PRESBYTERIAN MISSION BOARD ENDS 1907 SESSION.

Elects Mrs. W. S. Ladd President, Miss Julia Frazer Tells of Mission Work.

The Woman's North Pacific Presbyterian Board of Missions held the second and last day's session of its annual meeting yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church. The morning meeting was opened with a devotional service, led by Mrs. Gertrude H. Wylie, of Whitman College. Reports of the traveling libraries and literature departments were read by Mrs. M. R. Andrews and Mrs. E. C. Protzman. During the year the receipts of the depository were $9835. Gifts of mission books to the value of $375 were reported sent to Alaska. Memorial tributes to the memory of the late Mrs. J. M. Wilson, of Seattle and Mrs. J. G. Wilson, of Portland, were read by Mrs. Steele and Mrs. Milligan. Miss Helen Clark, a teacher at the Noah Bay Indian Mission, gave an interesting account of the mixed origin of these Indians.

Portland was chosen for the next annual meeting. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. W. S. Ladd; associate president, Mrs. E. P. Mossman; vice-presidents, Mrs. M. R. Andrews, Mrs. Wolverton, Mrs. Lockwood, Mrs. J. S. Bradley, Mrs. W. H. Poulkes, Mrs. E. T. Tallen, Mrs. Steele, Mrs. Hasted, Mrs. Hench, Mrs. Corditt, recording secretary, Mrs. H. C. Campbell; treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Goss; missionary corresponding secretary, Miss Caroline Strong; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. V. Milligan; Junior and Senior Y. P. S. C. E. secretary, Miss Mary McGaw; box secretary, Mrs. J. W. Honeyman; auditor, W. R. MacKenzie.

At the afternoon session Miss Julia Frazer told of the home mission work and of its execution. She said in part: "The home missionary work on the frontiers of our country was for 75 years sustained by the Board of Home Missions. As the need of influences to uplift and educate the foreigners of different classes on our borders was seen it was decided that the women and young people, with the co-operation of the Sunday school of the church, could do this work much better than could the Board of Home Missions. We first undertook the work among the Mormons, Indians, Mexicans and Scotch-Irish in the mountain regions of the Southern. Soon after we began a work for the negroes of the South. Miss Lucy Laney, a colored teacher of the South, is obtaining as remarkable results from her work as Booker T. Washington has gotten.

The women of the Presbyterian Church support schools for the education of foreigners from Point Barrow, Alaska, the most northern mission station in the world, to Ponce, Porto Rico, on the south. Among these are schools for the education of the Russians, Bohemians, Italian and other immigrants who come to our shores."

Giving Away "Unearned" Income. CHICAGO, April 18.—J. G. Phelps Stokes, of New York, Socialist and settlement-house worker, denied last night that he was a millionaire, and said that his highest ambition was to be a consistent Socialist and remain a member of the "working class."

In demonstration of this and in order to prove his sincerity, Mr. Stokes announced that for a year he had not used any of the income due him from the few thousand dollars his father had left him, but had devoted and would continue to devote it all to the Socialist propaganda.

BE LOYAL TO UNIVERSITY

Mrs. Durkheimer Makes Plea for Grangers' Cordial Support.

PORTLAND, April 18.—(To the Editor.)—Why should not we Oregonians be loyal to our State University? Why should we not do everything in our power to raise the standard of our highest institution of learning equal to that of the Eastern States? It is true enough that we are not so fortunate as some of our "sister states," whose institutions have been liberally endowed in order that young men and women may have every advantage to fit themselves for whatever vocation or profession they wish to follow. While we cannot expect to rival with these places of learning on account of a scarcity of funds, it is certainly a necessity for the state to give the growing generation the very best of training, just like the state which has already sent abroad from its university men and women who have won high honors for their "Alma Mater" and the state can continue to do so.

In the Senate, Congress, medicine and in many, many instances students, alumni of the University, have been and continue to be in the front rank, thanks to the college and to the able corps of instructors who are uniting in fitting students for their various duties.

Having been a resident of Eugene for some years, being personally acquainted with the University, and having seen and heard of the proud of such an excellent institution of learning, and nothing ought to be placed in the road to retard the progress which the University is making. The Grangers must remember that their sons and daughters are just as welcome at this school and receive the very best of training, just like the sons and daughters from the city. Why then be so opposed to the appropriation? We cannot expect one single individual to put up funds for the education of thousands upon thousands of people. But if all persons in the state put up their little mite, they would not only do themselves everlasting good, but future generations.

Therefore I think that the farmer as well as the city man should look at this in the proper light and give our loyal institution their loyal support.

MRS. RAM DURKHEIMER.

University Appropriation.

PORTLAND, April 18.—(To the Editor.)—There is a difference of opinion in regard to the total amount appropriated by the Legislature for the University of Oregon. In other words does the university receive, under the present arrangements, the $125,000 and the former appropriation as well?

The bill passed by the recent Legislature amends the former law and substitutes $125,000 for $47,500 as the standing appropriation. But the new appropriation is for both maintenance and improvements, while the $47,500 was for maintenance only.

REAPPOINTED REGENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF OREGON.

Mr. Friendly, of Eugene. EUGENE, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—Much satisfaction is expressed here because of the reappointment of S. H. Friendly as a regent of the University of Oregon. Mr. Friendly has served as a regent since 1893, and has been one of the most useful and influential members of the board. He has been a member of the executive committee, for several years and closely identified with the administration work of the University.

Mr. Friendly settled in Eugene in the early '60s and has been identified with the industrial and political life of this part of the state. He is one of Eugene's foremost citizens and is a liberal, broad-minded man. His appointment as regent holds until 1919.

of a visit to the country of his nativity after an absence of 23 years. Mr. Gibbs was in Portland yesterday on his way to San Francisco, where he has relatives. This American citizen, raised and educated in Japan, may return to Yokohama, where he has business interests, although he said yesterday that he dared not remain for any great length of time in the Rose City or he would lose all desire to return to the land he has learned to know as his home.

