

ELLEN TERRY HAS YOUNG HUSBAND

The Veteran Actress Marries James Carew, Product of Chicago.

KEPT SECRET FOR WEEKS

Even at 59 She Fascinates Vigorous Man of 35, Who Is Her Leading Man — Love at First Meeting.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Announcement was made today that Ellen Terry, the English actress, is again a bride. She was married to James Carew, her leading man, in Pittsburgh, on March 23. Mr. Carew made the announcement. The ceremony was performed by a Justice of the Peace.

For reasons that have not been disclosed the announcement of the marriage was deferred until the famous actress was sure she was bound for her native land. She sailed on Saturday, and Mr. Carew, who was obliged to remain in America to look up urgent business, decided with her consent, of course, to make the fact known forthwith.

In years Mr. Carew is much the junior of his bride. He is 35 years old while she is 59. She has already been married twice. Nevertheless, it is understood by all their friends that it was purely a love match, the beginning of which was soon after their first meeting. Mr. Carew, who is a native of Indiana, is well-known on the stage.

THIRD VENTURE IN MARRIAGE

Ellen Terry's New Husband Is Product of Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 6.—(Special)—News of the marriage of Ellen Terry to a young Chicagoan has caused quite as much stir in theatrical and social circles as the announcement last year that another Chicagoan, Mrs. Leslie Carter, had taken a spouse much younger in years than herself. With Fay Templeton also recently wedded, the trio of well-known actresses falling victims to Cupid in the full ripeness of their constantly maturing girth is considered unusual.

This marriage of Ellen Terry's is the third of her matrimonial ventures. They have run the gamut of things artistic, theatrical and now melodramatic. In the beginning was the artistic union with her choice being George E. Watts, the celebrated painter of "Angels." He was a middle-aged man when he met her, a girl of 16, living the free, unconventional life of the theatrical world, and their marriage was foredoomed to failure.

E. A. Wardell, known to the theater-going public as Charles Kelly, an officer in a crack cavalry regiment, well educated cultured and logical, was the second husband.

During the years which have intervened since his death, Ellen Terry has been the love dream of many men in whom she has inspired admiration and despair, but has resisted猛烈的 advances until now. In the fullness of her years, an American, young, ardent and handsome, has come out of the West and won her hand.

James Carew, third husband of Ellen Terry, is a product of Chicago, although born at Goshen, Ind. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Usselman, have lived there 15 years. They live in a modest home here.

They were born in Germany and both have passed three score and ten. James, who has distinguished the family by his marriage to the actress, is one of eight children—four daughters and four sons—all of whom consider Chicago their home.

Surprise to Bride's Brother.

LOS ANGELES, May 6.—Fred Terry, brother of Allen Terry, was much surprised at the announcement of his sister's marriage to James Carew, her leading man, in Pittsburgh, March 22. He said he had not received any information.

WHEN CHIPMUNKS SING

One "Bird" Utters 130 Chirps to the Minute.

Ernest Thompson Seton in Success. In Manitoba the chipmunks come above ground as soon as warm weather comes in. The regularity with which they appear, with the earliest soft wind of Spring, sets me wondering at times whether there is not something more than mere vagrancy in the phrase "vernal infusione." Snug in their deep, dark abode, far beyond the reach of sun or frost, they cannot be reached or touched by mere temperature, nor is it by this that they appear at this time, as some of them winter sleepers are said to do. No, they must come forth on the very day, when first the very Spring is in the land.

The chipmunk announces its return to sunlight in a manner worthy of a bird. Mounted on some log or root, it reiterates a loud, chirpy "chuck-chuck-chuck." Other chipmunks from their holes for them awaken almost in a body; they run forth into the sunlight, and, seeking some perch, add their "chuck-chuck-chuck" to the Spring salute, so the glad news spreads from point to point, from stone pile and log heap, to brush heap and fence, summoning all the race to come forth and take part in the Nature's great awakening.

