

EDITOR MCMANUS PLACED ON TRIAL

Legal Battle to Save His Life Will Be Hard Fought on Both Sides.

KILLED MAN IN A SALOON

Shot Bob Estes, Gambler, While on Protracted Spree—Wife Sits by His Side While Jurors Are Examined.

PENDLETON, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—John P. McManus, editor of the Pendleton Rock Record, and one of the well-known newspaper men of the state, was today placed on trial for murder in the first degree, for the shooting of Bob Estes, a professional gambler, in a saloon in this city, the afternoon of February 5.

This promises to be one of the hardest-fought murder trials in the history of the county, and as the result of the entire day's session only four jurors have been selected. It is practically conceded by all interested that the remaining two days of the week will be sufficient to secure the other eight men.

Mrs. McManus was in court throughout the entire day, occupying a seat by the side of her husband, and presenting a picture of love and devotion which spectators declare will have great effect upon the jury.

Twenty-two men were examined today, most of whom lived in the vicinity of this city, and were therefore familiar with all of the facts in the case and had formed opinions or were biased. There was also an evident desire on the part of some to engage serving on the jury, by the readiness with which they admitted that they could not try the case fairly and impartially.

District Attorney Phelps is being assisted in the prosecution by Judge Sam White, of Baker City, while McManus is being defended by Judge Fee and Colonel J. H. Raley. The jury men were given a most thorough examination, but not the slightest intimation was given by the questions asked as to what would be the line of defense, and it is still a matter of speculation. The questions asked refer to church and lodge affiliations, gambling and saloon business, and whether married or single. The only husband examined was peremptorily challenged.

It will be remembered that McManus was intoxicated at the time he shot Estes, and the question raised then as to whether or not he killed the man, as his attorney has never been settled, as his attorneys refused to allow him to talk.

REFUSE REQUEST OF MILLMEN

Loggers Will Not Accept Reduction in Price.

ABERDEEN, Wash., April 18.—(Special.)—Members of the Gray's Harbor Loggers' Association have considered a suggestion from millmen for a reduction in the price of No. 1 merchantable logs, for which $11 has been received for some time. The loggers decided not to make another advance without first giving a 30 days' notice.

Build Terminals at Oakland.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—The Western Pacific Railroad has decided to commence immediately the construction of its trans-bay terminal along the north-south wall of the bay, and the construction of this work will involve the filling in of a mole 1000 feet in width and between 400 and 1000 feet in length. The construction of the mole, together with the erection of a modern depot building and slip approaches at its western end, will take about 18 or 20 months and involve a financial outlay of something like $2,000,000. The company is bending its every energy to complete its main line between Oakland and Salt Lake City by the end of September, 1908.

FISH EXPERTS WILL GO UP

The ship Savia has been chartered by the Whatcom County Lumber Company to carry box shooks to Alaska. The bark James Kosmich has been chartered by the Mission Mill Company for the lumber trade between Bellingham and Alaska. The vessel is now en route from San Francisco.

Adopt Interstate Regulations.

SALEM, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—With the exception that the period of posting notices is fixed at ten days instead of 30, the Railroad Commission has adopted the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission, regulating the serving of notices upon the commission and posting of same in the waiting-rooms of railway stations when it is proposed to make a change in the regular schedule of rates, mileage, computation, party, excursion and round-trip rates. Notice of the adoption of this rule was forwarded by all railroad companies in the state today.

ASTORIA, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—John Nordstrom has resigned as manager of the City Lumber & Box Company, on account of ill health, and Herman Erael, formerly secretary of the Clatsop Mill Company, has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

Wings Wife, Not the Hawk.

LEBANON, Or., April 18.—Mrs. W. L.

Burton, who lives near Waterloo in this county, was seriously shot yesterday afternoon in her left arm. Her husband was out after a chicken hawk when the 20.36 rifle he was carrying was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck a stone, glanced, struck Mrs. Burton in the arm near the elbow and ranged upward and lodged near the shoulder, where it was cut out by the attending physician. The arm was not broken and can be saved.

HITS HIM WITH IRON BAR

In Quarrel One Man Deals Another Perhaps Fatal Blow.

