From Yaquina Bay comes the news that a terrific storm is sweeping the Coast. The Corvallis & Eastern train from the Bay arrived in Albany four hours late today, and experienced great difficulty traveling around the harbor.

Snow fell in the mountains, east of Albany, last night, but the warm rain is melting that and high water will result.

EUGENE EXPECTS BIG FLOOD Willamette River Has Reached Highest Point This Year.

EUGENE, Or., Jan. 3.—(Special.)—The highest water of the year is here. All last night and throughout the day the rain came down in sheets, whipped by the wind and driven underneath doors and into windows that are ordinarily watertight.

The river at dark this evening was eight feet higher than it has been during the last 12 months and the water was rising a foot and a haif each hour.

This has been the roughest day Euge has experienced for many a day, and we the storm still raging, several observ predict the greatest flood for many years. Yesterday at Blue River there was $15 feet of snow, today it is all gone, melted by the warm rain and wind. At Saginaw yesterday there was 18 inches of snow, but it is all water now.

Word raches here that the Coast fork out of its bank, and smaller streams re in the same condition. Here in the city most of the sidewalks in the south part of town are affoat.

Some of the boys are paddling from house to house in canoes. The Oregonian boys delivered many of their papers today through streams of water where wheels could not be used and temorrow they will have to use boats if the rain continues.

The Patterson School was dismissed his afternoon because of the water in the basement. No great damage has yet been done by the wind and rain here, but the vigilance of the local light, telephone and telegraph companies has prevented serious trouble. News comes from the logging camps that the mountain streams are overflowing as they have not done

All trains from the East are delayed and if the storm continues for any length of time a blockade in feared. Snow plows are at work, but they cannot keep pace with the snowfall. Just how late today's trains will be is not yet The rainfall was heavy in the valleys throughout the night and early morning. From 5 o'clock last night until noon today the rainfall totaled 1.6 inches. The Puyallup is flush with its banks. A heavy storm swept in from the coast early this morning.

The chief danger to be apprehended is Chinook wind. Should that follow on he heels of the present storm a flood would be certain.

MAN PERISHES IN THE STORM

Teamster Found Dead Yesterday on TWO MEN TURN NEAT TRICK IN Road From The Dalles.

THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 3 - (Special.)-Tracy Wilson, a teamster in the employ of Peter Godfrey, a farmer living five miles east of this city, was found dead in the county road this morning about a quarter of a mile from the Godfrey pla He had apparently perished from haustlon and exposure within sight home while walking out from The Dalles in the heavy snowstorm which prevailed last night. When last seen alive late last night Wilson was intoxicated and in that condition must have started for home through the storm.

He was about 30 years of age and had lived in and about Dufur for several years. He leaves a brother in that town,

DEEP SNOW AND NO FUEL

Northern Pacific Asked to Supply Coal at North Yakima.

(Special.)—A heavy snow fell here last night and this morning and this afternoon it turned to sleet, and rain is looked for. NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., Jan. 3. The Northern Pacific Railway is badly crippled. All trains are running hours late and most of the freight traffic has been held up at division

There is a scarcity of fuel, many people being entirely out. Superinten-lent Beamer, of the Northern Pacific ast night ordered two carlonds be onging to the company to be turned over here for domestic use. The com-pany has taken the matter up with the Northwestern Improvement Company and will make an effort to provide the people with fuel.

WIND BLOWS 84 MILES HOUR

Severe Storm Off North Head, but No Damage Done to Shipping.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 3 - (Special.) - The storm which struck this section at an early hour this morning was of unusual severity and at one time the wind at North Head attained a velocity of 84 miles an hour.

Aside from blowing down a few signs and awnings no damage was done in this city, and the injury to shipping in the harbor was slight. The British ship Halewood, which is in ballast, and the lumber-laden British bark Bankburn dragged their anchors and went onto the ands in the middle of the river. Neither the is damaged and both will be hauled iff, probably tomorrow.

Reports received from the lower river this afternoon state that the stranded schooner Alice McDonald was not injured during the gale and is resting in the same position as before.

Enter Office and Hold Up Bookkeeper, Who But Shortly Before Had Taken $500 to Bank.

SPOKANE, Wash, Jan. 2.—(Special.)— Two masked men entered the wholesale offices of the Olympia Brewing & Malting Company, corner of Adams street and Sprague avenue, in the heart of the city, at 5 o'clock tonight, and held up George Heyden, the bookkeeper. While one man kept him covered with a revolver, the other ransacked the safe and the cash drawer and searched Heyden's peckets. They took 334 and departed after securely tying Heyden's hands. Heyden appealed Lad Picks Up Wire From Walk and Receives Fatal Shock.

chutes of the Oriental liner Arabia would not stand against the storm, so the hatches were closed and work dis-continued.

