

THAW DENIES STORY

Says No Dissension Among Members of His Counsel.

GIVES OUT A STATEMENT

Third Issued by Prisoner Since August 10—Jerome Spends Day Preparing Long Statement for Justice Fitzgerald.

NEW YORK, March 24.—Harry K. Thaw tonight made public another statement, this time denying a rumor which he believes is current to the effect that there is dissension among the members of his counsel.

A Russell Peabody, who gave the matter to the press after he had a conference with other members of Thaw's counsel, designated it as "the third statement issued by Thaw since August 10 last."

Thaw Gives Out Statement.

I wish to deny the rumor that there is dissension among my counsel. Owing to the limited time, affidavits were prepared simultaneously at the office of Delmas and Messrs. Hartridge and Peabody. Four that were completed March 23 at the last office were transferred to the former and all of that date were printed together under Mr. Delmas' supervision.

These made March 23 were brought to me as I was nearest the printer.

I examined the last four from Messrs. Hartridge and Peabody and one from Mr. Delmas' office, and found them satisfactory.

This method was sanctioned by Mr. Delmas. Had I considered that anything in the last affidavit might be considered inappropriate for the time and corrected under Mr. Delmas' direction.

My mother sent her exceedingly clear affidavit Friday morning to be copied at the office of Hartridge & Peabody and proceeded there later to affix her signature under oath. It was written by her at her hotel with no suggestions from anyone whomsoever and is filed exactly as she prepared it.

The monotony of Thaw's Sunday at the Tombs was broken by an unexpected visit from his wife. This was the first time since his detention that the prisoner was allowed to receive callers other than his counsel on Sunday.

Thaw Still Hopeful.

Mrs. Thaw said: "Harry is in excellent health and is sure that everything will come out in his favor."

Daniel O'Reilly explained that the legal staff would call during the day, and stating that Mr. Hartridge and the writer were busily engaged in preparing affidavits to be presented to Justice Fitzgerald tomorrow.

District Attorney Jerome and his chief assistant on the Thaw case were at their offices today. Jerome dictated stenographers a long statement which took them until late in the day to transcribe. Mr. Jerome said it was a statement in which he would state the facts of the case as he sees them.

Still Thinks Thaw Insane.

When asked if he intended to rebut the affidavits filed by the defense, he said: "My opinion that Thaw is now crazy and should not be on trial for his life has undergone no change since reading these affidavits, and I certainly expect a commission to verify this point definitely."

Even if Mr. Jerome answers tomorrow the affidavits of the defense, there will be further development in this case Wednesday morning, when court will reconvene.

BURIED ALIVE BY SNOW

AVALANCHE COVERS UP PARTY OF EIGHT MEN.

Four of Them Are Rescued Alive. Men Worked in Mine 40 Miles North of Vancouver.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., March 24.—Eight miners were buried alive in an avalanche of snow at the Britannia mine of Howe Sound, 40 miles north of Vancouver, yesterday morning. Four were taken out dead, four were rescued. Two Japanese were in the group, and were killed. The surnames of the dead Britons are McBride, Wilson and McPherson.

The men had been working in the log-camp stowed by the Copper Company, securing material to timber the mine. About 9 o'clock a storm broke over the mountain and the workmen started down the incline to the mine. They had not proceeded far when a huge mass of snow swept down the side of the hill, burying the men in its path.

Followed workmen rushed instantly to the scene and began digging out their comrades. The first man taken out was alive, but unconscious. The rescue party caught sight of a man's feet protruding and sticking up through the snow. They worked as rapidly as possible, but for some time it was not known how many men had been covered by the slide.

Several hours had elapsed before the last body was recovered. The rescued Japanese, who was the last of the live men to be brought out, had lain for almost an hour under 30 feet of snow. None of the rescued men, it is believed, were hurt as a result of the accident. The bodies of the dead were immediately shipped by the steamer Britannia to Vancouver, where they will be prepared for interment.

DEAD OF THE NORTHWEST

Crossed the Plains in 1852.

CORVALLIS, Or., March 24.—R. F. Hyland, a veteran and pioneer of Benton County, who died at his home in this city Thursday morning, was born in Vermont in 1829. In 1852 he crossed the plains and settled in Corvallis. He soon afterward returned to his native state, traveling by way of the Isthmus of Panama. In 1874 he again located in Corvallis.

There is only one living son, Eugene Hyland, of Tacoma, Wash.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Dinges, of Junction City, Or., and Mrs. Sylvia Swann, of Los Angeles, Cal.; also one brother, B. S. Hyland, of Eugene, Or.

Came by Ox Team in 1853.
