humanitarian. So says Samuel Kerr; in humanitarian. So says Samuel Kerr; in the light of his latest experiences in the field Mr. Kerr ought to know. In order to be a humanitarian with any degree of success it is necessary first to heard up a fortune like the Carnegie millions. Then your feelings will have some weight. Kerr has decided to retire, for the time being at least from all efforts in behalf of the roofly eause. of the goodly cause, of the goodly cause, Kerr saw a man beating a horse

Wednesday. The whipping was being administered by a horseshoer named Boyd, who has a blacksmith shop on North Fourth street. The animal had resented having iron shoes nalled to its hoofs and was being severely chastised with a rawhide when the humanitarian chanced was being severely chastised with a rawhide when the humanitarian chanced along and saw the inhumane exhibition.
Following a natural and laudable impulse, Kerr called on the horse-hoper to desist in his abuse of the horse. Boyd's response was far too terse and toe much to the point to bear reproduction.
"We'll see about this," said Kerr.
He called the police. Payrolmen Thorne

We is see about this, said Actr.
He called the police. Patroimen Thorpe and Annanson responded. The difficulty was explained to them.
"Move on, old fellow, and mind your own business," was the contribution made by the policemen to the cause.

Kerr felt he had been doubly humiliated. He flushed a scratch pad and pencil and proceeded to jot down the num-

Judge Cameron heard the facts in the case, for the police insisted on having kept form the court decided that the great men had been too imperious. He John great men had been too imperious. He said Kerr had done nothing wrong, had attempted to do right and that the case would be dismissed.

That will cost the Judge 12 years.

That will cost the Judge 12 votes at women were locked up in default of $350 ions afterwards. It may likewise influence a similar number of votes from those outside the de-partment who do not believe an $80 po-liceman should exercise the prerogatives of a mediaeval monarch. James Pagan is either a good speculator er a poor thief. The law is inclined to place him in the class last named. Fagan sold 150 pounds of copper wire at a junkshop, receiving 130 for it. About the same time a similar quantity of cop-per wire disappeared from a supply shed of the local streetcar company. The two incidents were connected by a private de-tective and Fagan was called on to ex-plain. He said he bought the wire for $15, knowing he could realize on the in-vestment. After holding it two days he sold at an increase of 100 per cent, which is a better showing than the average financier is able to make. While impressed with his ability as a speculator, the court was not impressed with his uch as Fagan had not yet atned to Wall street proportions he was ntenced to one year in the county jail.

John Jacobs called his offense socialism He was walking down the railroad track when he came upon four sucks of wheat which had fallen from an O. R. & N. train. There seemed to be no owner, the chickens at home were in need of wheat,

But there is nothing in the history of surgery to show that such a case may produce a fractured limb. Dillinger got his arm broken in a Sixth-street restaurant conducted by D. B. Leaming. He was finding fault with the food when the proprietor objected and a melee followed. The injured man swore in court yesterday forenoon that Leaming struck him with a club, causing the fracture. Leaming demied that such was the case. Dillinger said the only other way he could have sustained the injury was in the eating of his dinner, since he had taken no violent exercise in many days. Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from the grip is of its resulting in pneumonia. We have never known this to occur, however, when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used. It relieves the lungs, opens the secretions, allays the cough and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Millions of people have used it with the most satisfactory results. For sale by all druggists.

Judge Cameron will let the Circuit Court figure the thing out. He held Learning to the higher tribunal under a bond of $250. If Ah Hin, a Chinese gambler, was really writing a letter to his folks in Chinas, it was an expensive letter. Patrolman Anderson noted the beathen at work in a Second-street den. He thought Ah's symbolical penmanship looked like lottery tickets in the making. Ah Hin was arrested on a charge of having lottery tickets in his possession. They were offered in evidence in court yesterday morning and when the author insisted he had been writing home and nothing more, an interpreter was called in. He perused Ah Hin's communication and said it was lottery designs. Ah Hin paid $25. Old horses owned by the city are to be pensioned for life. This was brought out at a meeting of the Fire Board yesterday afternoon when Fire Chief Campbell was instructed by Mayor Lane to make arrangements for the care of three faithful fire horses who have become so old as to be of no use to the department. be of no use to the department.

The three horses are Colonel, Bob and Pete. Instead of being sold to a junk dealer or peddler, who might drive the poor animals until some day they would drop dead from exhaustion, the three horses are to spend the remainder of their days amid all the luxuries of equine life. All they will have to do will be to eat. sleep and sun themselves. In the Summer they will be turned loose on Ross Island, where there will be no one to bother where there will be no one to bother them. In the Winter the old veterans of the fire department will be fed and housed by some kind master, who will be paid by the City of Portland.

Yesterday, just at the close of the meet, ing of the Fire Board, Chief Campbell said he had something to present to the Board. There was a perceptible tinge of sadness or regret in his voice and Mayor Lane and several of the others instantly inquired what was the matter.

"Well," said the Chief, lingering over the words, "we have several horses in the department which are too old to work. I don't know what to do with them and I would hate to see them mistreated, as they have been with us a great many

"I wonder." mused the Mayor. "If we cannot create a sentiment to raise a fund to care for the old horses owned by the city. We must provide for them; they deserve it. I tell you what you do. (Thief, turn them out in the Summer and the city will pay for their care in the Winter. Have they been good horses?"

All Have Been Good Horses.

"Colonel, Bob and Pete have never given us any trouble and are as faithful as they make them. Really, Mayor, no better horses ever lived," was the reply. Chief Campbell went away as clatted as though good luck had come to him personally. It did not take him long to tell his subordinates of the disposition of the animals and all the firemen, who have known and loved the horses for years, were delighted.