BAKER CITY, Or., April 18.—Nat Hall, blacksmith at the Indiana mine, resident of this city and county for 30 years, and a man of excellent character, gave bonds tonight in the sum of $2000 on a charge of assault on Isaac Edland, a miner, with whom he has a quarrel over some drill machinery. In the heat of passion, Hall hit Edland in the temple with a hot bar of iron last evening. Edland was brought to the hospital here today, and it is said it is not likely he will live until morning. The scene in the assault in Union County, 20 miles from here. Hall's preliminary hearing will be held before the Justice of the Peace at Medical Springs, Saturday.

PROBING IDAHO LAND FRAUDS

Secret Service Agent Reaches Lewiston—Denies Postponement.

LEWISTON, Idaho, April 18.—(Special.)—Secret Service Agent J. Eberstein, of Washington, D. C., arrived in this city this afternoon from Boise for the purpose of putting the finishing touches to the North Idaho land fraud cases, which come up for trial next month at Moscow.

He denied the assertions of the defendants that the cases would not be tried because Senator Borah is now under indictment, and chief of counsel for the Lewiston indicted bankers, could not appear for them, because he would be mixed up with the dynamite case. He said he guessed Federal prosecutions are more important than state cases.

DEAD OF THE NORTHWEST

J. M. Atkinson, Prominent Dairyman in Newberg District.

NEWBERG, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—J. M. Atkinson, a prominent dairyman and breeder of Jersey cattle, died at his home near Newberg yesterday of pneumonia, after an illness lasting a week. He, with his brother, Samuel Atkinson, have in the last ten years built up a profitable business and with the assistance of the various fairs have made a wide acquaintance with the prominent stockmen of Oregon and Washington. J. M. Atkinson was well known in the public, and his loss will be severely felt by those who are interested in building up the farm, dairy and stock interests of the Northwest. Deceased was about 60 years of age. He leaves a wife and two children.

PEOPLE TO ENACT LAWS

TWO MEASURES COMING UP BY THE INITIATIVE.

Huntley's Corrupt Practice Election Measure and Bingham Tax Commission to Be Voted On.

SALEM, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—W. S. U'ren, of Oregon City, was in Salem for a few hours today looking up some tax matters, and, incidentally, some details pertaining to the operation of the initiative and referendum laws. Mr. U'ren says he is not personally interested in any of the movements to invoke the initiative at the coming election, but says that he is anxious to refer the Huntley corrupt-practice election bill, which was defeated in the House, and the Bingham tax commission bill, which passed the House but was not in the Senate during the last session, to a vote of the people, and, judging from the nature of the comment he hears, they will both be adopted.

INDIANS TO BUILD A CHURCH

Result of Shaker Meeting Among Quinault Tribe, Fund is Pledged.

HOQUIAM, Wash., April 18.—(Special.)—Owing to the success of a "Shaker" meeting held by the Indians here last week, the members today raised among the tribe $100, to be used for the construction of a house of worship. All the Indians in this locality now belong to the sect, and are anxious to get a church built. During the erection of the building the Indians will feast, and after its completion the church will be dedicated with a big meeting.

Opposition Based on Politics.

OLEX, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—On account of the rumor that a large majority of the people in this county are opposed to the new judicial district, the business men of this place have been circulating petitions here, remonstrating against the referendum movement. These petitions have been signed by a very large portion of the voters. The new bill is recognized by nearly everyone as being necessary and highly beneficial to all of the counties of the new district, and the feeling is prevalent here that the opposition is caused entirely by persons having political ends to serve.

Placing Wires Underground.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 18.—(Special.)—The Home Telephone Company has commenced the work of placing its wires underground, and starting yesterday at the south end of Main street. The improvement will be rushed to completion as fast as possible. The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company will also place its wires underground on Main street as soon as practicable.

A Word of Approval.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 18.—(To the Editor.)—Let me congratulate you on your editorial of Monday on "Bringing the Law Into Contempt," and in Wednesday's "The Courts and the Press." I have been a reader of the Oregonian for years, and those articles strike me as the most suitable I have read. Perhaps the judges after awhile may tumble to what they are supposed to be for.

WILL TAKE TOGA IF IN HIS REACH

Congressman Jones Is Found Flirting With Senatorial Aspirations.

