WEED OUT FIREMEN

Department to Be Ridded of Its Rowdies.

INVESTIGATING CHIEF

Men Who Disgrace Calling by Improper and Criminal Conduct May Lose Their Heads in the Very Near Future.

A big shake-up in the Portland Fire Department is said to be scheduled as a result of the scandals arising out of the arrest of Archie Turnbull, ex-captain of nemical No. 1, and Neille Ryan, charged ith vagrancy, but suspected of thefts in nanection with firemen.

Chief David Campbell and Battalion Chief Young have been engaged for several days in an investigation of conditions in the chemical company, and it is believed that within a few days a clear sweep will be made of certain older members of the company. Four trans-fers have already been made, new men having been placed to fill the vacancies of those sent to other stations.

Nellie Ryan, it is known, has been making her headquarters at the stationhouse of Chemical No. 1, which is a di-rect violation of the rules of the Fire spariment, as no women are permitted be within the stations unless on strict-important business. She is not the only woman who has been allowed by the captains of Chemical No. 1 and Hose No. 1 to frequent the place, investigation shows. Others have called often and at unseemly hours, according to facts gathered by investigators.

it is said that the station-house of Hose and Chemical No. 1 has been the most notorious of any of the stations in the department for the presence of dis-orderly women, men of other stations are said to be in need of investigation, particularly some of those attached to the headquarters building at Fourth and Yamhill streets. Women call regularly for some members of the companies sta-tioned there, and it is a common thing. investigation shows, to see uniformed fire-men standing in dark hallways or on street corners, chatting with women of uestionable character.

So general has the complaint become In this regard, that it seems that investi-gation upon the part of Chief Campbell is certain to result in a big shake-up in the near future.

Late yesterday afternoon Henry Camp-bell was arrested and booked at police headquarters on a charge of vagrancy. He is believed to be a pal of Neilie Ryan's and is said by the police to have been implicated in several thefts with her. She was arraigned on a charge of vagrancy in the Municipal Court yesterday morning and her case was continued. In the meantime, the police are investigating reports concerning her and expect to connect her and several firemen with thefts that have occurred of recent months at vari-

TWO ROBBERS GIVEN HEARING

United States Commisioner Will Render Decision Today.

John "Swede" Anderson, leader in the gang of robbers arrested by the Federal authorities, and Frank R. Rankins, tool, understudy and general disbursing agent ploy inderstudy and general discoursing agen-for the plunder stolen by the thieves, were given a hearing yesterday afternoon before United States Commissioner Mc-Kee. A decision in the case will be rendered this morning at 10 o'clock. Anderson and Rankins were represented by attorneys, while Carter and Kelly, alleged accomplices who are said to have long criminal records, were forced spectators to the hearing.

When the case came up for hearing several days ago Rankins and Anderson requested more time. Rankins wanted Attorney Hitchings, but a search through the telephone book falled to show that the great jurist and detective was a subscriber. Attorney McDevitt, who ap peared for Anderson, also demanded mortime, so the case was continued until yesterday afternoon. The hearing went only far enough to show that Anderson, Kelly, Wane, Carter, Smith, "Toots" Bryant, in fact all of the men so far rested by the Government officials for postoffice robberies, were all of one gang. Deputy United States Attorney Cole, while he put a number of witnesses on the stand, was careful not to divulge all of the testimony in possession of the Government. This must have been dis-appointing to Attorneys McDevitt and Hitchings, for after the hearing was over they asked that their clients be dis-

During the hearing it was not brought out very clearly that Rankins was very deeply implicated with the gang. Hitchdoubles in the capacity of lawyer and detective, had his client ap pear in court wearing a pair of gold-mounted glasses with a gold chain which hooked over the ear. This was a fine bit of detective work, for it baffled identification by some of the witnesses. The facial adorument did not fool "Toots" Bryant and Louis L. Smith, who were as thick with the robbers as the proverbial peas in a pod. Perhaps if Attorney McDevitt had thought of the glasses he would have had Anderson wearing a pair. Conductor Morgan identified him as the man who rode on a Sellwood car the night before the postoffice robbery. It is not surprising that Conductor Morremembers Anderson's face

Postal Inspectors Richies, Clements, ssistant Postmaster Moxon, of St. Assistant Johns, and J. D. Chapin, clerk in the Sellwood Postoffice, "Toots" Bryant and Louis Miller and Conductor Morgan were the witnesses who testified at the hearing. Mr. Moxon and Mr. Chapin told of the robberles of the two postoffices and the amount of money and stamps that were stolen. The testimony given by Messrs. Richies and Clement did not go beyond the investigation of the two postoffices after they had been robbed. They were not questioned about the cir-cumstances that led up to the arrests of the men charged with the crime. Bryant said that Wane and the rest of the gang were in the habit of hanging around Tom Fallon's Second-street saloon. He also ore that he received the stolen sta which he gave to Archie Turnbull from Carter. One of the revolvers, which was one of the lot stole from the Moss hardware store at Vancouver, Bryant identified as the one given him by Wane, and which he sent to Smith, who was tend-ing bar at the Manhattan Saloon. An-derson acted as the messenger and weapon-carrier

Attorney McDevitt's cross-examination the witnesses was limited to the crossof the witnesses was limited to the ques-tion as to whether any of the witnesses knew that Anderson had committed any apartments in her rooming-house, 3342 North Sixth street, at 7:15 o'clock last night, and it is believed that one of the builets took effect. Two of the builets were located but the third was not, and that the fleeing burglar was wounded is the belief of the woman, which is shared by the police.

