Rabbi Wise Speaks Out in National Peace Association Meeting.

OPPOSES ITS PURPOSES

Says He Distrusts Its Motives and Is Suspicious of Its Ends-Utterances of Jewish Leader Cause Commotion in Gathering.

"I distrust the motives of this associa-on and I am suspicious of its ends. I m a laboring man and make my living am a laboring man and the by days' wages, and I refuse to allow anybody to mediate for me. I wish to make my own conditions. Beconomically, the plan proposed for this association is not only insufficient, but it is inefficient. I am an individualist, and believe in as-serting one's personality and one's rights.

These almost revolutionary declarations made by Rabbi Jonah Wise at the annual meeting of the Portland branch of the National Peace Association at the Courthouse last night dropped like a hombshell among the members of the association. The remarks were entirely unexpected, and created the greater consternation, because it was supposed the nation because it was supposed the speaker was in perfect accord with the organization and the objects for which it has been formed.

has been formed.

Following Rabbi Wise's sensational attack on the peace movement, John F.
Shields rose and politely intimated that if the preceding speaker was not in sympathy with the movement and did not believe in the principle of mediation, then it was his privilege to withdraw from the organization

P. H. Scuilin, who was instrumental in effecting the organization in this city, spoke on "Justice," and for a time it was thought the incident had been closed, but before Mr. Scuilin had finished his remarks he said no man was competent to sit on his own case, in which he was selfishly interested. He insisted that ardiration was recovered to the said of the control of the con selfishly interested. He insisted that arbitration was necessary to the settling of all industrial disputes.

"The work proposed by this peace association," said J. Hennessey Murphy, secretary of the organization, who followed, "is not that of a meddler in any sense of the term. We advocate a plan of arbitration that is universally recognized as the proper means for adjusting disputes. No man of good sense can question the motives of the association."

"May I have the privilege of speaking on the question for the second time, since both my sense and my sanity have been questioned?" inquired Rabbi Wise, who was brought to his feet by the concluding statement of Mr. Murphy, and then things began to look as interesting as a was brought to his feet by the concluding statement of Mr. Murphy, and then things began to look as interesting as a "harmonious" Democratic meeting at Drew's Hall. The privilege was given Rabbi Wise, who said:

"My remarks seem to have been taken unfavorably. I may not have made myself clearly understood. But I wish to say that I am positively opposed to any socialistic idea. A better condition of the laboring man can be brought about by a revolution of the laborer in his own circle; by the betterment of the trades unions and their more honest administration. There would have been no shooting in San Francisco tonight if the labor unions of that desolate city had been properly organized and understood how to enforce their demands. The laborer is entitled to what he asks, but those demands can never be attained through the charitable and weakling mediation that is proposed in "ic organization."

The heated controversy ended here. Judge A L. Frager president of the way.

The heated controversy ended here Judge A. L. Frazer, president of the asso-clation, then detailed the work and the objects of the organization, which, he said, consist entirely of friendly media-tion, not dictatorial interference.

At the opening of the meeting Wallis Nash, president of the Board of Trade, spoke of the relation of the business man to trade disputes and their settlement Rev. J. H. Black and W. E. Pitschke also

Before the annual meeting of the asso-siation was called to order, the board of directors held a meeting and elected the following executive board: Representing the employers—T. B. Wilcox, C. F. Swigert, Paul Wessinger; labor unions—H. C. Gurr, W. E. Pitschke, J. L. Ledwige; general public—Rev. J. B. Black, J. Henessey Murphy, Dr. A. C. Smith.

A resolution was adopted indursing the work of the peace association and invitaessey Murphy, Dr. A. C. Smith.

A resolution was adopted indorsing the work of the peace association and inviting the co-operation of the church and the press to further the work.

The election of a board of directors for the ensuing year resulted as follows: For the employers—C. W. Hodson, Fletcher Linn, T. B. Wilcox, Paul Wessinger, William MacMaster, Samuel Connell, W. P. Olds, R. D. Imman, and C. F. Swigert; labor unions—W. E. Pitschke, J. A. Ledwigs, R. A. Harris, W. H. Fitzgerald, P. McDonald, Harry C. Gurr, P. H. Keily, C. H. Gram, W. McKenzie; general public—S. H. Gruber, Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, Rev. James H. Black, Dr. A. C. Smith, Rev. E. S. Muckley, J. Henessey Murphy, J. B. Laber, and E. C. Giltner, T. G. CONFER TO AVOID STRIKE

Ironmolders Will Meet Industrial

Peace Association Committee. Through the offices of the local branch of the National Industrial Peace Associa-tion a conference may be arranged be-tween the ironmoiders and the employers so that a strike of these workmen in Portland may be avoided. The executive committee of the ironmolders' Union has advised Wallis Nash, prealdent of the Beard of Conciliation and Arbitration, representing the Association, that the molders are willing to confer with their employers regarding the demand for an eight-hour day, which has been asked.

The letter arreging to the conference. The letter agreeing to the conference, which is signed by H. W. Drew, president; Frank M. Meyer, Joe Raymond, Otto Shell and J. Casey, members of the executive committee, was received by Mr. Nash yesterday.
