TALKS FOR REFERENDUM—Eugene F. Palmer, a farmer of Lincoln County, and one of the leaders of the referendum move against the University of Oregon appropriation, arrived in Portland Monday and will be here several days feeling the public pulse. Mr. Palmer was given the opportunity of speaking on this subject before the Notts Progressive Club Monday night. He set forth the object by the Grangers. He declared the move was not against higher education, but rather in the interest of real education. Mr. Palmer said that only 15 of 1 per cent of the students of the public schools enter the colleges, and hence, he said, the public schools ought to be well supported. An appropriation of $25,000 annually for the State University was excessive at this time, he said, and demonstrated a spirit of extravagance in the use of public money that ought to be checked. Mr. Palmer said that the university would not be crippled, as it had $90,000 a year in any case. Mr. Palmer has some of the petitions with him, but whether they will be circulated in Multnomah County will depend on circumstances. Sentiment in this county seems to be decidedly against disturbing the University of Oregon appropriation.

NORTHWEST FURNITURE REVIEW IN OREGON—The Northwest Furniture Review made its initial bow to the public yesterday. On its title page appear the three Pacific Northwest cities—Portland, Tacoma and Seattle—as its sponsors. The new magazine is printed on heavy paper, illustrated with excellent half-tones and chock full of readable articles, interesting to the furniture trade and to furniture-buyers. The Review is to be devoted to the interests of the furniture trade in general, but the trade and manufacture of furniture in the Northwest in particular. It is the pioneer trade paper published on the Coast concerning this field, and its publishers—Vincent Merrick publishing Co.—deserve the success the magazine merits. The publishers are Portland newspaper men, who may confidently expect the hearty good will and best wishes of newspaper workers in newspaper and trade journal making.

THREE CRUISER IS ACCUSED—On a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, R. F. Loudon, a timber cruiser, was arrested by the police yesterday morning and was released on cash bail of $500, which he secured by making a trip to his safety-post box. A preliminary hearing in the Municipal Court, Lawyer John F. Logan is his counsel. A complaint was lodged against Loudon recently, and the police had been looking for him for several days. The charge against him is that he located Mrs. Mary S. Craig on a tract of land in the Santiam country, on which he is said to have represented there was valuable timber. She swears in her complaint that she paid him $100. She declares there was no timber, but much stone there.

FOREMAN PORTLAND MEETING—E. C. Kniermeyer, who built the City Market, at Third and Market streets, is now living in Milwaukee, Wis. In writing to Secretary Laborer of the Board of Trade, he announces that he has been elected assistant cashier of the Merchants' & Manufacturers' Bank of Milwaukee, a new concern, with $1,000,000 capital, which is to be increased to $2,000,000 in May. Mr. Kniermeyer, who lived in Portland for about a year, says: "I get reports from Portland quite frequently, and I am sure everything is gratifying. Portland has a good spot in my heart, and if I were to leave Milwaukee, Portland is the spot I would aim for."

LECTURE ON FORESTRY—E. P. Sheldon, who conducts a class in forestry at the Y. M. C. A., will deliver a lecture tonight at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on "The Forestry Movement in America." The address will be illustrated with stereoscopic views, and the public is invited. There will be no admission charge. Mr. Sheldon is secretary of the Oregon & Washington Lumber Manufacturers' Association, and is thoroughly informed on all subjects relating to forestry. He has given the subject a careful study for years. The address will mark the closing of the class work in the subject for the year.

ARRESTED AS WIFE-BEATER—Through the efforts of John Erickson, Emil Leep was arrested by the police at his home, 783 Tacoma street, yesterday afternoon and was lodged in the City Jail, charged with wife-beating. Erickson, who is a friend of the family, swore to the complaint in the Municipal Court. He said he was actuated by sympathy for the couple, especially for Mrs. Leep.