WOMAN SHOOTS AT THIEF

The man who tried to get away from the nervy woman formerly occupied a room at The Richelleu, conducted by Mrs Burns, but suddenly disappeared about one year ago, and had not been seen by her until he came to the place last night and asked her if she remembered him. She replied that she did, and he asked her for a match. She went to a side room to bring him one, and when she returned she observed that he held her watch and the change in one hand. She at once accused him of the theft and he took to his heels, running down the hallway to the rear stairs. Mrs. Burns secured her revolver from the dresser, rushed out into the hall, took deliberate alm and fired three shots at the thief in rapid succession. He dashed down the rear stairs and escaped. Patrolman Galbraith was but one block distant, and rushed to the scene. He was informed that the man had murdered

neone and was running toward Park street. The policeman ran up in that di-rection, but could see no one. An investigation was made, resulting in the finding of two of the bullets which had struck the wall dangerously near the thief's line of flight, but the third shot could not be located and it is believed Mrs. Burns hit her mark once. A good description of the thief was secured and the police instituted a search for him.

CHINESE GAMBLE FREELY

TEMPT DAME FORTUNE WITH NO FEAR OF POLICE.

Celestials Admit They Pay for Protection, but Decline to Say Who Gets the Graft.

Gambling in Chinatown is more flourishing than; at any time in recent months, there being numerous games of fan tan, lotteries and other pastimes in operation along Second street and in isolated places on other thoroughfares. The Chinese are happy, inasmuch as they are not molested much by the police of late, except when Captain Moore, of the day patrol, sends out men to break in

The Chinatown squad, consisting of Acting Detectives Hill and Mallett, is acting Detectives Hill and Maliett, is inactive, having made very few arrests and none of importance in many weeks. Occasionally, they arrest one or two Chinese, but they have practically abandoned making regular raids and hauling in the Chinese in large numbers, such as has been done at former times.

The Chinese say they are paying for The Chinese say they are paying for the privilege of conducting their games without molestation, but beyond this they will not talk. They are satisfied to conduct their games, and do not care to tell by whose grace they are running.

Captain Moore of late has been sending out squads of men during the early hours of the afternoon to make raids. In one raid 30 were caught and in another 18 were taken. By a system that has been very successful, these prisoners have been proven guilty in the Municipal Court, and the efforts of Captain Moore to enforce the anti-gambling ordinances of the city have been productive of good results in the line of fines.

This activity in raiding the Chinese gambling-houses led to a change of plans in Chinatown, and very few games are now run during the day, but at night, when the special plain-clothes squad is on duty, the games start and run full blast until the early hours of the morn-

Owing to the expense attached to employing lawyers, added to the fines usually levied by Municipal Judge Cameron, the Chinese are growing into the custom of appearing before the court and entering pleas of guilty. In so doing they argue that they wave attorney fees they argue that they save attorney fees and in the end are fined just as little as they would be if represented by a lawyer. Considerable complaint has been made by the Chinese of late as to exorbitant rates charged them by attorneys, and this has had much to do with their determination to pay no fees, but to accept the fine Judge Cameron may see fit to impose in such cases.

DECLINES BERKELEY CALL

Rev. J. J. Staub Will Remain With Sunnyside Church.

Rev. J. J. Staub, who has been pastor of the Sunnyside Congregational Church for the past 14 years, has just declined call to the Park Congregational Church of Berkeley, Cal., the leading church of the college town. He will remain with the Sunnyside church. The call was a most flattering one, owing to the import-ance of the church, situated as it is, in the center of Congregationalism, but the members of the Portland church were so persistent that he should remain that he decided to comply.

The Sunnyside Congregational Church is rosperous, and is raising a building fund. At the annual rollcall and business meet

VENIREMEN ADMIT PREJUDICE IN DAMAGE SUIT.

Trial of Action of Mrs. Huntsman Against Broker Eckerson Begun in State Court.

Prejudice against a loan broker who charges usurious rates of interest caused considerable difficulty in completing jury to hear the Eckerson-Huntsman damage suit which was placed on trial for the second time in the State Circuit Court yesterday. The case is one wherein Catherine Huntsman asks $20,000 for R Li Eckerson, a money lender, because he had her arrested early in the Summer on a charge growing out of her inability to pay up a loan on demand.