The French bark Asie, which was anchored in the stream, dragged a few feet but more chain was pald out and the hook held firm. Late in the afternoon, when the wind had subsided, the Asie was put into berth at the Martin dock. The Glenericht, which has been discharging ballast there, was shifted to Oceanic dock, where she will begin taking wheat tomorrow, weather per-mitting. The Lucille was scheduled to go from the North Pacific Mill to the Portland Lumber Company's wharf. Wind, however, would not permit. The French bark Turgot, in tow of the Oklahoma, was held up between dere and Astoria, and will not arrive in the harbor until sometime today

The wind attained its greates velocity at a o'clock in the morning, the mouth of the river. The San Fran cisco steamship Aztec was out in all the steam schooner San Gabriel also experienced the blow, but none of them was injured. The steamer Columbia, due this morning from San Francisco probably had a rough time of it. Other safe. The F. A. Kilburn was in Coos Bay and the Geo. W. Elder in harbon at San Pedro.

Of the lumber fleet, the barkentine Gardiner City, the schooner L. D. Forat and the schooner Balbon are all the gale of last night will not hasten their arrival. The short duration of the storm, however, has lessened the cause for anxiety.

Wednesday night at 5 o'clock the North Hoad station reported a 24-mile wind. This increased in force until 5 in the morning, when it attained a velocity of 85 miles. This is five miles greater than the storm of December 11, when the steamer Costa Rica was roughly handled off Heceta Head. At daylight the wind died down, and last evening the report showed only 14 miles.

Rain Will Continue Today. The greatest damage from the storm will be the rise in the rivers. The Weather Bureau predicts continues in the rivers will depend on the temperature and the rainfall. During the storm of yesterday snow fell in many portions of Oregon and Washington. The heavy rains in the western portion of the two states and ris-ing temperature in the eastern sections will swell the rivers.

A brisk southeast wind has sprung up, and if the storm continues ported, and in many parts of the city the streets were littered with the dead branches of trees.

A heavy wagon, belonging to the Union Meat Company, was overturned by the high wind at Twenty-fourth and Nicolai streets yesterday morning. The driver and his team were unburt, but the wagon was partially wrecked.

Wires Working Badly.

The management of the Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Company reports that there is wire trouble all along the Coast, and that its lines to the Sound are down, communication being kept up only as far as Kelso. The lines to San Francisco are also down, and considerable damage has been done to the system in Portland. The amount of damage done by the storm has not yet been estimated, as the linemen sent out had not in all cases reached the breaks last night.

The Western Union reports its lines in good working order with the exception of the line to Coos Bay, which is down. Business between Portland and San Business between Portland and San Francisco was moving slowly last night, the company being two hours behind with a portion of its messages. Wires of the Postal Telegraph Company tween this city and San Francisco, were Rivers Will Rise.

The rainfall yesterday was unusually heavy, amounting to 2.75 inches. "This heavy rain, together with the mild temperature, will cause a decided rise in the trict weather forecaster, yesterday. "By tomorrow evening I will be able to tell definitely what we may expect in the way definitely what we may expect in the way of a flood. The rainfall has been general throughout the Pacific Northwest, and has extended as far as Northern Cali-fornia, but has been heaviest in the Willamette Valley. "Our wires from Portland to Tatoosh Island, and to North Head at the mouth of the Columbia, have been down since this morning, so that we have no reports from these points. Just before the North Head wire went out, the gale was blowng 84 miles an hour at that point. There will be continued rain Friday, with a strong southerly gale along the and a stiff breeze in the interior."

A small landslide occurred yesterday on the Portland Heights line of the Port-land Railway Company which delayed cars for a short time. The track was soon cleared.

Landslides were caused by the heavy rains on the main line of the Oregon Water Power & Railway Company between Portland and the Oaks. Masses of gravel slid down from the high bluff south of the Inman & Poulsen Lumber Company's mill and steam shovels were put to work digging the earth away. Cars were not delayed, as there are parailel tracks along the river bank and one track was left open.

Don't Be Discouraged Don't Give Up Hope There Is Help For You

In my very extensive practice I have learned a few truths that are undeniably of interest to EVERY MAN. First of all I find that the very serious and so-called "inenrable" cases are due usually to NEG-LECT and DELAY. Again, I know that many men suffer FOR YEARS and practically RUIN THEIR HEALTH FOR-EVER trying to dose themselves with some patent nostrum that never could cure. And further, it is evident that many men will run to what they call "cheap" treatment. NO TREATMENT AT ALL is what "cheap" treatment means in nine cases out of ten. The last state of the man is worse than the first. Just before you go a line further in this announcement, stop and ask yourself as to whether YOU are following in the foolish footsteps of the man who NEGLECTS himself? Are YOU trying to cure yourself with nostrums? Are YOU looking for treatment that will not
