TWO ARE SUICIDES

County Charges Think Life Not Worth Living.

ONE INSANE; OTHER INVALID

Charles Vandell Imagines He Is Pursued by Enemies and Uses Noose.

Mike Johnson, Consumptive, Cuts Throat With Razor.

Denies She Is Injured

Christian Scientist Will Not Permit Medical Assistance

Hangs Himself in Cell.

Two charges of Multnomah County—one at the Poor Farm and the other in a cell at the County Jail—succeeded in evading the watch of their custodians Saturday night and committed suicide. The bodies were not discovered until yesterday morning, when they were turned over to Coroner Finley. The suicide at the County Jail was Charles Vandell and that at the Poor Farm was Mike Johnson.

Vandell was arrested by the police last Thursday as insane and taken to the County Jail Friday and examined by County Judge Webster and Dr. E. D. Johnson, acting as an insanity commission. He was declared insane and ordered committed to the asylum at Salem. The papers were issued Saturday and an attendant from the asylum was expected to take him to Salem the same night but failed to arrive.

Hangs Himself in Cell.

Some time after midnight Saturday, or after Jailer Mitchell had made his last round, Vandell detached his suspenders and taking a noose fitted it around his neck and fastening the other end to the lattice-work at the cell top succeeded in strangling himself to death. The noose was not discovered until yesterday morning when the jailer and his assistant made the first round of the day.

Sheriff Stevens states that had he been allotted a night jailer this affair could have been prevented, and Jailer Mitchell has requested that a protected cell for insane prisoners be erected in a corner of the jail. This compartment, if allowed, will be equipped in such a manner as to render self-destruction during confinement impossible.

Vandell is a Finlander, aged 32 years, and came here recently from Sacramento. Of late he has become afflicted with a belief that someone was following him for the purpose of killing him. This hallucination was brought on by excessive use of liquor and exposure. He has a sister residing in Helsinki, Finland, who has been notified by Coroner Finley. When arrested by the police Vandell had a certified check for $50 and some change in his pocket.

Consumptive Cuts His Throat.

Mike Johnson, the Poor Farm suicide, is a Norwegian, 36 years old, who was in the last stages of consumption and an inmate of the tuberculosis ward. During the two days prior to taking his life Johnson has been very dependent over his condition and was so weak that he was unable to leave his bed. The attendants at the ward announced that they expected him to die within a few days. Some time Saturday night he was suffering and he thought he was suffering and did not investigate. He had pulled the blankets up over his head, and this prevented the nurses from discovering the rash act until he failed to respond to a call yesterday morning. When found he was quite dead.

Christian Scientist Will Not Permit Medical Assistance

A party of Christian Science advocates and the Portland Police Department in the person of Detective Sergeant Baty, engaged in a war of words in the lobby of the Abington building last night. The cause of the dispute was an accident which had occurred a few moments before the arrival of the officer.

Mrs. Condon, an aged woman, who is a member of the Christian Science cult, which holds regular meetings in the Abington building, while leaving the hall at the conclusion of last night's session, tripped and fell downstairs and was apparently severely injured. Several members of the religious sect hastened to her side and attempted to relieve her sufferings. In so doing they offered no medical aid, and by simple use of water and soothing statements, taught by their belief, endeavored to convince the aged woman that she was not hurt, and her only complaint was a pain in the right hand.

Detective-Sergeant Baty soon put in his appearance and demanded to know if a physician had been notified. He did not say much and refrained from any utterance that might be construed as a criticism of some of his fellow clergymen. It is a simple matter, however, to draw the conclusion that he is a conservative. He is regular and orthodox and preaches the religion that suited for the five generations of Presbyterian preachers who lived before him. This does not mean, however, that he is not interested in the affairs of men.

Already he has done a man's work of helping to pry the world upward and expects to lend a hand here. I found him eager to learn about the men and institutions of the city. Civic conditions interest him, and I found him sitting up and noticing the material progress the town is making.

It was ten years ago that he graduated from Emporia College, in Kansas, and he has been in the active ministry

New Minister Comes Here to Invest His Life in Community

Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, Called to Pulpit of First Presbyterian Church, a Fine Type of the Useful Christian.

BY ARTHUR A. GREENE.

"I HAVE come out here to invest my life," said Rev. William Hiram Foulkes, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, to me the other day. I liked the manner of his expression then and it has grown upon me that it is a mighty good sentiment for a man to say and to live by.

Mr. Foulkes is Portland's newest preacher, and since his congregation is one of the largest and most important in this part of the vineyard, it is but natural that within a week after arriving here he becomes a full member in the community. If he lives up to his declaration of principles, as set forth above, we are certain to have our eyes fixed upon him and our confidence on deposit with him for many years to come.

