The final vote on the polity report was taken late in the afternoon after a strenuous session, in which the Methodist Protestant delegates from Louisians and Mississipii "bolted" the conference and refused to have anything to do with the union as planned. Although the members of the conference prayed with the obstreperous delegates from the South, pleaded with them and begged them to reconsider their decision the doughty Southerners "stood pat" and refused to budge an inch. PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY OF POSE TWO NEW LAWS.

Will Attempt to Repeal Compulsory Pass Act and $100,000 Appropriation for Armories.

The Patrons of Husbandry of Oregon will submit the compulsory pass law and the $160,000 appropriation for the estabthe $100,000 appropriation to the establishment of eight armories in different towns in Oregon to a referendum vote. The annual appropriation of $125,000 for the State University will not be submitted to the referendum; that matter will be held for future consideration in the

be held for future consideration in the form of an initiative in connection with the normal schools.

This decision was reached at a session of the executive committee of the State Grange held yesterday at the rooms of Mrs. C. H. Waldo, the State Grange lecturer, in the Sargent Hotel. State Master A. T. Buxton, B. J. Leedy and S. C. Spence compose the executive committee, and all were present to consider the matter of submitting the compulsory pass law and the armory appropriation to the referendum. Delegates were present from referendum. Delegates were present from Linn County to urge that the referendum be invoked on the University appropria-tion and a number of Grangers attended in the capacity of an advisory commit-

The situation was gone over thoroughly, and the decision was made to take up the matter of the referendum on the two measures at once. The whole machinery of the subordinate Granges throughout the state will be employed in circulating petitions for the necessary number of signatures. The petitions will be prepared at once and put into the hands of the local organizations.

State Master Buxton said that the action is not taken in opposition to the state

s not taken in opposition to the state

tion at all," he declared. "The execu-tive committee has decided to invoke the referendum on this measure merely for the reason that the armory appropriation is considered premature. The State Legislature made no effort to secure additional sources of revenue. We think that this measure should go to the people on economic grounds. The Legislature did not increase the sources of revenue, but increased the appropriations, and this is one appropriation that the executive committee considers wrong from iness standpolni ousness standpoint.

"Regarding the State University appro-iation of $125,000 a year, the committee cided not to invoke the referendum for a reason that it was considered best to the reason that it was considered best to take that matter up at the meeting of the State Grange. It is considered better to take up the question of an appropriation for the State University in connection with the normal schools. The referendum would only stop the appropriation, and not settle the question. The initiative would fix the amount to be given the State University and the normal schools. I think this will be one of the important questions to come before the State Grange in May. That body may decide to in-voke the initiative and settle the ques-tion of the university appropriation and give the people an opportunity to express their wishes as to the normal schools, as the recent Legislature left the question in an unsettled condition."

The places where armories are to be established under the new law are Roseurg, Eugene, Albany, Salem, The Dalles, condicton, Baker City and Oregon City. The Grange has on hand $2000 to be used in this referendum, and will move as rapidly as possible in getting the matter into shape. On the armory appropriation a fight is expected, but on the compulry pass law clear sailing is looked fo In the eight cities where armories are to be established strong opposition to the referendum vote is expected, but in the rural districts, the move to repeal the law is expected to find its greatest strength. The policy of the Patrons of Husbundry is to invoke the referendum on laws that it considers vicious and use the initiative where permanent re-sults are sought, as in the case of the State University and the normal schools. Brigadier-General W. E. Finzer had an interview with State Lecturer Walde esterday on the armory bill, and under took to show her that the position of the Grange was wrong, and that the ap-propriation was just. He said: "I think the bill is eminently fair be-ause the Guard certainly does need arstate at least $5000 a year in armory rent, so that reduces the amount of the appropriation carried by the act.

"Dr. McCorkle says, it is his intention to build the road to Mount Hood." if this is true it seems to me that such a condition should have been made a part of the contract. This franchise in fact, seems to be merely a license to barter a franchise to build a railway to Mount Hood and ties the city up to the proposition for a period of two years and eight months for which the municipality will receive $1500 in cash and a chance to sue for damages upon a bond of $50,000. The franchise will operate to exclude the construction of any other railway to that paint for two years and eight months. point for two years and eight months.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 21,-(Special. a meeting that lasted until 11 o'clock tonight, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association rejected an offer from steamboat owners of the Sound to wages 10 per cent. The engineer will demand what amounts to a $5 per cent increase in pay, effective April 1, and unless it is granted most of the men will quit work.

The engineers' association is a bene referendum on this measure merely for ficial organization and its membership the reason that the armory appropriation is not need up by tonight's vote. Steamship owners declare they will the up every boat from a tug to a steamship rather than pay the increase, which would have to be supplemented by an increase to every class of steamer employes. A committee of steamship men served that ultimatum tonight, but it was rejected after a lengthy debate.
