POTATO MARKET NOT LOOKING GOOD

San Francisco Prices Demoralized by Large Receipts of Inferior Stock.

There is no immediate improvement in sight in the potato market and it begins to look as if common potatoes, which is about all there is left now, have seen their best days, so far as this season is con-cerned. The San Prancisco market is de-moralized and the weakness has been communicated to all parts of the Coast, have completely upset prices in the Califormia metropolis. The arrivals at San Francisco on Friday were seven cars by squalling 16 cars, was unloaded and 12 cars Friday receipts, broke the market, according to advices at hand yesterday, and the present week opened with prospects of a still further drop. Added to the large arrivals was the inferior quality of most of the offerings and this was an important factor in depressing the market. Another wire yesterday said there was good demand for fancy grades, but buyer have prevailed. As famuy stock is very lim sions will be made. Shima, the Japanes who is controlling the supply of California rivers, has, it is said, from 15,000 to 20,000 sacks left, though it was reported some

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—The action of the stock market today gave full warrant for the assumption that is spirit of extreme despondency had swept over the sentiment of the operators. The selling was constant and the demand was so small as to be a negligible quantity, except as the concessions in the price level uncovered some buying. This demand was not aggressive in character and interposed no effective obstacle to the continuous droop of prices.

The progress of the testimeny of E. H. Harriman before the Interstate Commerce Commission was the subject of universal discussion was the subject of universal discussion and the weakness of stocks was generally attributed to this cause. Wall street sees in this prospect a supply of fuel for the anser against the railroads and other corporations, which is active in shaping legislative measures and in directing public policy all over the country. The fear has gained ground in financial circles that the stability of the country's prosperity or the averting of coming industrial depression is to be decided by the course of public sentiment on these lines. Money rates here are inclined to work higher. Large maturities are falling due on loans made last Fall during the period of high rates and it is reported that interior lenders, instead of renewing, are disposed to call in their funds for use at home.

A survey of the day's net losses shows a severe impairment of values and prices in some important stocks at the lowest of the year. The Western and Northwestern rail-road stocks generally came within the special effects of the feeling growing out of the Harriman testimony. These special stocks show losses extending from 5 points or over up to 5½ in the Hill stocks. Elsewhere the losses were generally from 1 to 3 points and last prices were usually the lowest.

YOUNG WOMAN ARRESTED Laura Barks Accused of Stealing Dresses From Apartment-House.

Laura Barks, known on the stage as Laura Whitehouse, was taken into custody at Sixth and Washington streets by Detectives Mallett and Hill last night and lodged in the City Jail on a charge of larceny from a dwelling. The com-plainant is Anna Lafrans, who roomed at the apartment house where Miss Barks lived, and according to her complaint the prisoner stole all her clothing one week ago, during a temporary absence of the owner.

After securing the wearing apparel,
Miss Barks is said to have fled to Mc-Minnville, where she remained until yes-terday, when, believing the matter to have blown over, she returned to Port-

Detectives Hill and Mallett were given the warrant to serve several days ago, and had been keeping a sharp lookout for her. The officers had a good de-scription of the woman and of the clothing she had stolen. Last evening they saw a woman answering her description at Sixth and Washington streets and accosted her by the name she was known at the rooming house and she admitted her identity. At the time of her arrest she was wearing one of the gowns taken from the room of Miss Lafrans.
