Montana Sheepmen Declare Reports

Sent Out Are Untrue.

HEILENA. Mont. Jan. 27.-Sheepmer and cattlemen declare that reports sen out recently detailing big losses in the Eastern and Northern parts of the state are utterly untrue, and that while insees will probably be somewhat above the average, it is still too early to approximate, as the heaviest losses usually occur dur-ing February when stock is weakened from long exposure and battling with the elements.

Sheepmen were better prepared to stand a severe winter than cattlemen, and in many places have kept the losses down by using rotary snow plows with which they bared the ground and allowed the sheep to feed. A "chinock" which prevailed the last few days, helped conditions materially in the central part of the state, melting a great mass of the snow and baring the ridges, which allowed stock a chance to

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE. PORTLAND'S favoriate leading man returned to town yesterday and is prepared to take up his work of entertaining the public where he left off early last Summer. No need to say the name for in the local "who's who" there is only one name that could fit into the scheme of things after the foregoing introduction. It is Edgar Baume, who came back to his own yesterday and will resume his position at the head of the Baker Stock Company next week in "If I Were King."

Mr. Baume is looking unusually well, he is fit as a fiddle and thoroughly pre-pared to take up the hardest kind of work during the remainder of the season. 1,350 In the lobby of the Portland he said last night: "Of course you know I'm glad to be back in Portland. Next to Kentucky there is no place I like half so well as Oregon and this good old town. My home is in Kentucky and my mother lives there so naturally that comes first. But I really feel that I am among my 4,000 own people here and I'm delighted to be again where I can see the afterglow on Mount Hood. "I've been working hard since I left here, was with Arnold Daly in 'You Never Can Tell' and the remainder of his repertoire for a time and more recently with Mary Mannering. "I closed with the latter two weeks ago in St. Louis, when I received Mr. Baker's offer to return to Portland and after a few days with my mother at home, came directly here. Whenever I get west of the Cascades I begin to feel that I'm alive and back where I can work again.

"One of the happlest events of my life will be to stand in the presence of a Portland audience again and I make a promise, that I shall do my best to deserve the kind consideration I have over reserved from the Portland public." Mr. Baume is living at Elton Court and will make his reappearance as leading man of the Baker Company in "If I Were King" next Sunday afternoon.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 27.-The Herald tomorrow will say that the Wood-Hagenbarth ranch, in the States of Sonora and Chihuahua, Mexico, has been purchased by Thomas D. Ryan, Thomas F. Cole and Colonel W. C. Greene, copper mine owners, from J. D. Wood, Frank J. Hagenbarth, W. S. McConnick and H. C. Wood, all of Salt Lake City. The consideration for the ranch alone is approximately $1,000,000, and the transfer of 25,000 cattle at from $12.50 to $25 a head brings the sum involved far above the million mark. The ranch contains 4000 square miles
