port of the State Board of Tax Commis sessors' Association, which concluded its onvention in this city and adjourned entertal afternoon. Assessor D. Bigler, of Multnomah County, and Act sessor James F. Nelson, of Clackamas County, were re-elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the association. It was decided to hold another convention of the association at Portland, beginning on the second Tuesday in Janupointed a special committee of five mempers to go to Salem to appear before the bers to go to Sale in the continuities of assessment and taxation that will be appointed by the two Houses in the State Legislature, in the interest of the several bills relating to the office of Assessor and his duties. The men-bers of this committee, which was se-lected by the association, are; Assessors

D. B. Sigler, of Mulinomah County: J. H. Morcon, Union: F. J. Rice, Marion: H. Parlin, Josephine, and G. W. Statey, Douglas. At yesterday's session of the association a lively discussion attended the con-sideration or that section of the bil recommended by the State Board of Tax Commissioners, in which it is proposed to have the County Treasurer, rather the the Shariff, as at present, collect taxe A majority of the Assessors contende that if any change is to be made in the law, the Assessor is the proper officer to supersede the Sheriff. The Assessors die made in the system, but insisted that if any other officer than the Sheriff is to reneive laxes that officer abouid be the Assessor. For the reason that he can more economically perform the service than can any other officer in the county. The vote on the disposition of this ques-tion was a tie. Assessor Egler, as pre-siding officer, casting the deciding vote in favor of Assessors. Poll Tax Change Indorsed. The bill recommended by the commis sion, by which the poll tax is abolished as such and the extra II is added to the road tax of $1, was indersed, and on a vote for the indersement of the report of the commission, it was approved by a vote of 2 to 4.

At the opening of the afternoon session
President Sigler read a paper on "The Assessing of Timber Lands," submitted by Assessor F. J. Rice, of Marion County The paper follows: When one considers the advance in the tim ber interest in the State of Oregon, the quesspeculators, mostly nonresidents, has not heretofore been bearing its share of the burden property in the counties, would be by cruising the value and the assessment of this land will be brought to bear its proportionate share.

The old way of assessing each quarter section or other legal subdivision, the same as each other similar area, trgardless of whether it be timber fit for sawing or naked wagte on a hald, rocky bluff, should be regulated to the past. Much, in fact all of the valuable timber lands of many of the counties of the slate, has been acquired by speculators by some method or another, and is being held by them awalting the development of the wealth and bearing but a small share of the The timber lands in most counties are located in the more remote districts and with the Harkest means at the complast of the Assessor, it is impossible to properly cruise. classify and list the property so situated, hence the almost universal practice of necessing such

This important work should be done and the expense borns by the county at large and pald as other county expenses are pald, as it is a fusione proposition for the counties to get as equitable listing and rating of the property as possible. The Assessor should be ed with capable men to carefully cruise et all timber, giving due consideration quality, quantity and size, as well as its location, accessibility and other elements a more just share of the burden of taxation and the assessment rolls of the several countries will be largely increased.

Timber Land Assessments.

The reading of this paper developed an interesting discussion on the systems em-ployed in the different counties in assess-ing timber lands. The result of the interchange of ideas was the adoption of of the different counties to have all timber lands cruised in 40-acre tracts as the only way by which these lands can be justly and equitably assessed.

The delegates were of one mind on this question. Fallin, of Josephine, stated that on his suggestion, the Josephine County Court caused all of the timber lands within its borders to be cruised by an experienced man and the results to complete and cost the county several thousand dollars but in commending the plan, he declared that the increased revenue to the county in the enlarged taxes that have been collected from this property for this year alone has more than twice paid all the expense of con-ducting the crufse and on which future assessments can be made for years to

On the basis of a 50 cent stumpage, Mr. Failin reports that the taxes on timber lands in Josephine County now range from $2 to $30. This officer assesses roads and transportation facilities.

A. T. Yaws, of Columbia, testified to the satisfactory results that have oc-curred in Clausop County, in which the County Court caused all timber lands to Best.

be cruised for the benefit of the assessor in dising while Host was to the plan of assessing these lands in his county where the government cruise was accepted in fixing these valuations. The recommendation included in Assessor Laws motion was adopted by the unanimous vote of he association. Discuss Tax Exemptions

McKnight, of Linn, suggested that the Legislature should make some definite disposition of the homestead exemption statute, of the present status of which but few people have a knowledge, Chairman Sigler explained that the association had indersed the recommendation of the tax commissioners that an exemp-tion of $200 be allowed. This statement revived a discussion on the question under question of restoring the former exemp-