Dr. Seton informs me that in the wooded parts of Minnesota the coming forth of the chipmunks is a recognized event among the young Indians, and is celebrated by a special hunt. As soon as the bright warm days of Spring arrive to make it possible the boys go forth between sunrise and 9 o'clock to search for the chipmunks, where one of their number who is an adept in imitating the creature's notes, begins the chorus with a loud chirping. The chipmunks pop out of their holes on all sides. "As many as fifty will come together and hold a social reunion." Then, seeking some high perch, they join in the Spring music with a concentrated effort to seem to make them heedless of danger, and soon the fall in numbers to the bluntheaded arrows of the little Indians.

The chipmunks are active from this time of the year on, and their sunny morning chorus is not by any means confined to that original outburst. On the 29th of April, 1898, at Coscoob, I heard a chipmunk fall some 10 ft. and kept it up for eleven minutes without ceasing, and uttered 130 chirps to the minute. He got no reply, though he worked very hard, and seemed tired toward the last. May 28, 1905, at Coscoob, I heard a chipmunk singing. He kept it up for three minutes, uttering three chirps to the second.

MOLDS FOR CONCRETE

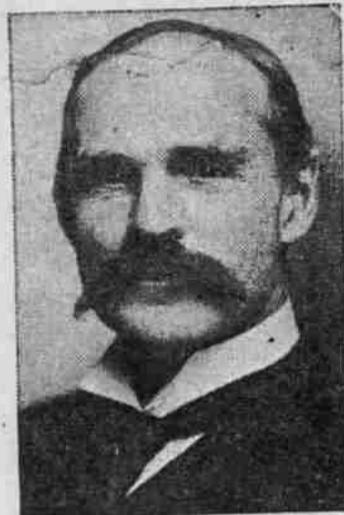

Wooden Framework Now Used in Building Too Expensive.

O. F. Mann, of Indianapolis, Ind., believes that he has greatly simplified the building business and paved the way to a saving of hundreds of dollars by a contrivance which he has invented and is to be controlled by a company which is to be formed and incorporated here. Mr. Mann in recent years has made a study of the building business, and he believes that with the use of his apparatus at least 50 per cent in time and labor will be saved in the building of reinforced concrete structures.

Such a contrivance might be termed a "house mold." There are four molds, one for each wall of the building to be constructed. These molds may be bolted together in any shape which is desired for the structure.

After the molds have been bolted together, the concrete mixture is poured into each, the reinforcing rods first having been placed. Concrete mixture is poured in until the molds are filled and then it is allowed to harden. When the hardening process has been finished the molds are loosened slightly and the corners by means of adjusting screws and the whole molding contrivance is "jacked" up, leaving that much of the

NEWLY APPOINTED REGISTER OF THE DALLES LAND OFFICE

C. W. Moore, of Grass Valley.

1886 he was married to Miss Eva Rollins, of Grass Valley, who, with a son and daughter, accompanies him to this city.

Mr. Moore's departure from Grass Valley has thrown that peaceful little town into a series of elections, since, at the time of his appointment, besides being its first and only Mayor (a position he has held since the incorporation of the city), he was also School Clerk, treasurer of the fire company, treasurer of the Odd Fellows' Lodge and manager of the Citizens' Commercial Company, to all of which duties he gave personal attention.

building from the foundation up complete. Then the molding contrivance is tightened at the corners again and the mixture is again poured into each mold with the hard walls above and to the front. When it is filled and the mixture is hardened the contrivance is again "jacked" up, and this process is continued until the building is of the height desired.

It is desired to face the building with brick, the brick may be laid inside the mold, or it may be laid outside the mold. Or it is desired to give a concrete block effect, or any other effect, four sheets of galvanized iron are made into the design wanted, and are slipped down on the inside of the walls of the mold. Then, when the concrete has hardened and the mold has been "jacked" up these sheets of iron are removed.

France has recognized that her position in India, Persia and China as an important commercial interests in the Far East, would be extremely vulnerable in the event of war, and deemed it wise to make an arrangement with Japan, which is willing to guarantee French interests in return for the recognition of the Japanese claims.

At the same time, France has agreed to strictly limit to the maintenance of the status quo. It does not touch China and has nothing resembling an offensive or defensive feature.

