GET NAMES BACK ON THE PETITIONS

Municipal Association Forms Plans to Meet Killing of Signatures.

"CAN'T," SAY LIQUOR MEN

Non-Registered Signers Urged to Register Quickly-Failure to Allow for Changes of Address May Help Some More.

The Municipal Association has adopted a new maneuver intended to offset the wholesale elimination of signatures from the 8000 liquor license ordinance petition. Paul Rader opened this campaign yesterday. It is one of reinstatement, whereby Mr. Rader and his associates hope to have many of the names that have been cancelled, returned to their place on the petition. Thus it is hoped to get the petition on the official ballot and defeat the present attempt to disqualify it. Mr. Rader says he is confident this plan will work out.

The liquor interests take quite a different view of the situation. Their representatives, who have been watching the canvass of the petition from morning to night, say the proposition is doomed, regardless of what restoratives may be applied. Granting that such voters as are not registered may be authorized to have their names appear, they say the petition will be defeated because of the number of names created by imaginative solicitors.

Mr. Rader believes purely manufactured names are not present in sufficient quantities to kill the McKenna measure. The Municipal Association, wishes all who Municipal Association, wishes all who signed the petition and have not yet registered to attend to that duty at once. That changes of addresses and confusion in the registration books that might thus result have not been taken into account by the city auditors office is believed by supporters of the ordinance. This theory will be put to the test without delay. Mandamus proceedings cannot well be brought until the City Auditor definitely refuses to place the ordinance on the bal-lot and this he cannot do until the can-vas is complete.

Checking over the petition continued all

Checking over the petition continued all day yesterday at the County Courthouse, At the close of the day the work was half completed. The percentage of worthless signatures was about the same as on Wellnesday. Five names were encountered the addresses on which were "city." The owners of these names could not be located. They are John A. McDonnell, C. F. Kellogg, O. H. Swanson, W. Canning and H. R. Alson,
An example of the methods resorted to by seemingly mercenary solicitors was shown in the petition filed by B. Chamberlain. It was learned that in visiting the Portland Pully Company's place he received the signatures of A. Silvas and C. A. Murphy, who say they told the soli-

C. A. Murpby, who say they told the solicitor they were not registered voters. They say they were told it made no difference as names were needed and "the more the better."

Among other signatures thrown out was that of C. Z. Brown, giving address as si53 Twelfth street. This address was un-fortunate as it is occupied by the First Presbyterian Church. Six sections of the petition were can-

Vansed yesterday. Out of 324 names a total of 149 were thrown out. In petition 15 there were 77 good names and 19 bad, in 18, 65 good and 49 rejected; in 17, 23 good and 25 rejected; in 18, 12 good and 23 bad; in 19, six good and eight bad. BUILDING TOWN AT JOSLYN

Judge A. R. Byrkett, of Bingen, Wash.

Judge A. R. Byrkett, of Bingen, Wash, who is in the city tells of the growing importance of his section, which is nearly opposite Hood Biver, on the north bank of the Columbia River.

The town of Bingen is situated on the line of the North Bank Railroad, and W. W. Swan, a Kennewick capitalist, has purchased land for a new townsite near by, which bids fair to develop into an important place.

Mr. Swan recently bought a large part of the old B. S. Joslyn donation land claim from Judge Byrkett, the remainder of the tract, which consists of 118 acres, being sold to the North Bend Railroad Company as right-of-way. Mr. Swan has large timber interests near lingen, and among the improvements contemplated by him on the new townsile, which will be named Josiyn, in honor of the old pioneer, are a large box factory, a fine hotel for tourists and summer boarders, and unmerous other gon who might be interested in obtaining houses, for rent or for sale. The imgranders killed a key who was working for him at the time, and hurned the house and harns, even wantenly destroying many of his catile. Later the Government built a fort on Joslyn's claim, which the troops eccupied for three years, until the Indian scare had passed. Mr. Joslyn put in a claim of $1500 against the Government, and a singular coincidence is remarked in the fact that on the day of Mr. Joslyn's death in Los Angeles, which occurred about a year age, there came to his address a certificate from the Government to pay the amount of his claim.