Upon invitation of the association. Deputy Assessor North, of Multnomah County, addressed the convention and suggested the practicability of the assessor having the assessment rolls of his county completed and open to the in-spection of the taxpayers two weeks prior to the meeting of the board of equalization. In these two weeks, he suggested the assessor would be enabled to make such corrections in the roll as were the result of faulty description or other clerical error and materially facilitate the work of the equalizing board when the assessor than they can be adjusted betion for publishing the assessment roll in the newspapers, for it will accomplis just what is sought to be served by the

the discussion terminated with the adoption of a motion by Payne, declaring it to be the sense of the meeting that some legislation be enacted making it mandatory for the assessor to have his assessment rolls completed and open to the inspection of the taxpayers at least weeks before the date for the mee of the county board of equalization.

An unusual instance of self-denial manifested itself is the midst of the afternoot session. It was precipitated by the proposal of a motion by Laws, of Columbia, who desired to insure a better atthird of these officers. Mr. Laws suggested in his motion that a law be recom mended making it mandators for asser-sors to attend the meeting of the associa-tion and that their necessary traveling expenses be paid by the respective tendency to lessen the chances of when the motion went to a vote, it was supported alone by Laws, who however, had explained that his only purpose in presenting it was to devise, if possible, some means for insuring a larger attendance at the Assessors' association,

The Governor might appointees would wield the powers of the Commission and then the Legislat would have no hand in their picking; o in confirming the Governor's selection Should the Senate refuse to confirm, the Governor might hold off until after adjournment of the Senate, and retain his appointers the same as before.

Place for Teal on Commission. The bill, was drafted by J. N. Teal, o Chamber of Commerce and the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers Association, centered in Portland, J. N. Teal is a Democrat, and though he has denied that he is seeking a place on the Commission, there is widespread talk to the effect that the Commission would be a convenient place for the Governor to place him. Mr. Teal is actively pushing the plan of appointment by the Governor and at the shippers' convention in Alb Thursday spoke for it at length. Whe not a Democrat, say Republicans, might not be so eager for appointments pulsory supply of ears and the Commission is to be clothed with semi-judicise functions in hearing complaints and i lesuing mandates. If such large functions should be given into the hands of Democrat Governor, by a Republic Legislature, it will doubtless be done or after a big fight. Heretofore the Leg lature has been careful to pass no important appointments over to Governo Chamberlain. This policy has made several sharp collisions between the Legis lature and the executive.

The sections of the bill, relating to this subject are chiefly the following:

Appointment by Governor. Section 1—A Railroad Commission is here-by created, to be composed of three com-missioners. Immediately after the taking ef-fect of this act the Governor shall appoint such commissioners, but if the Senate b and such appointments shall be in full force until acted upon by the Senafe at its next special or biennial session, and until the successor of such appointee is appointed and qualified. Term of one such appointee shall terminate two years after his appointment, and the terms of the two remaining ap-pointees shall ferminate four years after their appointment in January, 1900, ac-every four years thereafter, one commission er shall be so appointed and confirmed, and January, 1911, and every four years ereafter, two commissioners shall be so posited and confirmed. Each commissioner appointed under the provisions of this act shall hold his office until his successor is appointed and quali-ged. The term of office of each commissioner appointed under this act, except the one first appointed for the term of two years, shall be four years. Any vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the Governor for the unex-appointment by the Governor for the unex-pired term, subject to communation by the Senate, but any such appointment shall be in full force until acted upon by the Senate. Not more than two of the commis-sioners shall be appointed from the same political party. Removal by Governor.

Sec. 2.—The said commissioners shall have the following qualifications: One shall have a general knowledge of railroad law; each of the others shall have a general understanding of matters relating to railroad copy of the charges against him, and shall six the time when he can be beard in his conn defense, which shall not be less than ten days thereafter, and such hearing shall be open to the public. If he shall be remissioner, and his findings thereon, with a record of the proceedings. Such power of removal shall be absolute and there shall be no right to review the same in any court whatever.

It is quite likely that unwillingness ing body and the executive. It has peen Chamberlain's steadfast conten-tion that the Governor should appoint commissions and fill new offices created by the Legislature, and he has very jealously guarded this prerogative Bills creating new offices and with holding the appointing power thereto from the Governor he has vetoed. The policy of the Legislature, in order to avoid strife with the Governor in this matter, has been to place the appointive power in the hands of the Governor, Secretary of State and State Treasurer Jointly. As the Secretary of State and the State Treasurer have been Republicans, they have controlled appointments against the Governor. It is contended on the Republican side that the large powers possessed by the railroad commission in patron-