Rev. W. H. Foulkes, New Pastor, First Presbyterian Church.

Let us hope he will, that he has in truth come here to invest—that which is richer than much fine gold—a good man's life, for he is young and has much of it before him.

To be young, with a record of usefulness already behind him, a future in which are almost infinite opportunities ahead of him, with a natural endowment sufficient to meet the obligations placed upon him, and a basic determination to make the most of his responsibilities—surely that is a capital stock large enough to build a career upon.

Mr. Foulkes is "going on" thirty-something, I imagine, and is young enough to retain all the best enthusiasms of youth and old enough to have got his balance. He is a modest man, seemingly, who doesn't carry a spot-light among his "properties." His adherence to the old-fashioned notion that a minister of the gospel has a mission rather than a profession is evidence of his earnestness of purpose. Physically he looks fit, taller than the average, slender and lithe, with an engaging personality, the token of which latter is a smile that is reassuring and inviting.

Mr. Foulkes denies that he indulges himself in ecclesiastical fads; no politics nor vaudeville in the pulpit for him. He didn't say as much and refrained from any utterance that might be construed as a criticism of some of his fellow clergymen. It is a simple matter, however, to draw the conclusion that he is a conservative. He is regular and orthodox and preaches the religion that suited for the five generations of Presbyterian preachers who lived before him. This does not mean, however, that he is not interested in the affairs of men.

Already he has done a man's work of helping to pry the world upward and expects to lend a hand here. I found him eager to learn about the men and institutions of the city. Civic conditions interest him, and I found him sitting up and noticing the material progress the town is making.

It was ten years ago that he graduated from Emporia College, in Kansas, and he has been in the active ministry which took the place of the regular Sunday evening services. Rev. Mr. Leas explained the significance of each picture as it was thrown on the screen, and most of the views of the famous religious drama were of unusual beauty and grandeur.

Aside from the lecture, a fine musical programme was rendered. A. Blankholm, a violinist, and Miss Mary Quigley, organist, gave a number of selections. The full church choir was present last night and the music was made the principal feature of the evening services. The church was beautifully decorated with roses, carnations, Oregon grape and ivy. The auditorium was crowded.

WILLIAM E. JONES DEAD

Well-Known and Prosperous Mount Scott Citizen Passes Away.

The Mount Scott district suffered the loss of one of its most substantial citizens in the death last Thursday of William E. Jones, of Kern Park. Mr. Jones owned one of the finest homes in the district, having come to Kern Park five years ago. Previous to this he spent four years in California, where he went from Seattle after fourteen years spent in the feed and commission business in that city.

Mr. Jones was born in Quincy, Ill., January 31, 1841. At the age of eight years he removed with his parents to Clarksville, Mo., where, at 21, he married Miss Carrie Roberts. To them was born a son, J. Paul Jones, who, with his family, now lives at Seattle. His first wife dying in 1882, Mr. Jones was married in Portland to Mrs. A. R. Wright, who survives him.

Mr. Jones was held in high esteem by his neighbors and friends. His illness was brief.

The funeral will be held from the home at Kern Park, at 3 P. M. tomorrow. The body will be taken to Seattle for interment.

Captured Thief Confesses Guilt.

OREGON CITY, Or., March 24.—(Special)—Deputy Sheriff Charles Ely returned last night from Salem, bringing with him George Gilbert, alias C. R. Clifford, who stole a suitcase containing a gold watch, several razors and other articles of value from the residence of his employer, G. Critzer, near New Era. He pawned the chain for 40 cents in a second-hand store at Salem and was arrested upon a telegraphic description furnished by Chief of Police Burns. Gilbert protested his innocence until faced by Mr. Critzer, when he broke down and confessed.

DELAY DEPARTURE OF 25TH

Regiment Will Not Be Sent to Isthmus at Instance of Foraker.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, March 24.—Preparations relative to the movement of the Twenty-fifth Infantry to the Philippines have been suspended. Chief Quartermaster Stevens has been notified to cancel all contracts for the movement which was to have begun at the end of this month. The departure is delayed, it is said, through the influence of Senator Foraker, who contended it would not be for the good of the service to send the regiment short of officers.

Moneyback wins—Shilling's Best.

If any foreign nation should attempt to levy such tribute off the American people that the Beef Trust exacts, the guns of our Navy would be trained on that land as fast as steam and the ocean winds could carry them. Portland people! the simple little thing of your meat patronage can gain a tremendous victory for our city. Smith has placed it in your power to win. Rise up and declare YOU WILL NOT pay tribute to the Chicago Beef Trust.