Old Colonel, one of the horses, is some thing of a character. He has been in the department for more than a dozen years and not once during that time until reand not once during that time until re-cently did he ever miss a call, either from sickness, disablement or any other cause. He is an immense gray horse, with long white mane and tail. About a year ago an entertainment was given in the Marquam Grand for the Boys and Girls' Ald Society.

Marquam Grand for the Boys and Giris' Aid Society.

A man dressed up to represent Chief Campbell was supposed to present the horse to W. T. Shanahan, of the Humane Society, who was to see that he was given a good home. The scene was supposed to create a feeleing for aged animals. At that time old Colonel, who had been washed and his mare and tell braid. The notorious colored resert at 289 Flanders street is to be closed if Chief of Police Gritzmacher can accomplish the task, and the latest complaint against the place, together with evidence acquired by the police, is expected to furnish the basis been washed and his mane and tail braided, was led out upon the singe and the hundreds of children and others present cheered him to an echo.

Still Heeds Every Alarm. *

Since then the horse has been staying with Engine Company No. 10, but has not answered any alarms for months. #### GOLDFIELD A DEAD TOWN Industrial Workers Aggression Did It, Says Gold Camp Arrival.

"Business conditions in Goldfield are seriously paralyzed," said W. Curtice, who reached Portland yesterday from the Nevada gold district, "and the popula-tion of that once bustling mining town, estimated to have been fully 20,000 five weeks ago, does not now exceed 16,000. All this is the result of the agitation the Industrial Workers of the World, which reached a climax about March 15, when the mineowners closed down their plants and many of the business houses suspended business and discharged their employes. Ever since then inhabitants of the place have been leaving for other locations on every outgoing train.
"The Industrial Workers of the World who had been holding up men on the street and relleving them of their pocket-books and who was arrested after having first invaded Goldfield several months ago and thoroughly organized all of the different trades unions under that organization. Having done this, they insisted that the miners, who were affiliated with the Western Federation of Miners, should also become identified with the same central body. The inners were entirely satisfied with their satisfied with their wages and their hours of labor and were opposed to transferring their affiliation from the Western Federation of Miners to the Industrial Workers of the World. That was the only is-sue in the controversy.

"The mineowners took sides with their employes and on March 15 last closed wn their mines. Like action was taken roughout the gold district surrounding idfield and thousands of men were thrown out of work. Business men acted likewise and discharged all their employes who were members of the Industrial Workers of the World. This made it necessary to suspend business.

"But this concerted action on the part of the business men and the mineowners has falled to solve the problem. Conferences are beld at frequent Intervals, but the business and mining interests of the afflicted section have thus far been used. afflicted section have thus far been unarticled section have thus far been unable to reach any agreement with the labor organization. The outcome is hard to foretell, but I do not believe any settlement can be effected before next month, by which time I believe the situation will have reached a stage that will demand concessions, if not intervention, to restore normal conditions.

What the Press Agents Say.

"THE ADMIRABLE CRICHTON" Play at the Baker This Week Wins

Commendation From All. 'The Admirable Crichton' at the Baker this week is a most delightful comedy, and from the pen of J. M. Barrie. It is not likely there will be a better play seen in Portland this season. It is unusual, and to thoroughly appreciate it, one should be more or less up on class distinctions in England.

"Hello, Bill," at the Empire.

There are only three more chances left to laugh at the screaming comedy "Hello Bill" at the Empire, tenight, tomorrow matines and for the last time tomorrow night. The farce has a long record, and never falls to make people laugh. Don't fail to see "Helio Bill." Indians and soldlers in a fierce battle Tomorrow (Saturday) morning at 10 clock the advance seat sale will open for America's famous actor and comedian, Nat the doodwin, who comes to the Hellig The-ster next week, supported by Edna Good-rich and an excellent company of players. The opening bill Tuesday night, April 23, will be "An American Citizen"; Wednes-day afternoon, April 24, "When We Wers Twenty-one"; Wednesday night, "A Gilded Fool." These three society comedies have been Mr. Goodwin's greatest successes.

"The Prodigal Son," Next Week.

"The Prodigal Son," which will be the Baker company's play all next week, is one of Hail Calme's great successes, and tells a most interesting and absorbing story. Many have considered it superior to "The Christian" in many ways, though treating, as it does, of an entirely different theme.

Return Engagement "Mrs. Wiggs."

A special return engagement of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" will be given at the Heilig Theater, Fourteenth and Washington streets, next Thursday night, April 25. Seat sale opens next Tuesday, April 25, at box-office of Heilig Theater. A New Stock Company Next Week.

Varicoccie interferea with local circulation and the process of waste and repair throughout the organs involved. When neglected it brings total or partial loss of power and may even result in a wasting away of the organs themselves. I cure varicoccie in one week. My method is absolutely painless, no surgical operation is involved, and there need be no detention from business. The lost tone and elasticity is restored, the weakened and dilated veins vanish and normal circulation and health are again established. So-Called Weakness

Perhaps to a most prevalent of all allments peculiar to men, yields readily to the mild methods of treatment I employ.

"Weakness" is merely a sympton of local disorder, usually an inflamed condition of the prostate gland. This I overcome by a thoroughly actentific system of local treatment, and the full and normal degree of strength and vigor is permanently restored. Every case of contracted disease I treat is thoroughly cured; my patients have no relapse. When I pronounce a case cured there is not a particle of infection or infammation remaining and there is not the slightest danger that the disease will return in its original form, or work its way into the general system. No contracted disorder is so trivial as to warrant uncertain methods of treatment and I especially solicit those cases that other doctors have been unable to cure.

Specific Blood Poison
Until the perfection of my system of treatment, specific blood poison (commonly known as syphilis) was regarded as incurable, and the limit of medical aid was to keep the disease dormant by the use of atrong mineral drugs.