The site of the new town of Joslyn is 65 miles east of Portland, by the survey on the North Bank Bailroad.

FOSTER TO SUCCEED BELL

New Head of Northwest Secret Service a Good Man.

Friends of Thomas B. Foster, special Secret Service operative, with headquar-ters in the Federal building at Portland, will be pleased to learn that he is scheduled to succeed Captain B. W. Bell, in charge of the Northwestern division of the United States Secret Service, with headquarters at Seattle. Mr. Foster is said to be one of the best men in the Secret Service, his specially being in de-tecting and broaking up counterfeiter panes. It was Foster who ran down the

the Federal grand jury, which will begin its duties this month. Operative Foster has been absent from Portland for sev-eral weeks past on business connected with his office. His new district com-prises Oregon and Washington.

A Play of the West.

"The Judge and the Jury," this week's attraction at the Baker Theater, is a play of the West and for that reason strongly appeals to the sentiments of every audience. There is something stirring, patriotte and pscullarly attractive about a Western atmosphere, whether it be in song and story or in reni life.

Roaring Farce Comedy at Emptre. "A Stranger in Town," which the Empire Theater was sufficiently fortunate to secure for this week's attraction, is a rearing farce comedy which keeps everyone convisied with laughter, yet is not rough and tumble as so many comedies are. Matines tomorrow.

Farce at the Star.

Farce, which causes every individual in the audience to laugh until the tears come, is what the Allen Stock Company is offer-ing this week at the Star Theater. 'Our New Girl.' as the piece is called, is a typical French farce, eith side-splitting sit-uations and something occurring every time the clock ticks.

"The Gamekeeper."

A drama that thrills, that brings laughs and tears in equal amount, is "The Game-leeper," which is seen at the Lyric this week. This famous play has been well mounted by the Lyric company. Matines every day; two performances Saturday and Eunday nights, the first at 7:16 o clock.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Baker to Present English Play.

The Admirable Crichton," an English play written around one of the most famous characters in history, will be given the Portland theater public next week by the popular Baker company and is now under preparation. This is the play in which William Gillette of "Secret Service" fame made such a tremendous success.

Farce Comedy With Spring Weather.

The Empire Theater will have another week of farce comedy just to suit the Spring weather which has been so long awaited, and beginning Sunday afternoon will put on that great favorite "Hello, Bill." This attraction visited Portland once before and was such a success that its return has often been requested.

"Across the Potomac."

"Across the Potomac," the great drama of the Civil War, will be presented next week by the Lyric Stock Company. Special preparations have been made for this pro-duction. It will be complete and worthy in every respect. Seat sale opens Sunday morning.

"Northern Lights."

Western plays are popular now and the Allen Stock Company will put on one of the best next week when at the Star Theater "Northern Lights" is produced. This is a play of soldiers, Indians, and secuts and in the background is the story of the famous Custer massacre.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

BUILDING TOWN AT JOSLYN

The Fowlers, greatest of head balancers, the Nonparell duo and numerous other clover performers contribute unusually good turns to the bill at Pantages this week. The moving picture drams is the thriller of the season. It pictures a stirring drama "The Montain Girl." who halts a gang of mount-ed lynchers and saves her lover from death at their hands.

Vaudeville Fentures.

This week the Grand has a vaudeville entertainment which is well balanced in all respects. There are no great headline acts which overshadow all other performers, but the bill is smooth, even and entertaining all the time. The Pendletons have one of those musical acts which bring down the house. The whole bill is good.

Petition Circulators Barred From Clerk's Office.

'THE FREE LANCE" A HIT BECAME A REAL NUISANCE

Bearers of petitions for the initiative and referendum met a sever shock yesterday forenoon when they found their way to the County Clerk's office barred by an order forbidding entrance. After hearing the thousandth complaint against these townships of peripheral years.

hearing the thousandth complaint against these tormentors of registered voters. County Clerk Fields Issued the edict that henceforth circulators of petitions stay on the outside.

