

STUBBORN FIGHT TO PREVENT DRAW

Pennsylvania and Cornell Struggle Desperately Near Quaker Goal Line.

SCORE FOR NEITHER TEAM

Pennsylvania Recaptures Ball on One-Yard Line, But Loses It and Prevents Ithacans From Scoring by Superhuman Stand.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29.—With the ball within one yard of the home team's goal line, the annual game between Pennsylvania and Cornell football eleven on Franklin field today came to an end without either side being able to score. The finish of the contest, with Pennsylvania fighting desperately to ward off defeat, was an emotional piece of football play as has been seen on the red and blue gridiron in a long time. Cornell twice had the ball in those last few minutes within one yard of Pennsylvania's line and victory appeared to be certain, but Pennsylvania's men held her each time by a defense that was as impregnable as it was sensational.

There were but a few minutes of time left when Hollenback, for Pennsylvania, kicked against the wind to the home team's 35-yard line, where a Cornell man got the ball. Two line plays and a quarterback kick put the ball on Pennsylvania's 15-yard line in Cornell's possession. Here the Ithacans secured a forward pass. Hollenback intercepted the pass, but was unable to hold the ball and Van Orman, for Cornell, fell on it seven yards from Pennsylvania's goal. Two plays against tackle and Cornell was on the one-yard line. It seemed as if nothing could stop her, but on the next plunge into the line, Pennsylvania held and Cornell dropped in her tracks.

Struggle Near Penn's Goal.

It was then Pennsylvania's ball on downs. With great relief the Pennsylvania sympathizers let out a great roar at the stand made by the home players, which was quickly changed to a cry of alarm when Pennsylvania decided not to take a chance to carry the ball when it was practically on her goal line and Hollenback was sent for Cornell at the goal posts to kick out. He was directly behind the crossbar and in order to avoid it he kicked to one side. The punt was bad, and aided by the wind which was blowing diagonally across the field in the face of the Pennsylvania players, the ball went out of bounds about two yards from the goal line.

Quakers' Desperate Stand.

Pennsylvania had reached the last ditch and was desperate. The Cornell men got into position, and the Pennsylvania players crouched low, a deathlike silence in the stands. The signal was given, the teams crashed against one another and half of Cornell's players on top of the struggling mass of men spilled over the Pennsylvania line. As the teams played into each other, the time-keeper's whistle announced the end of the game. Everyone believed Cornell had won, but when Referee Corbin and Umpire Edwards had finally separated the struggling players and got to the bottom of the pile, they found a Cornell man hugging the ball a foot short of the line of victory. Cornell's spirit fell and the enthusiasm of the Pennsylvania spectators knew no bounds.

Cornell Gains by Rushing.

Outside of the desperate finish, the game did not afford either side much opportunity for cheering. In the first half Pennsylvania got the ball to Cornell's ten-yard line, where she lost it on a fumble, and the Ithacans once had it 30 yards from Pennsylvania's goal, but also lost the ball on a similar misplay. In the first half Pennsylvania gained almost twice as much ground as her opponents, but in the second half the playing was entirely in Cornell's territory. This was due principally to the Ithacans' good kicking, who took every advantage of the stiff wind at their back. Cornell's ability to rush the ball increased wonderfully in the second half and her rushes invariably gained her substantial ground until the exciting finish.

Missouri and Kansas Play Draw in Pouring Rain.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 29.—In a steady downpour of rain on a muddy field, neither the University of Missouri football team nor the Kansas University eleven was able to score in their annual game here today. The ball was kept in the air continuously in Missouri's territory and Kansas was often threatening the Missouri goal line. In the last half, Missouri defended the second half of the field, where it was almost impossible to make a gain.

In the first half the scoring of the Massillon team was made by Davidson, who scored a drop-kick from the 20-yard line. In the second half, Haré, of the All-Western Eleven, made a drop-kick from the 35-yard line, and for Massillon Harroitt made a touchdown. The game was poorly attended. The line-up was as follows:

IDAHO MEN LOSE TO WASHINGTON

First Score Is Made Through the Visitors' Ignorance of the Game.

SCORE: SIXTEEN TO NINE

Washington's 25-Pound Tackle Makes a 40-Yard Run for a Touchdown, With the Entire Opposing Team After Him.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Washington defeated Idaho today in a sensational game. The final score was 16 to 9 in Washington's favor. The first score of the game was made by Washington on a kick-off, when Willis, of Washington, kicked the ball over the goal-post and Right Half Clark, of Washington, fell on the ball. The Idaho players could easily have recovered the ball, but lost through their ignorance. Willis missed goal.

This lucky score gave Washington five points before a minute of the game had been played. The play took the heart right out of the Moscow boys during the first part of the first half, during which time Washington rushed the ball over the hardest kind of football for another touchdown. Willis kicked goal, making the score 11 to 0.

Idaho then kicked off and came back at Washington with blood in her eyes. The ball was rushed in Washington territory where it was lost on downs. Washington punted, but Idaho returned the sphere to the 20-yard line, where a place kick was tried and blocked. Idaho recovered the ball, gaining five yards. Captain Larson called on his men and they responded by making the last 15 yards through Washington's line with the hardest line plunging of the game. Score for the first half: Washington 11, Idaho 0.

BAKER CITY, Or., Nov. 29.—(Special.)—Fifteen hundred people saw Portland defeated and Baker become the High School champion of two states this afternoon when the locals, their splendid training telling over the cardinal-sweated fellows, won handsily 10 to 0.

The game was easily the stiffest thing played here this year. Baker won the toss and defended the east goal, receiving the kick-off. Portland started in in whirlwind fashion and carried the ball within 15 yards of the locals' goal, when they were forced to punt, and Baker seized the opportunity to come clear across the field for the first touchdown, just before the close of the half.

Portland received the kick-off in opening the second half, but fumbled to Baker and heavy penalties carried the ball almost to the Portland goal, where Baker braced, and with a magnificent run McKin made the distance, and the team went down the field for the second touchdown in 12 minutes of play. Portland had the best of what followed and the ball was carried to within 10 yards of the cardinals' goal when time was called.
