MOTORMAN HURT BY EXPLOSION

Car Windows Are Shattered and Passengers Thrown Into a Panic.

CAUSE IS IN DISPUTE

Company Suspects Another Dynamite Outrage, but Police Think Mischivous Boys Put Torpedo on Track.

Dynamite or some other high explosive nearly wrecked a Mount Tabor car of the Portland Railway Company at Twenty-first and Northrup streets about 8 o'clock last night. Glass was broken by the aloof, several passengers were given a severe shaking and Will Sites, the motorman, was stunned, so terrible was the explosion. Other than broken windows the car was not injured and proceeded on its way after Sites had recovered. None of the passengers was injured in the least.

The car was running about ten miles an hour when the explosion occurred. The shock was so great as to bring the car to an immediate standstill and the front trucks were lifted several inches above the tracks. Motorman Sites was thrown back against the door in the vestibule and was dazed for a few minutes. There were several passengers in the car and the abrupt stop piled them up in a heap but fortunately they were not hurt.

Constable Lou Wagner, who happened to be near the corner of Twenty-first and Northrup street when the explosion occurred, telephoned to the police station and the patrol wagon was sent out, as it was believed at first that the motorman had been seriously hurt. By the time the officers arrived at the scene, the car had gone.

Sergeant Bay made an investigation and when seen last night declared the explosion was nothing more than a railroad torpedo or a fuelling cap. He said that if it had been dynamite, the car would have been wrecked. He thinks a torpedo was placed upon the track by some mischievous boy and he does not think there was any attempt to cause any damage. The police do not believe that there is any connection between the explosion of last night and the finding of dynamite in the tracks on two different occasions previous to this.

"I do not think that a railroad torpedo could have stopped the car, which was traveling at a fair rate of speed and that if it had been dynamite," declared Charley Bolen, one of the inspectors of the company, last night after he had made an investigation. "A full stick of dynamite would probably have wrecked the car. I feel almost satisfied, however, that something more than a torpedo exploded."

PRACTICED IN PORTLAND

Late Dr. H. C. Smith, of Kent, Wash., Native of Oregon.

Dr. Henry Clay Smith, who died at Kent, Wash., last week was one of the most prominent physicians in the Northwest. The remains of Dr. Smith were buried Friday in the family plot at Chehalis.

Dr. Smith was the son of David Smith, who recently died at Forest Grove. He was born on a farm on Hunter Creek near Carlton, Yamhill County, in 1837. He was raised on the farm, but when he grew up attended a medical college at Ann Arbor, Mich., graduating in 1862. He practiced medicine in Portland about five years and from here went to Tacoma, and then to Kent, where in eight years he had built up a splendid practice.

The Late Dr. Henry Clay Smith.

Dr. Smith is survived by his mother, who lives at Forest Grove, and his brother, M. W. Smith, of Portland.

SUMS DUE VETERANS

State Has Money Unclaimed by Men of Second Oregon.

RANGE AS HIGH AS $33

Accounts for Clothing and Service Before Muster in, and Bronze Medals of Honor Await Applications.

Over 100 members of the Second Oregon Regiment have failed to claim the money due them from the state for clothing and service before muster-in. Although it is nearly eight years since the organization was disbanded, the fact has come to light that many ex-soldiers have not even made application for the bronze medals which the state wished to present to each member of the home regiment for gallant service in the Philippines.

According to the Adjutant-General's report, 110 ex-soldiers have sums ranging from $1.50 to $23.50 awaiting their order in the State Treasury. There are two separate accounts to be drawn on in most cases, and these would, in the majority of cases, amount to an average of about $25 for each man. Several hundred veterans are scattered throughout the state, and many remained in Manila after the regiment was ordered home.

The local camp of United Spanish War Veterans has taken up the matter with a view to having the papers at home and in Manila publish the names of those entitled to the money. Following is the list:

At the Theaters

What the Press Agents Say.

COMEDY MAKES A HIT.

George M. Cohan's "45 Minutes From Broadway" at Hellog Tonight.

Klav & Bringer will present Corinne, supported by an excellent company, in George M. Cohan's famous success, "Forty-Five Minutes From Broadway," at the Hellog Theater tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday nights. This comedy has a well-defined and dramatic story, lots of pathos, several surprising climaxes and a few songs, fewer, much fewer than in any of his previous productions, but they are all big hits, especially "So Long, Mary," and "Mary Is a Grand Old Name." Mr. Cohan calls it a music play.