From the standpoint of those at work setting names for the multifarious measures, the County Clerk's order is a creel one, much the same as if some cruel farmer should corrai a favorite fishing hole and forbid the fishermen access.

The County Clerk's office held no charm for the solicitors until the registration books opened two weeks ago. Then they found it a vertiable mine. Getting names at three cents apiece is slow work unless some such place as the registration desk can be found. Then the money comes fast. It got so a man had little difficulty registering, but endiess work in signing the different petitions presented. And there was no such thing as saying no and being freed from furthers.

presented. And there was no such thing as saying no and being freed from further molestation. If you showed no inclination to sign up, the solicitor wanted to argue the point with you.

During the first few days of the registration only a few knew of this favorite haunt of the festive voter but all the solicitors in Multnemah County were quickly onto the snap—and their number is second only to the number of voters, judging by the small army of them that has been infesting the Courthouse of late.

has been infesting the Courthouse of late.

When the army reported for its day's onsiaught on the registration crowds yesterday forenoon and was met with refusal to enter, there was some bitter talking and a few veiled threats, then the army deployed as skirmishers and fell upon the newly-registered voters as they left the Clerk's office.

rion County, was at the Perkins Hotel yesterday. Mr. Short is proprietor of the flouring mills and store at Monitor Mills, and told about a railroad enterprise financed by the Silverton Lumber Company, which is capitalized at $100,000. The road is now being constructed from Silverton northward up the right bank of Abiqua Creek, a distance of about 12 miles, and is designed to tap a fine body of timber, which Mr. Short's company has acquired, lying between Abiqua and Silver Creeks.

The company, of which J. D. Casey, of Hilgard, is president, and E. Cowof Idaho, is general manager, i said to have 200,000,000 feet of the finest yellow fir and larch to be found in the Willamette Valley. The mill is located at Silverton, and the road will be used to convey logs from the timber tract to the mill. Mr. Short said most of the lumber will be shipped to points east of Pertland, and that the company had secured the Portland rate east for its products.

Any man, woman or child in Portland who has $40 can purchase a lot in Rose City Park. FORTY DOLLARS. That's all it takes to swing one of these delightful residence locations. Before another cent is due, you may have had ample opportunity to sell this lot for half a hundred dollars more than you agreed to pay for it.

Here's the idea. You ride out to Rose City Park. You select your lot. You agree to pay $400 for it. The terms are 10 per cent for the first payment and 3 per cent of the purchase price every succeeding month until paid for. That means that your first payment is $40; it means that every month thereafter, you will be expected to pay $12.00.

But, the point is this. Long before your first monthly payment is due, you will have several opportunities to sell out at an advance of from $30 to $60, depending upon the kind of a selection you made in the first place. We make this statement because we know of several people who have turned over a net profit greater than the amount of their investment. If you hold on, you'll make more.

Talk about demand. There never was a subdivision opened up in the city of Portland that has created such a stir as Rose City Park. Come to our office today and look at the lots that have been crossed off the plat as sold. Call again tomorrow and look at the same map and you would not recognize it. It keeps. our salesmen hustling to keep their pocket plats marked up to date.

Now another word. What does $40 amount to? A heavy smoker will smoke eight cigars a day, costing him $40 in a little over a month. Many a man will spend half that amount in conviviality. Candy, gum and knickknacks all amount to several dollars a month. It is a fact that many a man, half of them, can easily cut down on their private expenses to such an extent as to buy two lots in Rose City Park and not be inconvenienced in the slightest. But, aside from economizing. There are hundreds of men and women in Portland who could purchase these lots without "cutting out" anything.

Think it over! Figure it over! You might just as well be making your share of the prosperity of Portland as your neighbor. Own property; buy it and sell it; invest your profits and the first thing you know, you will have a tidy fourtune. Are we right?