Mr. Gibbs was educated at Tokio College and had mastered the language of the Land of the Rising Sun almost before he had learned the rudiments of his native tongue. Six years ago he went to Honolulu, intending to locate, but was soon called back to Yokohama by the death of his father. He was representative of an American firm that handled bicycles and automobiles when

TWO INSTANCES OF CAPITALISTS LOOKING TO OREGON.

Syndicate Wants Irrigation Scheme. Wisconsin Man Ready to Buy Into Some Established Business.

Opportunities in Oregon for Eastern investments are being looked into by capitalists, showing the results coming from the systematic advertising that has been and is being carried on by the commercial bodies of Portland. Two instances will illustrate the nature of inquiries made personally and by letter every day.

The Chamber of Commerce has a proposition from an Eastern syndicate of capitalists asking for a suggestion for investment in a private irrigation system in Oregon. The Chamber has information which Secretary Giltner says is satisfactory to establish the responsibility of the syndicate, and a representative of the company has taken up the matter with the Chamber in a way that would indicate its desire to enter into an extensive project. Communications addressed to the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce from any section of the state with reference to this proposal will receive attention.

W. B. Medary, of LaCrosse, Wis., is in Portland with the object in view of locating in a manufacturing or jobbing business. The nature of the business depends on what offers as an investment. Mr. Medary says he would prefer to go into some business already established and enlarge, rather than start up an entirely new concern.

Mr. Medary has conferred with the Chamber of Commerce, and in case any Portland concern that contemplates an extension of its manufacturing plant will communicate with the Chamber, an interview will be arranged.

Portland and Oregon are to be made subjects of an illustrated lecture in the East. Rev. Curtis Lee Laws, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Baltimore, has written to Portland asking for information concerning stereopticon slides illustrative of the beauty and commercial progress of the city and state. He states that he will be one of a large party from the East that will visit the Coast during the summer and will then obtain facts upon which to build up his lecture.

JAILED FOR CARRYING GUNS

Police Start Crusade Against Men With Concealed Weapons.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The crusade against carrying concealed weapons that was begun after the murder of two policemen Sunday is going steadily forward. Today the grand jury in considering 50 cases of prisoners, Italians and others, who have been sent up by the magistrates since Monday morning. The Tombs is full of prisoners.

It is asserted that most of the offenders who were arrested for carrying assorted weapons and who are called Italians, are really Sicilians.

Coroner Acitelli has received a long letter signed by some 300 Italian women. The letter states in picturesque language that Italians do not want to be shoudered with the odium attaching to them because of Sunday's shooting, which they say was really done by Sicilians. The magistrates are holding for trial

BRISTOL SUBPENAS FIRST

Holds Neuhausen Here for Approaching Land Fraud Trials.

Among the witnesses from Oregon subpoenaed to Washington, in connection with the Hyde-Benson-Diamond land fraud cases, which are to go to trial as soon as the Hermann trial ends, was T. B. Neuhausen, special inspector of the Interior Department, who has been in charge of the land fraud investigations in Oregon for the past two years. Inspector Neuhausen will not, however, be one of the star witnesses in this case, for before the subpoena from Washington was served, United States Attorney W. C. Bristol served Neuhausen with a subpoena that will keep him in Oregon until the work of the Federal grand jury that will be sworn in this morning at 10 o'clock gets through.

Perhaps outside of Francis J. Heney, who has long been camping on the trail of the giant California and Oregon land-fraud sharks, Mr. Neuhausen is said to know more about their crooked dealings than any other man connected with the case. He may be badly needed at Washington, but Mr. Bristol feels that without Neuhausen here in Portland just at this time, prosecution of the land cases to be brought before the grand jury would be seriously handicapped. That is why for the first time since he has been connected with Oregon land-fraud work that Neuhausen has had a subpoena handed him.

OREGON GIRLS, BLESS 'EM

Youth's Sentiment About Pilgrims' Jamestown Trip.

PORTLAND, April 18.—(To the Editor.)—In a discussion of the Jamestown Expedition and the part the West will play in it, the question is raised why this band of Oregon girls desire to masquerade in squaw blankets? Is it because they think it will be perfectly charming? Surely they do not wish to give Easterners the impression that the West is a wild country—yet to be tamed? It puzzles me to know just how these girls will enter Jamestown to attract the most attention. Will they swoop down upon the town with a blood-curdling war-whoop? Or will they march stolidly behind their chief, with determination written in the very tread of their moccasined feet? If it is the idea to attract attention to our state, why not go to the nearest reservation for 20 or 30 of the most buxom-looking squaws and send them? The real thing is far better than the imitation. Girls never appear so well when trying to imitate someone else, nor yet so pretty as when they are their own sweet selves. I am very proud of our state and wish to always show it at its best advantage. When could we do this better than now, while delightful memories of the Lewis and Clark Expedition are still fresh in the minds of those Easterners? And whom could we find better to do it than Oregon's fair daughters of today? For who represents the social and home life of our women, and what is more eloquent of civilization and progress than the refined and cultured home? More responsibility rests upon the dairy shoulders of these girls than they imagine. Therefore, let them not hide their light under a bushel, but each one individually appear at her best. No girl can afford to do otherwise, and dress as we love to see our mothers and sisters dress. Then, indeed, will they represent our Oregon in all that is truest and best, and we boys will be so proud of them that we will lose our hats up in the air and yell: "Three cheers for our Oregon girls—God bless 'em!" R. R. HOLLINGSWORTH.
