Pacific Coast Potato and Onion Markets Breaking.

LARGE SUPPLIES FOR SALE

San Francisco Markets Steadily Drop Under the Pressure of Excessive Receipts From Oregon and the East.

Potate prices continue on the downward grade and onlons are weakening. Buyers of potatoes have practically withdrawn from the market except where they can buy good at concessions. Even at lower prices they are not disposed to operate except on kets, good shipments continue to go forthe shippers here have no object in holding previous purchases, but are forced to sell them for what they will bring.

The sole trouble with prices just now is the large quantity of potatoes and onlons being dumped on the San Francisco market. A wire received late yesterday afternoon from the Bay City said: "The onion market s busted and the potato market breaking badly. Today's arrivals from Oregon were 13 cars of potatoes by rall and six cars of onlone. Stocks are pressed for sale and buyers hold back."

The arrivals of potatoes at San Francisc on Monday, according to a letter received yesterday, were 14 cars by rail and nine pesterday, were 14 cars by rail and nine cars by the steamer Eider. These came on top of unusually heavy receipts in the latter part of last week and only a small proportion of them were moved. Another San Prancisco letter said: "Everybody is falling and the effort to sell. The aver sverybody class in the effort to sell. The aver sverybody class in the effort to sell. The Thompsons, 104c; Sultanas, 96124c. over averybody class in the effort to sell. The market is depressed and fast declining and prices are 15c to 25c lower than on Satur-

Returns from last week's shipments of Creson Burbanks showed good common po-tators selling there at $1.40 to $1.65 and choice grades at $1.75. Fancy potatoes were quoted nominally at $1.90 to $2, and a very desirable lot might bring a small premium. Several cars of Eastern Oregon potatoes have passed through Portland on route to San Francisco and more are understood to be on the way. The only thing that is likely to arrest the decline in the Bay City ould be a marked increase in consumption, which may result from the lower prices.

HOPS ARE BOUGHT FOR EXPORT. Purchases by Carmichael at Brooks-Trading Between Dealers. Carmichaet, of Salem, were confirmed yesterday. They were bought at Brooks and consisted of the Finney lot and another small aggregating two carloads. Ten cents was paid for the Finney hops and 10 the for the other let. There was some trading betry market for small chickens of the rfying and broiling size. A few coops of this de-scription came in yesterday and sold at from $2.50 to $4.50 per dozen. Those bringing the latter price, which was equivalent to about 30c a pound were of just the right size and in excellent condition. Old hens were also in good request and were quoted has been good for several weeks past, but the receipts have been more or less mixed Ducks were also firm, but geese and turkeys

Eggs arrived heavily, but there was a good out-of-town trade that prevented any accumulation, Prices were unchanged from the previous day.

CHEESE SUPPLY BECOMING SMALL. Market Is Very Firm With a Good Local and Shipping Demand.

cheese market is very firm, as stocks are light and there is a good demand, not only locally but from Sentile, San Francisco and Los Angeles. Shippers can only fill part of the orders coming from those points. Aside from the stocks held in this city, the state is practically cleaned up. Less than 56 cases remain at Tillamook, and no new cheese will be available before April I or larger, higher prices were ruling. The San Francisco market has lately advanced and high prices prevail in the East-

A steady increase in the demand for butter is reported by the city creameries and mmission men. Receipts are gradually coming larger, but hardly keep pace with the growing consumption. The larger sales of that no more storage butter is to be had: While the market is firm, no change in price

Selling Is Again on an Extensive Scale.

MARKET IS UNSUPPORTED

Developments at Interstate Commerce Investigation Responsible for Tone of Speculation. Low Levels Touched.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.-The stock market was upset today by selling of the same extensive and varied character as that which broke prices on Monday's low level for the year. Yesterday's rally had given the impression that Monday's selling was largely for professional short account. Today's selling had much the appearance of liquidation and the market was in the same unsupported condition as on Monday, a fact which accounted largely for the material inroads on prices on comparatively light selling. It was generally held that the developments at the Interstate Commerce Commission inquiry were responsible for the tone of the speculation. It was not any immediate item of information disclosed that prompted the selling of securities, but the fears of the ultimate consequences growing out of the investigation. The recognized aim of the investigation is to demonstrate the desirability or necessity of more stringent control over railroad companies by the Government, especially in the matter of issues of capital and purchase of stocks in other properties, on account of the bearing on the freight rates charged which these anatters have. It is believed that so far as the impression upon the public mind of those coned condition as on Monday, a fact which Verdict for Lumber Company.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Feb. 27.—(Special.)
-In the Superior Court at Montesano a verdict was given today in favor of the Vance Lumber Company, of Elma, in the suit of R. O. Beckwith, a rancher. against the concern named. Beckwith claimed damages on the ground of maintenance of dam splashes which caused an overflow of his land with injury to
