CLUB HOLDS INTERESTING EXERCISES.—The Mothers' and Teachers' Clubs of the Brooklyn school was entertained yesterday at the opening of its regular monthly meeting by Miss Marie Clausen, the teacher of the nearby kindergarten. Mrs. Ben Selling read a paper on "Settlement Work," which was a clear exposition of the scope and purpose of that department. A report of the kindergarten delivered an address on "Child-Labor," and was practical in her treatment of the subject. She emphasized the terrible monotony of the work children are made to give in the factories. Mrs. Trumbull made a strong plea for support of the move to secure an adequate child-labor law in Oregon. A report of the kindergarten established at the Brooklyn school between February 11 to March 11, showed that the attendance had increased from 16 to 25. A vote of thanks was given the Inman-Poulsen Co., Frank Stevens, Helman & Johnson, Haywood Bros., Henry Jennings, Isaac Gratton and Frank Trotter for assistance. There was a large attendance. Mrs. J. A. Stronberg presided.

CARRY QUARREL INTO COURT.—E. P. Kroner, a contractor, was in the Municipal court yesterday morning, charged with trespass, and J. Exley, who lives next door to a lot on which Kroner is building a house, was before the bar charged with threatening to kill. Kroner was ordered to walk on the new house, which is being built almost on the property line. The workmen employed by Kroner were ordered to walk on Exley's land when they wished to go around the house. This Exley objected to, and quarrels between the workmen and the property-owner were frequent. When Exley came into court yesterday morning to swear out charges of trespass, Kroner, the contractor, was there also, to swear out a charge of threatening to kill. Kroner put up the defense that he was not responsible for the men in his employ, and said that he was not on the land himself. The case was continued indefinitely.

SHOOT AT NEIGHBOR.—O. A. Marklund, who resides on the Peninsula near the right of way of the Portland & Seattle Railway, was yesterday arrested by Constable Louis W. Lewis, charged with sworn out before Justice of the Peace Reld charging him with threatening to kill David J. Hoff, one of his neighbors. Yesterday afternoon Hoff and Marklund became involved in a quarrel over a strip of land which the former had sold to the railway company, and during the argument Marklund is alleged to have drawn a revolver and fired one shot. The bullet went wide of its mark and Hoff hurried to the Justice Court and swore out a warrant on which the defendant, Marklund, was arrested. He was released on $500 bail.

HOME TRAINING ASSOCIATION.—The regular meeting of the Home Training Association will be held Thursday afternoon, March 21, at 2 o'clock at the City Hall. Dr. Osmun Royal will speak on "Nervousness, its Relation to Child-Government." A meeting will also be held on Tuesday evening, March 26, at 7:45 o'clock at the City Hall. This is a meeting especially for fathers and mothers. There will be a routine talk on "The Development of the Child and the Relation of Punishment to Constitutional Conditions." All interested in children are cordially invited.

FIRST ISSUE OF SPECTATOR.—The first issue of the Spectator will be issued today. James S. Tyler and Hugh Hume are launching the new weekly, which will be along the lines of the San Francisco Argonaut. Leading features of the paper for the first issue are special articles by Governor Chamberlain, Dr. Hiram Vrooman, Mrs. W. Wynn Johnson, H. W. Kerrigan and George McMillan. There are departments for society, art, music and general comment, editorials and original short stories. Mr. Tyler and Mr. Hume are well-known newspaper men. Woodchopper Falls Down Stairs.—Ed Call, a woodchopper, fell from a stairway at the Cottage rooming-house yesterday, and was rendered unconscious. He was taken to the police station in the patrol wagon, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. Zeigler, the City Physician. Call makes his living by chopping wood. He has served several sentences in the reformatory, and was one of the class of Chinese gin-fends before the gin-joints were suppressed.

WILL CONDUCT MISSION.—The Redemptive Father's will open a week's mission this morning at 10:20 o'clock with solemn high mass. The sermon will be by one of the missionaries. This morning there will be solemn high mass offered by the soul of the mother, Father Hugh Gallagher, C. S. C., of Columbia University. The congregation at the First Presbyterian Church is to hear its new pastor, Rev. William Hiram Poulsen, for the first time tomorrow morning. The topic of his sermon will be, "The Son of Man a Minister." In the evening the address will be delivered by Rev. Frank H. E. Haskins, D. D., of Beirut, Syria.

WANTED AT WOODBURN.—Oliver Le Chapelle, wanted in Woodburn on a charge of burglary, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Sergeant Jones and Acting Detective Theimer. Later in the evening Constable Beach, of Woodburn, arrived and took the fugitive back to Woodburn. TRAIL OF SNOW FALLS.—A trace of snow fell in Portland yesterday morning. Not the kind of snow that moved the poet to write verse, but just ordinary snow. It fell and melted at once, greatly disturbing the peace of mind of people who had to be out in it.

ANNEXATION IS FAVORED.—At a mass meeting of the citizens of the settlements on the Mount Scott railroad last night, under the auspices of the Mount Scott Improvement Association, the expression of opinion seemed favorable to annexing that territory to Portland. C. Ben Riesland, Oscar T. Olsen and J. Frank Porter were present from the Woodstock Push Club to present the question of annexation. Mr. Riesland made the following statements that would result from annexation to Portland, among these being fire and police protection, Bull Run water, free mail delivery, better sanitation. General spoke against annexation, including W. H. Schooling. It was agreed that the Woodstock and the Mount Scott clubs should work to bring about annexation. It is not expected to get a vote before the next general election.

ART MUSEUM OPEN TODAY.—The Museum of Art, Fifth and Taylor streets, is open from 9 to 5 o'clock. On Thursday and Saturday afternoon admission is free. Besides the standing collections of casts and photographs, there are at present a number of oil paintings hung in the lower gallery. One of these, "The Basilicata," by William Sartain, is shown today for the last time. SLOT MACHINES RETURN Forbidden Devices Installed by Cigar Store Under Novel Conditions.

Yesterday morning when the cigar store operated by Wittchen & Wickham opened for business, eight slot machines, graded the counter, and for a time defied the police who ordered the gambling devices taken out last winter. The presence of the machines caused a flutter among the police, and Patrolman Craddock, who travels the beat on which the cigar store is situated, investigated and made a report to the chief. The head of the department said last night that he had no authority to banish the machines, and that under the present law nothing could be done.

According to the proprietors of the store, there is no chance to lose money by playing the machines. A man will receive his money's worth in cigars, win or lose. Should he play 50 cents, and make nothing by the deal, he will receive 50 cents worth of cigars or tobacco. Should he win one or two cigars he will receive his 50-cent worth in trade, but should he be more fortunate, and win more than the amount of money he played, he will receive a quantity accordingly. One rule is changed—nothing will be paid for a royal flush.

The cigar dealers say that they have installed the machines simply to stir up trade, and that they are doing nothing contrary to law.