Nevertheless, taken in connection with the Russo-Japanese understanding, which should still prevail, and the Anglo-Russian agreement, both of which are supplementary to the Anglo-Japanese and Franco-Russian alliances, the entente creates a combination in the Far East and new grouping of the powers in Europe of extreme significance. It constitutes, in effect, another significant way of Great Britain's diplomatic maneuvering for the isolation of Germany.

The recent Japanese loan floated in Paris was involved in the negotiations and Great Britain and Russia already have approved the general lines of the arrangement.

"The molding contrivance which I have patented," said Mr. Mann, "may be of any height. It may be five feet high, or it may be high enough to construct an entire story at a time. Then, after it is used on one building it can be used on others. When openings are desired for windows and doors and the like, it is necessary to slip a wooden framework down inside the mold. These, of course, could be made to suit the different buildings."

Secures French Possessions.

LONDON, May 6.—Great Britain has been advised that France and Japan are carrying on negotiations with the view of reaching an understanding providing for the maintenance of the status quo in the Far East, and that the two nations are concerned. The discussion has shown that France and Japan hold the same views with respect to China. While the agreement will not go so far as the Anglo-Japanese treaty, it will remove any existing uneasiness regarding the security of the French possessions in the Far East. The Anglo-Japanese treaty will, it is also believed, embody similar features so four nations will soon have practically entered into a similar understanding not to interfere with each other's interests in the Far East.

BOMBS RELEASE PRISONERS

Terrorists Slaughter Congregation and Rescue 13 Comrades.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 6.—A plot which resulted in the liberation of 13 political prisoners was daringly executed at Alexandrovsk yesterday during the Easter services at the prison. While high mass was being celebrated in the prison chapel, 13 armed revolutionaries entered the building, killed the Chief Inspector and exploded two bombs. Under cover of the confusion which followed 13 political prisoners, including several important Terrorists, escaped.

Opposes Preferential Treatment.

LONDON, May 6.—David Lloyd-George, president of the Board of Trade, was the principal speaker at today's session of the Imperial conference. Like Mr. Asquith, Chancellor of the Exchequer, he held out hope that the mother country would grant any preferential treatment to the colonies, but the British government to do what no protectionist would do, namely, "tax the necessities we could not produce ourselves and with which the colonies could equally supply us for many years."

Hypotheses for Telepathy.

New York Sun.

Four hypotheses for telepathy have been suggested: That telepathic communications may be due, first, to some kind of vibration, etheric or otherwise, second, to direct action of the mind on another's brain in such way as to evoke the desired thought; third, by means of the receiving mind into the brain when the thought arrives (clairvoyance); or fourth, by some direct and incomprehensible communion of mind with mind.

Their appearance in this river will soon involve every one who is not careful in litigation, and the lawyers will feed on their folly, thereby ruining them.

Yemen Rebels Kill Seven Whole Battalions in Awful Battle.

LONDON, May 6.—It is announced this afternoon, in a special dispatch from Constantinople, that seven battalions of Turkish troops have practically been annihilated during a battle with the rebels in the Province of Yemen, Turkish Arabia.

The commander-in-chief of the Turkish forces is urgently calling for reinforcements.

The outbreak in Yemen began about 12 years ago and may be said to have been in progress ever since. The Turks have repeatedly announced that the Arabs were crushed, but the revolt has always been renewed. In December, 1904, the Turkish troops sustained a serious defeat, four battalions being routed, and later the Turkish garrison at Sanam surrendered, the rebels capturing 30 guns, 20,000 rifles and much ammunition.

Alhambra Falling to Pieces.

PARIS, May 6.—The condition of the famous Alhambra, at Granada, is discussed in local journals, as well as published photographs showing the progress necessary of repair. According to the papers, the marvelous ceiling of the hall of the Coronation threatens to fall in any moment. The northern wall of the tower of the same name has subsided, and the weight of the cupola is likely to cause a complete collapse. The Machuca gallery and the patio of the harem are in immediate danger of becoming total ruins.

The Defender de Granada, however, referred to, announced the call for a public meeting to take action in the matter, and says that a petition will be drawn up and sent to Madrid.
