FEARS FOR HIS LIFE

Chung Chung Appeals for Protection From Highbinders.

SAYS DOOM IS SEALED

"Mayor of Chinatown" Declares Death Sentence is Posted on Walls Along Second Street. Gamblers Back of Plot.

Chung Chung, known as "the Mayor of Chinatown," rushed breathlessly into police headquarters last night at 9 o'clock and begged Chief of Police Gritzmacher to detail a squad of officers to protect him from highbinders. The excited Asiatic declared that murderous hirelings of rival gangs were seeking to kill him because they had been informed that Chung betrayed their gambling dens to the police.

Chief of Police Gritzmacher thought Chung's life was not in grave danger, although the excited Chinese declared that all Chinatown was in an uproar over the affair and that posters had been placed on conspicuous corners of the district warning Chung to beware; that his life was in danger, and that he would be killed at the first opportunity. Chung Chung refused to leave police headquarters for a time, fearing he would be assassinated at any moment, but seemed to be more calm after a chat with Chief Gritzmacher and ventured out into the streets very cautiously. According to Chung Chung he had been heralded throughout Chinatown as having betrayed the location of certain Chinese establishments where fantan games have been in operation of late. His investigation, he stated, had developed the fact that Patrolman James Anderson had told some of Chung's rivals that Chung had given the police information about gambling games. Angered because of this alleged betrayal, the gangs are said to have employed some murderous highbinders to execute Chung. The fact that Chung knew of the trouble, he said, was when passing the bulletin board at Second and Alder streets. An excited crowd of Chinese were standing about eagerly reading a glaring poster. Chung stopped long enough to read the characters that made him quake with mortal terror, at which he dashed off to his own house to investigate. Trusted friends were dispatched to various establishments throughout Chinatown to seek information and brought back the statements that Chung was accused of betraying rivals to Patrolman Anderson. Chung Chung is a powerful specimen of the Chinese race, being the largest of the district, but he trembled with fear and appeared to be in constant terror lest he should be shot down by some unseen foe.

NO CLEW TO CRACKSMEN

Postal Inspectors Investigate Robbery of Forest Grove Office.

Postal Inspectors Riches and Clements returned yesterday from Forest Grove, where they went to investigate the post-office robbery which occurred Friday night of last week, when $60 in cash and $200 worth of stamps were stolen. The officials made a careful search for clues, but report that they have nothing tangible as yet, though they feel certain that the cracksmen who did the job came from Portland, and may be hiding here. They traced the thieves from Forest Grove to Reedville by means of a railway velocipede, which was stolen from the section house at Cornelius on the night of the robbery. From Reedville the robbers are supposed to have come to this city by train. The cracksmen pursued the same methods used by other burglars who have been operating in different parts of the Valley. The inspectors found among the tools abandoned by the thieves a punch, a burglar's jimmy, a cake of soap and seven yards of fuse. The jimmy was used to pry off the combination disc, and the punch was employed to drive out the bolt which holds the tumblers of the combination. This prepared an opening in which the explosive was inserted, and as a result of the explosion the front of the safe was blown off, exposing the contents. The jimmy used was of a type unfamiliar to the Government officials, and when found was much bent and damaged. The punch was stolen from a wagon shop in the town on the night of the robbery; also a large sledge hammer, the handle of which had been sawed off for convenience. This tool was found where it had been thrown, under a sidewalk.