BUT IS AFRAID TO LET GO

Wants to Be Sure of Job in Lower House Before He Burns Bridge on His Way to the Millionaires' Club.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 18.—Congressman W. L. Jones is afraid. That is the real Senatorial situation insofar as it affects the Yakima Congressman. If he could be shown that he could retain his place in the lower House so long as he wants it he would keep the job he possesses at present. If he should see a possibility to defeat a Congressional committee floating by, and a probability as Senatorial selection at hand, he would come out boldly as a candidate to succeed Senator Ankeny.

That is the real situation insofar as Congressman Jones is concerned. As the Congressional cards read, Mr. Jones is entitled to pretty much anything he wants in the lower House. He is now so high on the rivers and harbors committee that even a Democratic landslide could not displace him. He has a standing that the party leaders are compelled to recognize, and if he should enter his head to demand a berth on the ways and means, appropriations or judiciary committees the next Speaker of the House would have to provide it for him. That is an unwritten law that would be hard to break.

But Congressman Jones has been sitting up of nights figuring where he can get something better. If Congressman Cushman, for example, wants the place on the ways and means committee, Jones will give way to him. Cushman is one of those superlatives that have to be taken care of, and Jones is willing that he should be placed. If a revision of the tariff should be ordered by the next Congress a place on the ways and means committee would be a desirable one in the Northwest, for it could guarantee protection to Northwestern industries, products and outputs. If the tariff, however, goes over, the place is not worth considering.

Jones could become a National figure, but if he does some one from the Coast country has to sit back and watch him grow. He is ambitious but Jones does not want to shove any one aside for his own advancement and he is willing to give way if he could be protected.

Ever since the day that Foster went into the Senate, Jones has been tied up with the Senators. He associated intimately with the Senators, and wherever an appointment affected Congressional interests, and he is so thoroughly associated with Ankeny that he admits an alliance with the Walla Walla man. Jones is the only Washington Congressman who has not quarreled with the Senators, and in the Senatorial light that is coming this looks up like a handicap.

If Jones had cultivated a life-sized quarrel with the Senatorial delegation he would have been not only a Senator in 1904. He could have been chosen in that year and avoided many of the problems that have come up since. It might have been a political mistake, but it is no question but that he felt that way six months ago.

Congressional division has made it necessary for Jones to go out and fight his way back into the lower house next year. He figures and his friends figure he will have to fight a Spokane choice for the place he now occupies. They believe Spokane will unite upon a candidate and that Spokane will exert all the commercial, political and social influence that the Falls City has to name the successor to Jones. The record of the Yakima Congressman that might count in a canvass in which the state at large is involved is not figured as of much importance in a local campaign. And that is what makes Jones regard the Senatorship seriously.

MANY WERE FRIGHTENED

SWARMS OF HUMANITY VISIT COOPER IN ST. LOUIS.

Mound City Is Now Intensely Interested in Young Man and His Medicine.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—In view of the enormous sales of Cooper's preparations now going on in this city and the intense interest which Mr. Cooper has stirred up since his arrival, a representative of the Globe-Democrat spent the afternoon at the young man's headquarters, watching the swarms of humanity come and go.

During the afternoon the reporter interviewed many of the callers and obtained statements from all who cared to give them as to their experiences with Cooper and his preparations. The following are selected from those statements as being typical of the general expression of the people seen: Mr. W. T. Bray, living at 1123 Annette St., when interviewed, stated: "I had suffered for years with stomach, liver and kidney trouble, seven years in fact. Had tried many remedies, but obtained no help from any medicine I took. I bought one bottle of the New Discovery medicine and one of the Quick Relief. After using them one week, I felt so wonderfully improved I can hardly believe it possible. I am very grateful to Mr. Cooper. He has a wonderful medicine."

Another caller was Mrs. Clara Toole, living at 1610 Locust St. She said: "I had suffered with stomach trouble for several years and was so bad the last year I could not eat anything at all. I could not digest my food and had no periods of sleep. Most of the time I did not sleep well and had severe headaches at times. I bought one bottle of the New Discovery medicine and one of the Quick Relief. After using them one week, I felt so wonderfully improved I can hardly believe it possible. I am very grateful to Mr. Cooper. He has a wonderful medicine."