NOT GOING TO JAMESTOWN—A. DeCaprio, director of DeCaprio's Band, which filled an engagement at the Lewis and Clark Exposition, yesterday received a telegram from the officials of the Jamestown Exposition notifying him that the services of his organization had not been engaged for the fair at that place. Mr. DeCaprio, in seeking to contract the services of his band to the Jamestown Exposition management, was strongly indorsed by the late H. W. Goode, who was president of the Lewis and Clark Fair; by the Chamber of Commerce and prominent citizens. Mr. DeCaprio had received every assurance from the Jamestown Exposition management that a contract would be closed with him, but the failure of the Oregon Legislature to make an appropriation for an exhibit at the exposition from this state is presumed to have had a strong influence in causing the rejection of the application of the Oregon band leader.

VANCOUVER FILL WILL BE MADE—The fill on Vancouver avenue, between Broadway and Wheeler streets, will be made by the Pacific Bridge Company. Councilman Menefer, of the Ninth Ward, said yesterday that this improvement, which has long been delayed, will now be carried through. Vancouver avenue will be improved through to Russell street. From Russell to Albina it has already been improved. Vancouver avenue is still a country road north from Albina avenue, but the county has been improving that portion of the street. The improvement of Vancouver avenue has been delayed about ten years, mainly on account of this fill, for which a contract has just been let.

TRAFFIC ACROSS MONTGOMERY SLOUGH—Streets on the Lower Albina line are again being operated across Montgomery Slough, with a transfer of passengers. Car-traffic has been prevented for several months on account of the fill under way across this slough. The dump-trains from Mount Tabor were run to Lower Albina to fill up the center of the embankment, so the cars could run over it. These trains have resumed work on the East Oak-street fill, leaving the Montgomery embankment to be finished by the sub-contractors.

FORMER PORTLAND WOMAN DIES—Word was received last night of the death in Los Angeles yesterday of Mrs. Mary C. Schermerhorn, a former resident of Portland. South Portland Meeting Also Considers Things Political.

The meeting which was called last night for the purpose of reorganizing the South Portland Improvement Association, at Jones Hall, Front and Gibbs streets, developed largely into a political discussion, in which every speaker dealt with the issues of the campaign in the same breath that he voiced the sentiment of the association for paved streets, and the general commercial progress of South Portland.

Milton W. Smith acted as chairman of the meeting, and J. H. McDowan was secretary. A. M. Hines devoted considerable time to the bill that would repeal the 2-mill tax for bridge improvements, a matter for which the association is greatly interested. He said that he did not favor the free-water measure. He said he supported the improvement and progress of South Portland, and he would devote his time to doing all he could, but he did not favor a bill that would deprive the city of the 2-mill tax for bridge improvements.

Louis Zimmerman, Republican candidate for Mayor, answered an attack made on him by C. W. Leick, of the United States Engineering Department, in connection with the South Portland packing-house in which Zimmerman is interested.

Councilman Belding, of the Sixth Ward, spoke in behalf of a better water system, urged the people to rally to the support of that part of the city. He replied to attacks made on him in regard to street-improvements saying that he was doing all in his power to push the work in that line, but that he alone could not go faster than the rest, and that all he asked was a fair chance.

Z. H. Strode, ex-City Attorney, spoke on the needed improvements. He said he did not favor a free-water system, if it tended to injure other interests of the city.

E. B. Colwell, ex-Representative, pledged his support to the betterment of streets, building of bridges and sewers. He hoped that a reorganization might be effected to do better work. He also spent considerable time explaining his position on the free-water bill.

A committee was appointed to meet and outline a plan by which a strong reorganization can be effected. It consists of J. B. Labor, E. C. Felton and McGowan. A meeting of the committee will be held this afternoon at the office of Milton W. Smith. Secretary Laborer, of the Board of Trade, has been influential in bringing about the reorganization of the association. Another meeting will be held by the association next Tuesday night.

Carstensen, secretary; G. M. Orton, E. J. Hyland, A. G. Clark, Harry Gurr, Paul Otto, J. Seliger and L. Bruce. A. G. Clark will have full charge of the parade, as grand marshal.
