

EAST SIDE STIRRED

Resent Selection of Garbage Crematory Site.

UNITE TO FIGHT PROJECT

Declare That Location of Incinerator in Central East Portland Would Be an Outrage and not to Be Tolerated.

At the meeting of the East Side Improvement Association tonight at the Information Bureau, on East Morrison and East Third streets, definite action will be taken to protest against the purchase by the city of the block bounded by East Eighth, East Flanders, East Ninth and East Tenth streets for the site of the proposed new garbage crematory. Nothing in years has stirred such a feeling as the proposition to locate in a residence district of the city a garbage crematory.

It may be said that not many people had heard of the plan to place the garbage plant in Central East Portland until they read the announcement in The Oregonian. To a man everyone expressed himself as opposed to the location. It is the general impression that a garbage plant, however carefully guarded and conducted, would result in great damage to the property for many blocks in all directions, rendering a large section undesirable for any purpose.

Dr. R. A. Wilson—it would be an outrage on the community and a menace to public health to locate the garbage plant in a residence district anywhere in Portland. Do the Councilmen think the people of East Portland will submit to such a thing? If they do they mistake the temper of the people.

W. H. McMonis—it would be an outrage to select such a block for such a purpose. It would mean that dead horses, cats and dogs would be carried through the streets all hours of the night to be burned up in the crematory located among our homes. It should not be tolerated. I will join in any movement to prevent this thing being done.

Rudolph Schmeer—it would be an outrage to locate the plant on that block. These interviews might be extended without limit, almost, but they show the general sentiment. Property owners north of Sullivan's Gulch and elsewhere are invited to be present at the meeting of the East Side Improvement Association tonight. It is desired that a large committee be appointed to take the matter in hand.

MONEY UNMAKES SENATOR

Three Rich Men Beat One Another in Corrupt Rhode Island.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 6.—Money makes as well as makes Senators in the State of Rhode Island. Money sent Mr. Aldrich to the Senate and money returned him. Money sent Mr. Wetmore to the Senate and money prevented his return. The long contest before the Rhode Island Legislature was a contest of money. Fortunately for the honor of the state the two Republican candidates were all men of great wealth and each was striving to prevent the election of either of his opponents. It was a very rare contest in striking contrast with other senatorial campaigns, where money has been the important factor. Usually the candidates are so much wealthier than his rivals that, by drawing liberally upon his bank account, he is able to break the deadlock and buy an election. But this time all three candidates spent money lavishly and the result was that all three were defeated.

Mr. Wetmore might have been re-elected if Mr. Aldrich had wanted it. Mr. Aldrich is the recognized representative of the Standard Oil Company in the United States Senate, and believed that he had got all that he could out of Mr. Wetmore and thought it time to put in a new man, who, in addition to voting right, might do a little work on the side. Mr. Wetmore could always be counted on when it came to a vote, but he was never fond of getting in and campaigning. His career in the Senate was never marked by any conspicuous service. Aside from answering the roll call, Mr. Wetmore was never heard, and he leaves the Senate no better known to the public than when he entered, except that he is everywhere recognized as having been the tool of Mr. Aldrich.

closed, the Aldrich machine took no conspicuous part until two days before the adjournment of the legislature. Then Colonel Brayton, the "Blind Boss" of Rhode Island and the field manager for Mr. Aldrich, brought his influence to bear to force the Legislature to elect Colonel Colt, but there was so much money in evidence that Brayton was only able to secure one Wetmore vote for Colt and the machine went down to defeat along with Wetmore, whom it had abandoned. Rhode Island will have but one vote in the Senate for the next two years, but, aside from this loss, Mr. Wetmore's absence will never be noticed.

A sensational campaign like that recently closed in Rhode Island will do much to arouse public sentiment and bring about the adoption of a primary election law. No one questions the assertion that Rhode Island is now absolutely in the grasp of a corrupt political machine. Mr. Aldrich is "it" and whatever he says goes. That is, it went until now. Under the Aldrich regime, everything is put on a money basis. Money controls the Legislature; money controls the Senators and all the Federal offices are filled with men who are loyal to the money power. There appears to be indications of a revolution of public sentiment, which may result in the overthrow of the Aldrich machine and the adoption of a primary law. Of course, it will be very difficult to get through a primary law in Rhode Island, because of the excessive firm hold of the machine; but if the primary laws ever adopted, Mr. Aldrich will be retired from public life and a man representing the people will be sent to the Senate in his place.

Mr. Aldrich could have carried the day before the recent Legislature if all of the candidates had not been fabulously wealthy men. As it was, the Legislature was so successfully bought up, that the machine was powerless, and Mr. Aldrich could not control the situation. It was furthermore true that Mr. Aldrich, while he no longer desired Mr. Wetmore in the Senate, was not enthusiastic over the possibility of the election of Colonel Colt. Colonel Colt, while he might sympathize with Mr. Aldrich on general principles, would not be an absolute puppet in his hands and, under the circumstances, Mr. Aldrich withdrew from the scene and conducted himself in a great deal of the late contest is that Rhode Island is not held up before the country as a state having two Senators by outright purchase. There is one vacancy.

Corporal Knowles on Trial.

PORT TULL, Okla., May 6.—A court-martial to try Corporal Knowles, charged with attempting to kill Captain Edgar B. Macklin at his home at Fort Reno on the night of December 21 last, convened today. Corporal Knowles was a member of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, whose members were discharged by President Roosevelt for alleged connection with the Brownsville affair. The attack upon Captain Macklin followed closely after the discharge of Knowles and his comrades.

Bennett States Position.

Councilman Bennett—I am opposed to that location. It would be an outrage to place a garbage crematory in a residence district of Portland. Such a plant never has been conducted as to be free from objections. Its very presence would be a menace to the whole of the East Side, and we will have none of it. I am not in favor of any more garbage plants inside the city. We should get a place somewhere down the river beyond the reach of any possible odor being carried to our homes. Garbage can be taken in barges clear away and outside the city, where it can be destroyed without danger to the health of the city or damaging property. Property for several blocks in every direction around this location would be damaged greatly. It would affect a large territory.

FORECASTS. Portland and vicinity—Fair and warmer; westerly winds.

ROSE CITY PARK HOME CONVENIENCES. SCENIC ENVIRONMENT. The accompanying sketches were made from Rose City Park and show the remarkable scenic outlook from this delightful residence location. Mount Hood is especially attractive. Always an impressive view, it seems to rise directly from the edge of Rose City Park, so clear and unobstructed is the foreground. Mount St. Helens stands forth in refreshing splendor. At morning, noon or evening its beautiful white peak seems synonymous with purity. The view of Mount Tabor is one of charming interest; so domestic and comfortably settled, it looks a very cozy corner of retirement. To the west lies the throbbing city of Portland. Far enough away to be rid of the noise, the smoke and the dust, Portland, nevertheless, indicates activity by its forest of masts, speeding cars and sky line of tall and interesting buildings. Green of a thousand shades, from valley to mountain top, the sparkling waters of the Columbia and Willamette and the ever-glistening white of the peaks and long range of Cascades afford a relief to the usual monotony of mountain scenery. Here it is ever new. Home life in Rose City Park will always have a perpetual charm, owing to the grandeur of its natural environment.
