NEVER CARRIES UMBRELLA.—"Where is your umbrella, Jeff;" inquired a guest at the Commercial Club yesterday afterat the Commercial Club yesterday after-moon when Jefferson Myers, exposition promoter and general all-around booster for the Beaver state, with his coat liber-ally spirikled with Oregon mist, entered the office of Manager Richardson. "Nev-er carried an umbrella in my life." re-torted the genial Jeff. "I consider such an article a useless burden to be carried in a state that because labels force! an article a useless burden to be carried in a state that has such a delightful climate as Oregon. It's no way to advertise Oregon by carrying an umbrella." With this explaination, the man that was largely instrumental in making the Lewis and Clark Exposition the success that it proved, engaged Manager Richardson in a discussion, reminiscent in its vein, in which the gentle downpour outside was soon forgotten.

Home Districted by the first of the blaze gained headway before he reliairs and a phonograph. The loss is about $1000. A telephone message was sent to the Highland Chemical Engine Company, but owing to the distince to the fire the company did not go. There is no fire protection of any sort in the polysphorhood.

Dr. Brougher on Church Advertistion—A feature of the Commercial Club lunch yesterday was a five-minute talk on church advertising by Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher. He said a church should be conducted on the principles which govern business houses. He said he liked the crowds and believed in giving them what they want and letting them know where to get it. He said he intended to do all he could to make the church an advertisement for Oregon. Dr. Brougher junched with Manager Tom Richardson, President Hodson and George W. Boos, commission of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition, Mr. Boos has visited the states of Montana, Idaho and Utah, for which he is commissioner, and finds everywhere great interest in the exposition DR. BROUGHER ON CHURCH ADVERTIScrywhere great interest in the exposition and the prosperity of the Coast, DELICIOUS little satire on the so called problem play is "Alice-Sit-By-the-Fire, of which Portland play-goers have heard much. An opportun-ity was given them to see it at the Hei-ilg last night, and those who took advan-lig last night, and those who took advantage of that opportunity were well repaid.

While the Alice in the case was not Eithel Barrymore, we enjoyed the next best privilege, that of seeing Roselle Knott, a finished actress and one who has never yet falled her public. She has starred here in a varied round of plays and is something of a Portland favorite. The Barrie comedy in which she appeared tast night is in the nature of a new departure for her, but it is no less a successful one, for she's a dear, delightful heroine of a dear, delightful heroine of a dear, delightful percent of a dear, delightfu and appreciate comedy refined to its very essence. Last night's audience was a cordial one and thoroughly approved both the star and the play. The little Scotch dramatist did not put his very best efforts into "Alice-Sit-By tribute a measureable portion.

The father, Colonel Grey, is splendidly played by Eric Blind, an English leading man of that excellent type which makes man of that excellent type which makes us cease to wonder why we import so many of them. It is an interesting co-incidence that the part of Amy Grey, the 15-year-old daughter of the hyphenated Alice, is, in fact, played by Viola Knott, the young daughter of the star. The younger Miss Knott is a sweet, unaffect-ed stid in every way better sulted to play younger aliss knort is a sweet, manufacted girl, in every way better sulted to play that sort than a more experienced and technically correct actress.

Robinson Newbold is a juvenile leading man of good ability and makes a desirable Stephen. The settings are equal to the requirements, which are not large.

PLAN A REORGANIZATION

Creditors of Oregon Securities Company to Be Satisfied.

The mining properties of the Orego Securities Company, which went on the shoals a short time ago, will be sold shoals a short time ago, will be sold under forced sale to satisfy the claims against the corporation, which will then be reorganized, the officials say, and a new company formed to take over the properties and continue development work. The company is said to have been bankrupted through its mistaken policy of working out the free milling ore bodies and neglecting the base ores. The district is said to be essentially a base ore district and in the foture the management will develop those ore bodies.

G. B. Hengen, of New York, sceretary and treasurer of the Oregon Securities, was in Portland yesterday and explained and freasurer of the Oregon Securities, was in Portland yesterday and explained the plan of reorganization. He says a new corporation will be formed to take up the properties of the old company, which will be bid in at the foreclosure sale April 22.

A name for the new organization has not yet been chosen, but its cantial stock.

not yet been chosen, but its capital stock will be $1,500,000. This will consist of 400;-600 shares of preferred stock, which will be preferred only as to dividends, and 1,00,000 shares of common stock. The preferred stock has been sold to Eastern preferred stock has been soid to Eastern bondholders of the old company at 80 cents, together with 400,000 shares of common stock at 20 cents. This money will be used to liquidate the present indebtedness of the old company, amounting to E20,000, affording the new company possession of the properties clear of debt.

There will be some changes in the offi-tals of the reorganized company and Mr. Hengen expects to have at least two Fortland directors. A few of the officials of the old organization will remain.

The difficulty in keeping the old com-nany affoat is said to have been its heavy apitalization and the difficulty in meet-ing the interest and fixed charges. The lebt will be wiped out and the stock cut lown so that the new company will have only about 25 per cent as much stock as the Oregon Securities. This, it is be-lieved, will be the means of putting the company on a good business basis.
