BOOST ICE PRICES

Portland Manufacturers Form Distributing Agency.

SAY IT IS NOT A TRUST

But It Will Cost 40 Per Cent More to Keep Cool This Summer—The Higher Cost of Production Is the Excuse for the Raise.

Portland people may keep cool this summer, but it will be an expensive luxury. The ice they use will cost them just 30 per cent more than it did last year. The reason for all this is the formation of an ice combine, which has fixed prices for which its product will be sold. Housekeepers who last year paid 50 cents a hundred pounds for ice will this year be required to pay 70 cents, while the price to saloon and restaurant men and other large consumers will be 80 cents a hundred, instead of 50, as last Summer. The new rates go into effect this morning.

This advance in the price of ice may be traced to an arrangement that has been effected by the three ice-producing plants of this city with the Ice Delivery Company. The companies interested are the Crystal Ice & Storage Company, Portland Artificial Ice Company and the Independent Coal & Ice Company.

"The ice manufacturers of Portland have not formed a trust," said O. M. Rankin, manager of the Independent Coal & Ice Company, yesterday. "We have merely established a collecting and distributing agency for the more economical delivery of ice throughout the city. Every system of manufacturing ice now than it once did, and delivery has become one of the principal expenses. Instead of each company maintaining its own delivery system, the ice from all three plants will now be distributed through this Ice Delivery Company. The slight advance in prices has nothing to do with this arrangement. The rates last Summer were decidedly low, and the prices we have announced for the coming season are no higher than have been paid in Portland in former years. They are justified by the increase in the cost of manufacturing."

The combined output of the three ice plants in this city is 15 tons daily. The supply is entirely adequate for the needs of the city, and last year dealers shipped 40 tons daily to relieve the ice famine at Seattle. There is no danger of a shortage in the supply this season, allowing for large shipments to outside points, since the plants now have on hand storage reservations, which have accumulated during the Winter months, amounting to more than 1000 tons. During the Winter the uniform price of 50 cents a hundred was maintained for all consumers. The consumption of ice in the Winter in this city does not exceed 40 tons a day for all purposes.

Committed to the Asylum.
VANCOUVER, Wash., April 29.—(Special.)—The insane patient who gave his name as John Tate was examined today by Drs. During the examination it developed that he was traveling under an assumed name, his real name being John Morrison.

CLAIMS A NEGRO'S ESTATE

WHITE WOMAN SUES ADMINISTRATOR OF BEN PRATT.

Says She Was Engaged to Hotel Porter and Allowed Him to Bank Her Savings.

A bitter contest is on between Ben Pratt, father of the late Ben Pratt, Jr., colored, and Etta Montgomery, a white woman, who declares that for five years she was engaged to marry the younger Pratt, who was employed as a porter at the Hotel Portland until his death, January 28. She says they were to have been married in February. She swears that she is entitled to $1500 out of about $4000, on deposit in local banks in the name of the dead man. She swears that for five years she gave all her savings to him. She also says she thought he was banking the money in her name. Five lawyers are engaged in the contest, which comes up next Saturday morning before County Judge Webster. Edward W. Rutherford is administrator of the estate. He is represented by Attorney McCants Stewart. The father, Ben Pratt, who lives at Sumner, S. C., was originally represented by ex-United States Senator John M. Gearin, but now he is also represented by W. A. Andrews, colored, a lawyer of his home town. The latter reached Portland Monday night and is engaged in looking into the case, preparatory to the hearing Saturday. Miss Montgomery is represented by McMahon & McDevitt. Lawyer Stewart says that Miss Montgomery is entitled to her money, and says he believes she tells nothing but the truth. Ben Pratt was a popular porter at the Splendid Exhibit of Paintings, Antiques and Jewels.

ART TREASURES ON SHOW

A distinct epoch in the history of Portland's movement toward a better appreciation of art and its related interests is marked by the Arts and Crafts exhibit which opened at the Museum of Art yesterday. The interest that is manifested in the affair is most reassuring to those who have devoted their efforts to it. Yesterday's exhibition was large and representative and the showing of antiques and art treasures was such, that those who attended were amazed and delighted that so creditable an exhibit could be arranged in so brief a time and with so little trouble. Few cities in the country could boast a finer showing, and every Portlander should feel gratified. The exhibit will continue for several days and it is hoped by those who have been active in arranging it that as many as possible will take advantage of this opportunity to study the various branches of arts and crafts represented. It is eminently an educational event which should prove of lasting benefit to the community and contribute toward elevating the standard of the city's culture.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Hugh Hume an exhibition of painting by American artists is also on display. Mrs. Hume is a sister of George H. Forrest Brush, who has but one picture on exhibition, but characteristic of his work, it is marked by refinement and distinction. He has termed it "Crossing the Plains," and it is artistically atmospheric, the sky being of an unusually deep azure that lends a striking background for the majestically silent figure of the Indian chief. The exhibition is to be thrown open for a fortnight and will be of special interest to all lovers of the picturesque. A group of art two artists of note, who are at present visiting here, are Miss Lillie V. O'Ryan, the originator of the Janice Merdith, and Putnam the sculptor.

Kellaher Rally in Alisky Hall.

A rally for Dan Kellaher, candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor was held at Alisky hall last night, and proved an enthusiastic affair. Jay Upton presided. The meeting was largely attended by retail and wholesale merchants as well as by friends of the candidate. Mr. Kellaher made a short address. Reports were heard from each precinct in the city, and they were all encouraging. The Kellaher forces have a strong organization, and have representatives at work in every precinct. Plans were laid for getting more active workers in the field. Radway's Pills regulate all the internal organs. Cure all female irregularities. The healing household remedy, Sateen skin cream, should always be handy. 22c.