"Mizpah" Beautifully Staged.

"Mizpah," which opened at the Baker Theater yesterday afternoon, proved one of the most elaborate scenic dramatic productions ever given to a Portland audience and was most enthusiastically received. It is a beautiful story founded on the Biblical incident of Queen Esther saving her people by interceding with King Ahasuerus. Miss Lawrence as Esther is splendid.

"The Missouri Girl" Shows Them.

"The Missouri Girl" showed two big audiences at the Empire Theater yesterday that she was quite equal to taking care of herself, even if she was from the much-dreaded state, and kept her spectators in roars of laughter. The play proved to be a wholesome, delightfully interesting rural comedy-drama.

"Wells of Wyoming" at Lyric.

The Lyric has its Spring opening this week, beginning with today's matinee, and the bill is "Wells of Wyoming," the famous cowboy drama. There is a new director at the Lyric, and many new players in the cast and important improvements in the interior of the theater.

SALE FOR "BUTTERFLY" TODAY

Box Office Open for Grand Opera Engagement at Hellog This Week. The box-office will open this morning at 10 o'clock for Henry W. Savage's Grand Opera Company in Puccini's Japanese grand opera, "Madam Butterfly," which comes to the Hellog Theater next Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, March 7, 8 and 9, with a matinee Saturday.

Indications point to a flattering reception for the artists when the Japanese curtain rises on the first act of Puccini's masterpiece in this city. It is rare indeed that a world-success comes to this country so soon after its continental sensation, and still more rare for such a treat to be taken on tour to music-lovers of the West while New York is still singing its praises.

Manager Savage is perhaps the only producer who would undertake such a hazardous experiment, but in the case of "Madam Butterfly" there is little experiment. The West knows what has scored a success in the East and is only waiting to greet

"Madam Butterfly" with the ovation the production deserves.

Black Patti Thursday Night.

The "Black Patti Troubadours" will open at the Empire Theater Thursday night and will give four performances, including a Saturday matinee. This is one of the most famous black-faced organizations on the road. The voice of Black Patti is celebrated and the renown of Jolly John Larkins, the colored comedian, is familiar to every one.

Otto Chew at White Temple Tonight.

Otto Chew, Berlin violinist, who appears at the White Temple tonight, with Freda Siender and Thilo Becker, cannot help her name, which really comes as quite a relief after such suggestions as Tease, Teichowsky, Lhevinne, Petschikoff, Gabrielowitch and others. Otto Chew was a Chew from babyhood. It is her parental name, and an English name, too, although it does not sound English. Like Herr Becker, Miss Chew obtained most of her musical schooling in Germany, where she is an immense favorite, and has been ever since her master, Joachim, sent her into the musical world with his blessing. Both she and Miss Siender, the New York soprano, are as remarkable in their work for the unaffected and pleasing naturalness of their style and method as for their sterling artistry.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

Pantages' Selected Bill.

One of the biggest and best vaudeville shows ever put on in a Portland theater will be offered the public at Pantages all this week. The acts are all expensive ones and selected for their distinctive merit. The Mysterious Sierracks, mesmerists, magicians and mindreaders are one feature. The Hunter Dog and Monkey Circus is another. Angelia May, the dramatic contralto, is still another.

ON SANDS IN DOVER STRAIT

Red Star Line Steamer Vaderland Runs Aground in Heavy Fog.

LONDON, March 3.—The Red Star line steamer Vaderland, Captain Ehoff, which sailed from Antwerp on Saturday for New York, is ashore on Goodwin Sands.

DOVER, March 3.—A tug has been sent from Dover to the assistance of the Vaderland, which is ashore on East Goodwin Sands. The position of the steamer is not believed to be dangerous. The fog is so dense that it is impossible to see the distance of a ship's length. So extensive is the list of groundings that the number of tugs available is inadequate for the calls for assistance.

Unless there is improvement in the situation, King Edward's departure for the Continent is delayed. Two or three other vessels have grounded on Goodwin Sands. Many collisions are reported. The German steamers Marsala and Helene collided and the Helene sank and eight of her crew were drowned.

Speaks to Young People. Rev. D. A. Wagner, pastor of the Sellwood Methodist Church, addressed the two young people's societies last night. The church had been appropriately decorated for the occasion and with the colors of the two organizations.
