WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 .- General debate on the ship subsidy bill continued throughout the day in the House. The rule limiting the general debate to five hours was by unanimous consent amended so that general debate shall run through tomorrow, with a night session from 8 o'clock until 11 o'clock, when the debate will terminate. Mr. Grosvenor was the principal champion of the bill.

Grosvenor the Chief Champion.

Grosvenor of Ohlo opened the dis cussion on ship subsidy with a brief statement as to the merits of the House substitute for the Senate bill. In answer to a charge made yesterday by Hinshaw of Nebraska, that not a single vessel had been added to our merchant marine since the passage of the mail subvention act in 1891 and that the vessels getting a bonus from this country carry merchandise to no greater extent, Grosvenor insisted that Hinshaw was wholly misinformed. He declared that since the passage of the mail subvention act the International Mercantile Marine Company had built 10 vessels, many of them with a speed knots.

Littauer of New York argued in favor of the bill bearing his name. He said J. J. Hill had not a ship that would come in under the bill, as this bill provides for 16-knot ships and the Hill ships have a speed capacity of 14 knots. He proceeded:

The Japanese are subsidizing their line heavily and it is an absolute necessity that we do what we can to keep our trade with the Orient on our side of the ledger. There is no experiment of any kind connected with this bill. Of the seven projects of this ofil, four apply to the countries south of us in the American continent with whom We have a vital political and commercial interest and three to the Orient. Goulden (New York), in opposition to the bill, said the American Federation of Labor was against the measure, as was the National Grange. He said back in the Forty-fourth Congress there had been charges of the use of a large amount of money for lobbying purposes.

"Oh, that's a last year's hird's nest," interrupted Kahn (California).
Mr. Goulden, however, declared that during the years he had been in Congress he had recognized the presence of a powerful lobby for ship subsidy.

VETERAN MINISTER IS TO PUBLISH HIS LECTURES AND THEOLOGICAL DISCOURSES IN BOOK FORM

DR. I. D. DRIVER.

Dr. I. D. Driver, of Eugene, who is now lecturing at the Trinity Methodist Church on the East Side, is preparing to publish his lectures in book form, and the copy is now being typewritten for this purpose. This edition will contain the six lectures delivered at Northfield before the representatives 126 colleges in 1889. In that year Dr. Driver was in Portland, and at the requestions that had been raised. There were five lectures covering the questions involved, and 2,000,000 copies were printed for distribution in pamphlet form and also 20,000 in book form. These books were published by Flem-Revell, Bible House, New York. The edition has been practically exhausted, but some of the copies are still to be had. The lectures will be orporated in the new edition, but it will also contain exhaustive answers to biblical and theological questions that have been sent to Dr. Driver from all over the world. Dr. Driver said yesterday that the new manuscript was being put into shape as rapidly as possible, but he could not say at present when the work will be issued. It will contain the best of his lectures and debates with distinguished men-nnected with this persecution? The names were whispered in the District's Attorney's ear. This man-ner of Thaw, she said, kept up from 1903 to the time of the killing. Mr. Jerome's next question proved the last. It was: "Did Thaw recollect having seen White after these outbursts?"

"That is all, except that I may at some future time ask the witness to explain phrases in Thaw's letter which we have just received."
At 12:40 the luncheon recess was or-

After recess, Mrs. Thaw was again called to the stand by Mr. Delmas for direct examination. Mr. Delmas requested that certain shotographs of Mrs. Thaw which had been introduced in evidence, be sent for.

Mother Signed Receipts Mrs. Thaw was shown 14 receipts and sked if they were not in the handwrit-

ng of her mother. "Yes, sir."
The receipts were for various amounts received from the Mercantile Trust Company, where White had deposited a sum of money for Evelyn and her mother. The receipts were signed, "Evelyn Florence Nesbit," the mother and daughter having the same names.

Mr. Delmas handed her several photo-graphs and asked by whom they were posed. Mrs. Thaw said the photographer at the East Twenty-second-street studio posed her for most of the pictures.

Mr. Delmas showed Mrs. Thaw a letter, and asked if a name in it was not that of a prominent New York society

"Decidedly yes."
"And she holds a position in the best ociety in New York?" "Well, she is in the '400,' " said Mr. Jerome dryly.

Mr. Delmas then went into Evelyn
Nesbit's first visit to White, when she went with Edna Goodrich, and said that White kissed and caressed Miss Goodrich. She was not permitted to say if she had formed any idea of the relations between White and Miss Goodrich. Mr. Delmas asked:

You said your brother went to 902. Who arranged for that? Mamma and Stanford White Who paid for the schooling? Stanford White.

Did you draw any money for yourself out the letter of credit which White gave you then you went to Europe in 1963? Did you draw any for your mother? Yes, in Boulogne. Mamma saw something in a shop window. She knew I had the money and I let her have what she wanted. When Thaw heard of this he raised a fuss and said should not have accepted the letter of credit

After you had refused to continue you improper relations with White, did he has a talk with you, urging you to resume the Mr. Jerome objected and was sustained.

Mrs. Thaw said that Mr. Garland told her mother that if they had anything to do with White, he (Garland) would have othing to do with them. She said that er friendship with Mr. Garland ceased when she met White She said she consulted the stage manager as to whether she ought to return a $50 bill which Thaw sent to her in a bunch of flowers. The conduct of George Lederer toward her, she said, was always that of respect. AIMED TO DESTROY TRAIN Terrorist Seen Placing Infernal Machine on Track Ahead of Train-Guard Stops the Train Just in Time.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.-The Novo Vremya this morning publishes a sensa-denal account of the folling of another plot on the life of Grand Duke Nicholas Sicholalevitch, president of the Council of National Defense, and second cousin of Emperor Nicholas. The plot is said to have been discovered shortly before o'clock last night, the time scheduled for the arrival here of the imperial train bringing the Grand Duke from Tsarskoe-

A guard patrolling the track near the station at the St. Petersburg end of the line caught a man dressed as a workman in the act of placing a wooden box in the middle of the track at a point 200 yards from the imperial pavilion. Aided by the darkness, the plotter fled and escaped to the cab of an accomplice who was waiting nearby and drove away. The box on the track was found to con tain an infernal machine of enormous power. The mechanism was designed to cause an explosion from the vibration of the train as it passed.

The guard communicated with the railroad officials, who signalled the train and succeeded in stopping it before it reached the machine.

The entire neighborhood of the railroad station was surrounded by police.

A statement that the orders for the Grand Duke's journey into St. Petersburg were countermanded at the last moment has, according to the Novoe Vremya, been confirmed by the police.
