LEVEY BLAMES NEW LAWS

Says Astoria & Columbia Will Remain as at Present Until It Becomes a Part of Portland

& Scattle System.

ASTORIA, Or., March 13.-(Special.) Neither the proposed extension of the As-toria & Columbia River Railroad to Tili-amoek nor the projected beach line from Warrenton to Seaside will be built in the immediate future. This is the announcement made here this afternoon by C. M. Levey, vice-president of the Northern Paristic Railway Company, and presonal representative of James J. Hill.

Mr. Levey spent a few hours in Astoria this afternoon and left on a special train for Tacoma. Judging from his remarks, as well as from other indications, his visit was simply an inspection trip, as he has been over the road several times recently, and is keeping thoroughly conversant with local conditions.

Mr. Levey spoke freely when questioned regarding the improvements projected by bits company, but the burden of his re-marks was a criticism of the action of marks was a criticism of the action of President Roosevelt in stirring up a sentiment against the railroads of the country. The President's action, he said, had resulted in the Legislatures of nearly all Western states passing hostile laws. Mr. Levey admitted these laws may perhaps be just and proper, but said they had already stopped practically all railroad building that was projected in the West, as it is now difficult for the railroad companies to borrow money, as capital is canles to borrow money, as capital is always timid when it cannot foresee what the future may bring.

Asked directly what effect the purchase of the Astoria & Columbia River Rail-road by Mr. Hill would have on the local situation, Mr. Levey said so far as he knew there would be no change at present, but that such matters as the ship-ping of wheat were not in his jurisdic-tion. Continuing, he said that neither the extension of the road to Tillamook nor the line along the beach from Warrenton to Seaside will be built at present. Generally speaking, he said, the road will remain practically as at present, at least until it becomes a part of the Portland & Seattle branch of the Northern Pacific

In connection with the statement that the system will not engage in any new construction work at present, Mr. Levey said there will be nothing done this year toward the construction of the proposed road down the north bank of the Colum-bla to Gray's Bay, although the surveys have been completed and much of the right-of-way purchased. He added, however, that within another year or two the road may be built, in order to bring out the timber from the adjacent district.

PLACE BOYCOTT ON O. R. & N.

Garfield Citizens Would Compel Company to Build Bridge.

GARFIELD, Wash., March II.—(Special.)—The citizens of Garfield have entered into the following agreement: "That, whereas, The Oregon Railroad & Navigation Company has ignored our petition for a bridge across Silver Creek on the company's property near the O. R. & N. depot, so that teams may cross over into the south part of twen therefore. into the south part of town, therefore, "Resolved, That from this date, we, the undersigned business men and farmers of Garfield and vicinity, will patronize the Northern Pacific and the Spokane & Inland roads in doing our shipping to and from Spokane, Portland, Scattle and way stations."

This the company also refuses to do.

For this reason the business men farmers have decided that company must comply with wishes, which they assert are just, or else forfeit the commercial and farm-ing trade of Garfield and vicinity.

BURNS TO DEATH WHILE ALONE

Nightelothes of 3-Year-Old Boy Catch Fire.

LA GRANDE, Oy., March 12.—(Special.) 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. T Elisworth, of this place, was burned to death early this morning. The mother had stepped out of the house on an errand to a nearby neighbor and left the little boy in bed. Evidently he immediately got up and stood by the heater, where his nightleiches caught fire.

The little fellow rushed from the house, but no one seems to have seen or heard him until his mother returned. She was powerless to help him, other than to try to lossen his sufferings, as the clothes were burned entirely off his body and the flames had eaten into the flesh. The child died in agony, about noon.

The boy is the son of John Williams, a well-known Wenss Valley farmer whose house burned last December. At that time suspicion rested on the lad, but no action was taken. Since then he has repeatedly told his family that he was going to die a horrible death, and that when he went they could go with him.

NO SENSATION IS SPRUNG.

Expected Developments Before the Grand Jury Do Not Appear.

BOISE, Idaho, March 11.-(Special.)-The United States grand jury is proceeding with its work with no sign of anything with its work with no sign of anything sensational. It has five witnesses before it today. They were Mrs. Justice. Guy Wilson and Ray Robinson, all of Lewiston, Inspectors Goodwin and O'Fallon. The last two occupied the attention of the jury this afternoon.

The first three named testified in the Lewiston cases when the first hearing was held and the general supposition to Lewiston cases when the first hearing was held and the general supposition is that the Government is following up some branch of the cases then opened up, but on that point there is no definite information. Assurance is given that there was nothing sensational in the line of investigation being followed. It is significant, however, that all connected with the investigation are absolutely noncommittal, which is rather unusual.

No other witnesses have arrived from

PORTLAND GROCERS ASSIST MERCHANTS TO ORGANIZE.

Association Formed at Rousing Meeting Attended by Large Delegation Headed by State Officer.

HOOD RIVER, Or., March 13.—Twenty members of the Portland Retail Grocers' Association came to Hood River today for the purpose of organizing a local association among the grocers of this city. In the party were T. J. Carney and C. B. Merrick, president and secretary of the State Grocers' Association, who conducted the work of organization.

The party, which arrived in a special Pullman car, was met at the station by Mayor Blowers and a delegation of merchants and citizens, who welcomed them to the city. After dinner they were driven over the valley with an escort to point out the places of interest and in the evening held a meeting in the rooms of of the Commercial Club.

After the selection of a temporary chairman and secretary, Mayor Blowers delivered an address of welcome to the visitors, which was responded to by President Carney, who told how the organization had benefited other towns and what he expected it would do for Hood River, He was followed by J. C. Marm of Port-he expected it would do for Hood River. He was followed by J. C. Mann. of Port-land, in a neat speech, in which he said that Hood River merchants should be as progressive as its fruit-growers, who have an organization through which they get the highest price paid for apples any-where in the world.

Councilman Kellaher, of the same city, was then called upon by the chairman. He said that the Portland organization numbered 140 members and represented two-thirds of the capital in the retail grocery business in that city, and was a great benefit to its members. Secretary Merrick spoke of the good work the state association had done in securing legislation and told about its fight for the pure food law. Speeches were also made by the representatives of several of the wholesale grocery houses in Portland, all of whom advised organization.

The merchants then proceeded to organ-ize a local association, by adopting a con-stitution and by-laws and electing J. F. Smith president; R. B. Brag, vice-president; E. O. Blanchard, treasurer; E. H. Hartwig, secretary, and J. H. Gill, D. McDonald and L. H. Hugglus directors. The visiting delegation passed a vote of thanks to Hood River citizens for the courtesies shown them. The new organ-ization starts with a membership of 25, which it is expected will be increased.
