ARTS AND CRAFTS ENHIBIT NEXT MONTH.

In preparation for an Arts and Crafts Exhibition to be opened next month the lower gallery of the Art Museum is now losed. Meanwhile visitors must depend their upon the permanent collections. A pleasant and profitable hour may be spent in the castroom or with the Old Masters in the photograph collection. A selection from this is now hung in the upper galleries but many thousand more photographs are in the cases to be seen on request by any visitor. Two water-color landscapes by Julian Rix are also shown, lent to the association for exhibition until March 31. The building is open daily from 9 to 5 o'clock. On Thursday and Saturday afternoons, admission is free.

FOR THE BOIS.—Rev. W. T. Jordon, paster of the Central Baptist Church, at Bast Ankeny and East Twentieth streets, has organized the boys of his church into a club. The club will be provided with a bastle of the club will be provided with a symmasium in the church and a baseball club will be organized. Meetings of the club will be held each week when ad-dresses will be delivered, but the main dresses will be delivered, but the main object is to give the boys something to do that will develop their minds and bodies. This organization is the outgrowth of a sermon Dr. Jordon delivered from his pulpit a few Sundays ago in which he made a strong plea for the boys and declared that the churches were not doing their duty by them.

CHILDREN GO TO THEATER-Manager Perce Benton of the "A Cowboy's Girl" Company, and Manager Seaman of the Sampire Theater will entertain the chil-Jren of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society at today's matthee performance of "A Cowboy's Girl." The invitation was extended through Superintendent Gardner and was promptly accepted, as the little folks are ardently fond of matinees and "A Cowboy's Girl" is calculated to please bears. Park her and still be to the control of the contr them. Each boy and girl in the party will be presented with a little present n token of Easter. This afternoon will be a merry one for the little ones.

FIVE ORATORS CROSEN.-In the prelin PAVE ORATORS CROSEN.—In the prelim-enary declamation contests at the Port-land Academy, yesterday afternoon, nine members of this year's graduating class competed for places on the oratorical pro-gramme of commencement day. The five students who were selected were Elizabeth Young, William Dolph, Georgia Newbury, Harvey Miller and C. W. Robinson. The judges of the context were Dr. R. H. Ellis, C. N. McArthur and H. M. Esterley.

Night Schools Close.—The public night schools closed last night, concluding the most successful term in their history. During the five Winter months four schools have been maintained. There were 460 pupils enrolled, 83 girls and young women and 317 boys and men. The night schools will not reopen until next October when it is planned to add additional features to this branch of the public school department.

ditional features to this branch of the public school department.

BULLDING TO BE MADE HIGHER.—Three or four stories will be added to the Ainsworth building in the near future if present plans are carried out. J. C. Ainsworth, president of the United States National bank, which occupies the lower floor, has commissioned Architect Lazarus openages specifications. The building is to prepare specifications. The building is located at the northwest corner of Third and Oak Streets.

Not is Leustors's Place. — John Leustorf, proprietor of the South Car Terminal Cafe, located at Corbett and Bancrott streets, denies that the shooting in which Tom Malone was injured last Wednesday morning occurred in his establishment, or that Bartender Mulien is in his employ. Leustorf states that Mullen works at the Macadam Bar, 1944 Macadam street.

REOPENING.

Co. 5, 19 and 15 Cent Store in the new location at 388 and 290 Washington street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, on Friday afternoon was a great success. Professor Wilder's orchestra furnished music during the afternoon and the elegant new store was crowded with people up to closing time. The store has gained many friends during the blown store was closing time. The store has gained many friends during the three years since it was opened and the business, under the able management of Mr. LeGrand M. Baldwin, has been very successful. Mr. Charlton now owns 55 of these stores, the new one in Portland being one of the finest in the Northwest. Business will open today, and the usual rush will be on hand, as has always been the case when the 5, 19 and 15 Cent Store makes a conclair aunouncement.

MOST REVOLUTIONARY BOOK EVER WRITTEN.

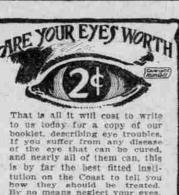

The Ego and His Own By MAX STIRNER.

This book of 525 pages, now first published in English by Bend. R. Tucker, originally appeared in Germany more than 69 years ago, but, as Dr. J. L. Walker says in his English introduction. "Fifty years sooner or inter can make little difference in the case of a book so revolutionary." At first it created a tremendous furors, but it was so far in advance of its time that the interest subsided. The last decade, however, has witnessed a Silver revival of no mean nonsubsided. The last decade, however, ha witnessed a Stirrer revival of no mean proportions; biographies of the author have been written and translations of the bool have appeared in several languages. The purpose of the work is to destroy the ide of duty and assert the supremisely of the will. Lange, in his "History of Material ism," refers to it as "the extremest bool we know," and Feuerbach characterizes the author as "the most ingenious and the freest writer within my knowledge."