Mr. A. Taylor, of 423 Finney Ave., said: "I have been suffering with severe stomach trouble for several years and was so bad the last year I could not eat anything at all. I could not digest my food and had no periods of sleep. Most of the time I did not sleep well and had severe headaches at times. I bought one bottle of the New Discovery medicine and one of the Quick Relief. After using them one week, I felt so wonderfully improved I can hardly believe it possible. I am very grateful to Mr. Cooper. He has a wonderful medicine."

Mr. S. P. Hitchings, living at 245 Franklin Ave., made the following statement: "I have suffered with rheumatism for 30 years. I was stiff in all my joints so much that I could not walk. I bought one bottle of the New Discovery medicine and one of the Quick Relief. After using them one week, I felt so wonderfully improved I can hardly believe it possible. I am very grateful to Mr. Cooper. He has a wonderful medicine."

Amelia Leonard, living at 1530 Salisbury St., said: "I have suffered for the past ten years with rheumatism, sciatica, stiffness and kidney trouble. I have been treated by a number of physicians and to sit back and watch me grow. He is ambitious but Jones does not want to shove any one aside for his own advancement and he is willing to give way if he could be protected."

In spite of assertions made by various physicians that Cooper is a fad, who will pass away as a passing fancy, he is gaining even greater headway as his visit draws to a close. It is estimated that over a thousand people called on him yesterday.

CAROLINA DETECTIVE MAKES ARREST IN BELLINGHAM.

W. H. Perry, Wanted in Connection With Burglary and Murder, Is Taken Into Custody.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., April 18.—Caught in the act of burglarizing the home of L. L. Booser, a wealthy business man of Chester, Chester County, South Carolina, W. H. Perry, according to the charges made by detective William Hanks, who has been following him for the last six weeks, shot and killed the owner of the house in order to prevent being captured. Perry, who has been following the name of Harry Livingstone, was captured in Deming the early part of this week and is now a prisoner in the Whatcom County Jail. His photograph has been sent to the Sheriff of Chester County, South Carolina, and it is proved that he is the man wanted he will be taken back to the scene of his alleged crime.

William Hanks, the detective who has been tireless in running down the supposed fugitive, tonight told the story of the killing of Booser. He is confident that the man now held in the County Jail is the man wanted for the murder in South Carolina.

About March 1, 1906, according to the story told by Hanks, Booser, the Chester merchant, was awakened in the early hours of the morning by hearing strange noises in the house. He investigated and caught the burglar in the act of getting away with some valuables. The stranger drew a revolver on being discovered and shot and killed the owner of the house in cold blood. His escape was made before assistance arrived.

Suspicion at that time was directed to William H. Perry. After weeks of diligent work, Hanks found the trail of the fugitive. That was six months ago, and since that time the detective has been following his man about the country from place to place, the chase finally ending in Deming this week. Perry crossed the border line into Canada through Grand Forks, N. D., and then traveled slowly westward until he reached the Pacific Coast. About a month ago he was located in Deming, claiming to be a painter by trade. He secured temporary work in a sawmill and did house painting for Deming residents.

Detective Hanks states that Perry, or Livingston, as he is better known in this vicinity, was at one time an acrobat. He has had tattooed a livid colored snake that encircles his neck. Other pictures in ink were also tattooed into his forearms. One of the marks by which the sleuth hoped to locate his man was a letter "B" tattooed on one of the arms. Hanks now believes that other objects have been previously on the man's arms since to cover up the tell-tale mark.

When you buy Lard you get more than you bargain for. It's heavier in your stomach than on the scales. Lard is a foe to digestion. If you had the stomach of an ostrich you could hardly withstand the ravages of lard-soaked pastry. You have probably found this out and already given up the eating of pastry. 'Tis wholly unnecessary! Anyone can eat and digest food cooked with Cottolene, the perfect shortening. It is a pure vegetable product, made from the best beef suet and choicest vegetable oil. It is neutral in taste and odor. Cottolene is never sold in bulk. It is put up in carefully sealed tin pails. When you buy lard you have no protection as to quality—you simply know you are getting LARD—never mind the grade, it's just L-A-R-D. On the other hand, every pail of Cottolene is uniform—the product is guaranteed. You take no chances whatever. In the face of these facts just ask yourself if you can afford to use hog lard when you can get pure, healthful, nutritious Cottolene. COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE. "Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2c stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago. A NEW FEATURE—The pail is light top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.
