Christmas Presents for Little Girls

Suggestions of Gifts Suitable for Young Women Whose Skirts Are Yet of Shoe-Top Length, or Shorter.
THE term "girls" is somewhat elusive, as a girl is a girl whether she is 15 or 18 years old, or is yet at the age of 10 or 12. And there are, of course, instances where the term has been used with great elasticity and women away over the 30 mark still claim the distinction. These are not considered in the appended list of appropriate Christmas gifts for girls, however, and only the young will be suited by a selection from the following list. Some girls overstep the doll period quite early in life—others affectionately cling to their childhood offering until they are 12 or 14 years of age. The families of such girls know their likes and dislikes in this respect, so there is no danger of making a mistake with them. The girl who is inclined to be athletic should be considered in quite a different light from her more domestic sisters, and her gifts selected accordingly. The literary girl will prefer books to fancy-work, and the musical girl will appreciate the latest composition or a musical instrument more than a golf stick. Don't give a tennis racket to the girl who loves to potter around in the chafing dish, or a thimble to the girl who loves to ride horseback all day. It only takes a little intelligent forethought on the part of the donor to enable him or her to select appropriate gifts, and surely a girl is entitled to as much consideration as her elders.
What is there in this list to suit the girl you have in mind: Windsor ties, ribbon opera-bags, mittens, gloves, silk hosiery, bracelets, metal purses, silver brushes, signet rings, watches, necklaces, fancy pins, fur coats, books, fur bonnets and muffs, ribbed stockings, dolls, bags, toilet sets, fancy perfumes, sewing-boxes, slippers, house slippers, dress shoes, photo albums, camel-hair tams, neckwear, fur combs, handkerchiefs, collar and cuff sets, rings, roller skates, silk party dress, lace cape, hair ribbons, purse, vanity boxes, fancy hat pins, post card album, set water colors or paint box, drawing materials, writing desk, desk furnishings, dressing table with chair, fancy writing paper, gloves, necktie, muffler, bathrobe, sponge bag, soap box, kimono, handkerchief bag, monogrammed laundry bag, monogrammed stationery, silver pencil box, candy, fruit canisters, pony and cart, bicycle, games of all variety, music box, mandolin or guitar, art calendar, guest register, fancy chafing-dish apron, lingerie blouse, silk or lace bertha, shirtwaist set of girder, shoulder-straps and sleeve supporters, set of studs, class pin, college pennant, pillow for den, embroidered skeleton bodice, pyrograph outfit, burnt wood art piece, manure set, individual manure articles, puff and powder jar, silver or gold thimble, handmade underwaist, silk petticoat, fancy girdle, arctic apron, tennis racket or golf club, roller or ice skates, gymnasium suit, basket-ball, piano for daughter of the house, pair satin Juliettes for room, scratched card, head purse, case for lingerie, ribbon doll for the young girl, doll's wardrobe, hat pin holder, Japanese or silver photo frame, latest song party-bag, photographic accessories, Stimpex typewriter, Ingersoll watch, fountain pen, pencil box, potted palm for room, gold locket, engraved cards, signet ring, silver handled tooth brush, talcum powder bottle or box.

Florence Crittenton Home in Need

President Appeals to Public to Re-member Unfortunate and Helpless Charges at Time of Christmas Cheer.
PORTLAND, Dec. 14.—(To the Editor.)—At this time of goodwill and generous remembrances it is hoped the Florence Crittenton Refuge Home will not be forgotten. There are little ones from one day to two years old who are sadly in need of clothing. There is not a shred of carpet in the whole house to protect against the cold damp floor, which rests almost upon the ground.
There is a need of everything for the comfort and welfare of delicate women and children—clothing, provisions, household goods. Christmas will soon be here and contributions for the Christmas dinner or any gifts that may help to brighten and gladden the day that should bring "Peace on Earth and goodwill toward men" will be most gladly and gratefully received.
The contract for the plumbing in the new building has been let, and it is hoped the work can be vigorously pushed and any donation of money will be gratefully accepted as helping on the good work.
A visit to the present quarters would prove the urgent need of the new.
MRS. CLEVELAND ROCKWELL, President Florence Crittenton Refuge Home.
Will Hold Annual Meeting.
The Milwaukie Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, will hold its annual meeting today for the election of officers and other business. The hall proposition will come up in a new form today. The Grange is determined to

TALK OVER LEGISLATION

Members of Multnomah County Legislative Delegation Hold Meeting.
An informal meeting of the Multnomah County legislative delegation was held last night in the office of Frank F. Freeman in the Fenton building. No steps were taken towards the organization of the delegation, the purpose of the meeting being only to discuss informally proposed legislation, especially that affecting this county. Those present were Senators Bailey and Maloney and Representatives Chapin, Northrup, Coffey, Driscoll, Burns, Freeman, Beutgen and Wilson.
Another meeting of the delegation was called for December 28, to be held at the same place. At that time it is expected that organization of the delegation will be effected. Consideration will also be given all Multnomah County bills.
Reports on Jute Mill.
GRESHAM, Or., Dec. 14.—(Special.)—The special Grange committee, to which was referred the question whether the state should establish a jute mill at the Salem penitentiary, has made its report and recommends that the master of the Oregon State Grange be requested to appoint a committee of three to study the matter carefully and to confer with the Legislative committee.
The committee's report is lengthy and in the main unfavorable to the jute mill project.

Fooled by His Divorced Wife

Isaac Pate Remarries Former Spouse Who Keeps Wedding Presents, but Refuses to Live With Him.
ISAAC Pate was reunited in marriage with his divorced wife Monday afternoon. Justice William Reid officiated. The groom rented a neat cottage at 1801 Macadam street, near the Oregon & Washington Lumber Company's plant, where he is employed; stocked it with provisions and made ready for his old-time helpmate to return from a visit with friends across the river. But Pate is still waiting. Yesterday afternoon he received a telephone message from her to the effect that she would not live with him, and was "through with him." It was all by conversation, and the bride ended it abruptly by hanging up the receiver. Last night Pate, exceedingly indignant over the alleged ill-treatment by his newly-wedded wife, called on Captain Slover at police headquarters and told his troubles.
"I am out about $100 by my second marriage to this woman," said Pate. "Among other things, I bought for her was a dress that cost me $12. I have thought some of having her arrested and the dress taken away from her, but I guess she may as well keep it. She telephoned yesterday that she never intended to live with me. She said she would leave soon for Hood River. Thus ends my second matrimonial venture."