It developed from the testimony that

Huntsman mortgaged furniture which she had purchased on the install-ment plan and which had not fully been paid for. Eckerson charged her with obtaining money by false pretenses. Mrs. Huntsman was arrested, compelled to put a heavy bond but the prosecution of the case fell through. The case was heard before Judge Frazer several weeks ago and the jury disagreed after being out all one night and most of the next day. During the examination of talesmen resterday a number expressed prejudices in the case and were excused. D. L. ovey, who was among the talesmen, had decided prejudice in the case. "When t came to deciding between a 5 per cent broker and a woman I would give the woman the benefit of a doubt every time," said Mr. Povey. R. D. Inman gave a similar opinion and both were promptly excused from service on the Mrs. Huntsman took the stand during the afternoon and testified concerning the treatment she had received at Eckerson's hands. The case for the plaintiff will probably be completed this forenoon. JUDGMENT FOR ONE DOLLAR

Jury Fixes Damages for Fractured

Nose and Broken Leg. One dollar damages for a fractured ose, broken leg and numerous minor injuries was the sum awarded John Carey yesterday in his suit against the Banfield-Veysey and Portland Fuel Companies. The jury in the case returned a verdict during the night fixing the amount Carey was entitled to at $1. Carey sued for $10,000, claiming to have been permanently injured in consequence of an accident he met with while em

FUNERAL OF OSWEGO RESI-DENT WILL BE HELD TODAY.

The funeral of John Bowles will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the occurred Monday night at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. M. Ball, 566 Pet tygrove street. Mr. Bowles was born in Virginia in 1826. While he was a child the family moved to Ohio, where he remained until 1883, when he came to Oregon. Since that time he was a resident of Cawego up to the time of John Bowles, of Alabama, and five daughtere, Mrs. Susan Chuck and Mrs. Kate Fox, of Oswego; Mrs. Elizabeth Hosey, of Oregon City; Mrs. Martha Ball, of Portland, and Mrs. Lucy Mc-

Through a defect in the road leading from the woodward his wagon tipped. hurling him violently to the ground. Had the company kept its roadway in proper condition there would have been no accident, Carey maintained.

Asks Divorce From Bearish Husband After spending a lifetime together and raising a family, Jens and Marie Johnason have come to a parting of the ways. Mrs. Johnsson filed a divorce complaint-in the State Circuit Court yesterday setting forth that Johnsson's conduct towards her has become unbearable. He seldom troubles himself to speak to her at all and on such rare occasions as he does favor her with a few words they are invariably accompanied by a sneer. She asks for alimony in the sum of $20 a month or for a lump sum of $500. Johnasons were married in Denmark 30 years ago.

Divorce Awarded to Mrs. Gheen.

A decree granting Maude A. Gheen a divorce from George I. Gheen was is-sued yesterday by Circuit Judge Sears. The decree was based on the findings of fact presented by Attorney Idleman, referee in the case. By the terms of the divorce Mrs. Gheen is awarded the custody of their minor child, the sum of $2750 in cash, $25 a mooth alimony, $250 attorney's fees and $36 temporary alimony.

Bride Sends Him Back for New License

Mark Forgets How Marguerette Spells Her Name and Makes Sec-

M ARK got himself into more or less trouble yesterday afternoon because he did not know the precise spelling and pronunciation of his fiancee's Christian name. Mark thought the name was Margaret and so spelled it for County Clerk Wilds, who was County Clerk Wilds, who was called upon to issue a marriage license for the ouple, both residents of Portland, The ride-to-be was not present at the time out Mark secured the license in what he regarded as due form and conveyed it proudly homeward.

His fiancee looked over the license and oted with horror the name attributed to her. Her name was Marguerette, not Margaret, and she would not get married under such name as appeared on the license. Consequently Mark had to return to the courthouse, confess his error and

MONTHLY SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR EXPLOITATION WORK.

Sums Pledged Now Total $1298.50 Monthly List of Subscriptions to the Fund.

Theodore B. Wilcox, in the dual capa-city of chairman of the executive comnittee of the Commercial Club and president of the Oregon Development League, is endeavoring to raise the monthly subscriptions for the publicity department of the club to $3000. The publicity department, which is under the manage-ment of Tom Richardson, now receives $1298.50.

Mr. Wilcox and others believe that the publicity work so far done has been of so much good to Portland and the state that it deserves to be continued on a larger scale. "I would like very much indeed," said

Mr. Wilcox yesterday "to see the publicity fund of the Commercial Club double what it is at present. We have been working along since May 1, 1904, and the results have been gratifying. The present monthly fund ought to be increased to 2006."

At the dinner of the Commercial Club Tuesday night subscriptions amounting to $203 a month were received. The sub-scribers to the regular monthly fund of
