written today Mrs. Mary Beharrell U'Ren, of this city, suggests the building of a public building as a more desirable monument to the memory of Dr. McLoughlin.
