The Sale of Embroideries

Repeated for Today's Selling

COME TODAY. THE IMMENSE QUANTITY LEAVES SPLENDID ASSORTMENTS FOR TODAY'S BUYERS, AND THE VALUES ARE REALLY PHENOMENAL.

ALL DAY LONG YESTERDAY VALUE-WISE WOMEN THROUGED THE AISLES in which these goods were sold, and this has been by long odds the most satisfactory sale we've had. Come expecting much, for you'll find that we've not exaggerated the story, there's all here that we've promised—and more!

Those who failed to be waited upon yesterday have their chance today, and there's still grand chance for choosing.

Thousands of yards of snowy white Embroideries in daintily beautiful patterns, in Swiss and Nainsook materials, edges and insertions, from 6 to 22 inches wide.

These Embroideries come in strips of about 4 1/2 and 6 1/2 yards; some will run more and some less than these lengths, but most of the strips are exactly 4 1/2 or 6 1/2 yds.

WE WON'T CUT THE STRIPS; you have to take the entire piece as it is, and by so doing you save from half to three-fourths the regular price.

UNFROCKS A PRIEST

Bishop Greer Reads Tuckerman Out of Church.

HAS BECOME UNITARIAN

Former Episcopal Clergyman Rejects Doctrine of Trinity and Virgin Birth—High Church Organ Asks Dismissal.

BOSTON, April 5.—It was learned tonight that Rev. Gustavus Tuckerman of this city, formerly of New York and St. Louis, had been formally deposed from the priesthood of the Episcopal Church by Right Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, bishop coadjutor of New York, with which diocese Rev. Mr. Tuckerman had been canonically connected. Mr. Tuckerman's relations with the Episcopal Church were severed because he could no longer accept the teaching of that communion regarding the doctrine of the holy trinity and the virgin birth, and he is now a minister of the Unitarian denomination. Sentence of deposition was pronounced last Tuesday in New York by Bishop Greer. In tomorrow's issue of the Living Church, the organ of the Catholic party of the Episcopal Church in the United States, an article will appear criticizing the apparent failure of the ecclesiastical authorities in New York and Boston to suspend Mr. Tuckerman from the Episcopal body, as some time ago he left his place as rector of the Church of the Holy Faith, New York, and took up work at the Theodore Parker Memorial Unitarian Church in Boston. The article states that Mr. Tuckerman is still carried on the clergy list of the Episcopal Church and practically demands his suspension. An investigation here tonight disclosed the fact that last year the minister decided to abandon his orders in the church and that six months ago he so notified Bishop Greer. Bishop Greer suspended Mr. Tuckerman, but, having six months before he was compelled to take final action, did not depose the clergyman until this week.

WAS AT HIS OWN REQUEST Bishop Greer Makes Statement on Deposition of Tuckerman.

NEW YORK, April 5.—"Mr. Tuckerman was deposed as a minister of the Episcopal Church at his own request," said Bishop Greer to the Associated Press tonight. "There is no way for a man to resign from the church except by active deposition by the bishop, and it was at Mr. Tuckerman's own solicitation that I pronounced him deposed last Tuesday. There is nothing whatever in his moral character that can be criticized. He simply desired to leave the church to enter social settlement work in Boston. He is a man of high character and mind. I simply complied with his desire."

NOW ABANDON POLYGAMY

Smith Says Mormon Church Is Obedient to Constitution.

SALT LAKE, Utah, April 5.—At the annual conference of the Mormon Church, which began here today with representatives from all over the world present, President Joseph Smith delivered his address. This was followed by the formal address which sets forth the Mormon declaration of principles and is intended as a message of peace and good will to the world. It is signed by the first presidency of the Mormon Church, Joseph F. Smith, John R. Winder and Anthon H. Lund. It was read by Apostle Orson F. Whitney, of Salt Lake, and was adopted by a rising vote. The address is marked by calm and conservative utterances and is lacking in sensationalism or bitterness.

After setting forth the principles upon which the Mormon Church is founded the address declares that the religion which the church professes is based upon the revelation of God. In addition to the general religious principles of purity, morality and faith in God, the following are set forth specifically as cardinal doctrines of the church:

"Absolute separation of church and state; noninterference of church authority with political matters, and the absolute freedom of the individual in the performance of his political duties."

Touching polygamy, published to the world as a doctrine of the church in 1852, but forbidden by an act of Congress in 1862, the address says:

"The Mormon people bow in submission to the laws enacted against the practice of polygamy. Since that time, four years later the number was 897 and many of these have since passed away. As to hitting, the address says it is a voluntary offering and not a system for the enrichment of the higher officials of the church, as has been charged. Tithing is declared to be a system for obtaining money for religious and charitable purposes. In proclaiming the loyalty of the Mormon people to the United States and its constitution, the address declares:

THIEVES MERE BOYS

Burglaries by Youths of Tender Ages in Seattle.

CRIMINALS 12 YEARS OLD

Police Force Unable to Cope With Youthful Lawbreakers—Fault of Mothers, Says Chief Wappenstein.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 5.—(Special.)—Chief of Police Wappenstein declared today that half the thefts and burglaries committed in Seattle within the past six months have been committed by children under the age of 15 years. He admitted that the police are almost powerless to cope with the wave of youthful criminality that has spread over the city.

Three sons of prominent parents were brought before Judge Prater in the Juvenile Court this morning on charges of burglary, and he announced from the bench that he proposed to break up the gangs of boy-criminals operating in Seattle.

The three boys in court today were less than 12 years old, but had committed three burglaries.

"The fact that so many children are turning out criminals is due largely to their mothers," Chief Wappenstein declared today. "The condition has reached such an extent that the Police Department is almost powerless to cope with it."

GIRLS ADMIT THEIR THEFT

Little Lassies in Seattle Confess to Crimes of Burglary.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 5.—(Special.)—Katie King, aged 13, and Lillian Struhm, aged 12, have confessed that they entered the home of Mrs. E. S. Lewis, 206 Eighth avenue, with a pass-key and took away jewelry, dresses, money and other articles of value. Mrs. Lewis was absent at the time.

The King girl is without a mother, and her father and brother, who are working during the day, assert they cannot watch her. She was turned over to the police matron, but the Struhm girl was permitted to accompany her father home. The two girls will be tried in the Juvenile Court.

This is the first case of girl-burglary that the local police have encountered in years.

Signs Three Reform Bills.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 5.—Governor Sheldon tonight signed the anti-brewers' bill, the pure-food bill and the bill cutting express rates.

You can have good coffee and tea whenever you are here and water and potatoes—Schilling's Best.
