SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—(Special.)—The Beavers and Commuters split even on the double-header today, Portland winning the morning game by 1 to 0, and losing out in the afternoon by a 5-to-4 score in the 13th inning.

The battery won their own game at Oakland. "Schoolma'am" Moore getting a double, and Cates scoring him with a good single in the fifth inning. Ed Cates essayed the slant for Oakland in the afternoon, but after he had walked three and the runs had been scored, he was taken out and Hogan put in.

Kinella had a bad inning in the seventh, when three doubles and a single scored three runs and only the sharpest kind of fielding saved the game at that point. He weakened again in the 13th and three singles before anyone was out scored the winning run for Oakland. The score:

LOS ANGELES PROTESTS GAME

Contest Called for Seals to Catch Train North.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 12.—Today's game broke up with Los Angeles protesting against the action of Umpire Derrick, who called the game in the last half of the eighth inning to give the visitors a chance to catch a train for the North. Captain Dillon, of the home team, insisted that he had agreed on the game being called 15 minutes later. San Francisco won by securing a timely hit in each of the first two innings. The score:

Once Famed Athlete Now at Hood River.

IS ANDRE MARC CHRISTOL

Ex-Lightweight Champion of the World Tells of Exciting Incidents of the Palmy Days of His Early Career.

HOOD RIVER, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—Andre Marc Christol, once great athlete and former lightweight champion wrestler of the world, is at Hood River for his health. After 16 years, almost great knowledge of the wrestling game. He is credited with the discovery of Whistler, then an ironmolder in Omaha, and his subsequent training and success. He brought about the first match between Whistler and Muldoon in old Madison Square Garden, New York, which lasted eight and a half hours and was finally declared a draw. In the annals of wrestling it is considered a classic. The struggle lasted from 8 o'clock in the evening until 5:30 the next morning without either man having gained a fall when the lights were unceremoniously put out. It was said by friends of Whistler the trick was done to save Muldoon, who they claimed was getting the worst of it. Both men made a pot of money, and it was then that they formed the great combination that went on the road, consisting, besides Muldoon and Whistler, of Christol, Jim Pennell and several other noted athletes, who met all corners and made a triumphal tour of the country.

After they separated a match was arranged by Christol between the former partners, in which Whistler lost and had his shoulder blade broken. When he recovered he tackled the doughty ex-police-man again and this time put him to the mat and won the bout.

Shortly after this he went to Australia, where he defeated William Miller in a memorable contest, for which he was banqueted and at which he caught a cold that resulted in his death. As a wrestler

The bear managed to get his muzzle loose and the bout took place in earnest. The audience, at first thinking this part of the act, applauded loudly, and not until the better part of his other ear was missing did they discover their mistake. A butcher who was in the audience and had a large knife, then rushed on the stage and put the bear out of business. Since then Christol has confined his wrestling bouts to men, which, he says, has been more remunerative and successful. When he recuperates he will go to Aberdeen, Wash., as instructor for the club there.

TO SELECT JAMESTOWN TEAM

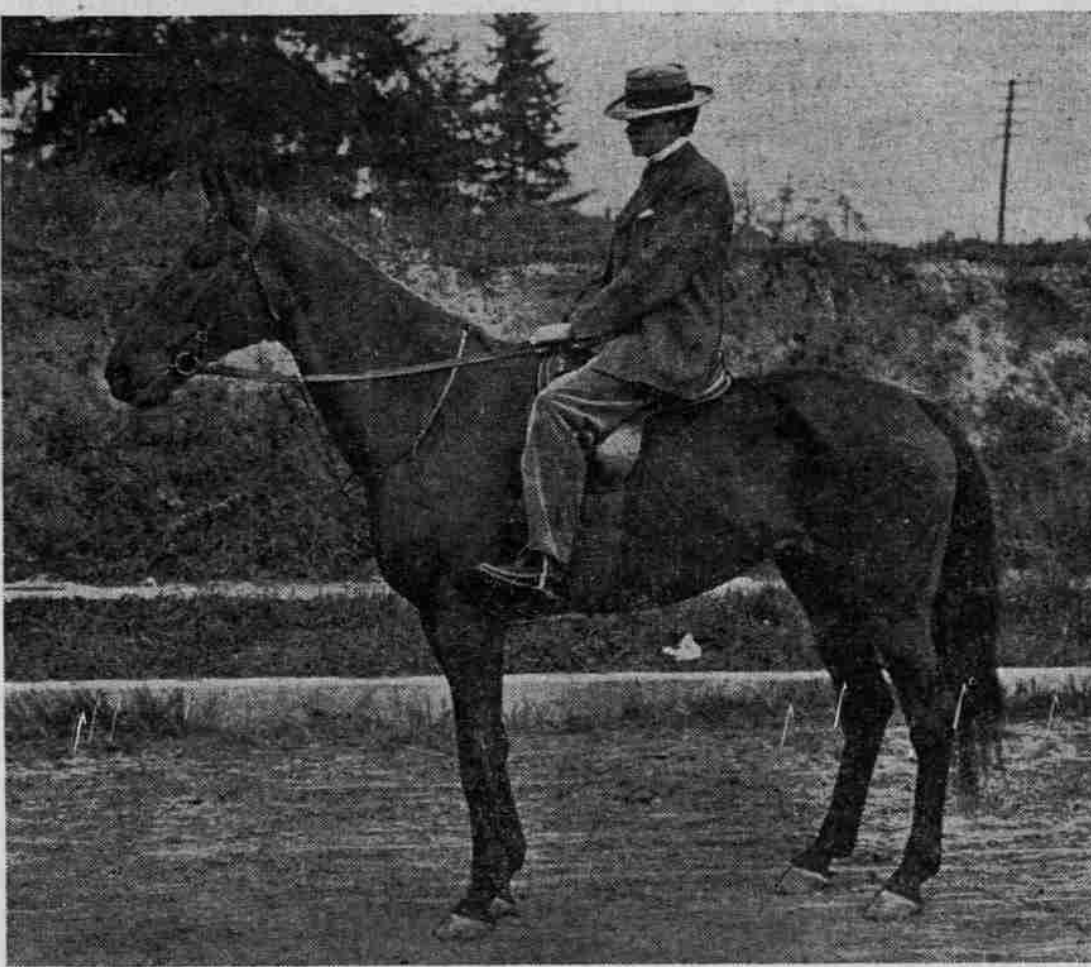

Meet Will Be Held at Seattle.

June 22.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 12.—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Pacific Northwest Amateur Athletic Association, held in this city last night, arrangements were made for holding the annual championship meet of the association in this city on June 22, and also for the sending of a team from the Northwest to the Jamestown Exposition championship games on September 7.

The special committee to make the arrangements for the team for the Jamestown meet consists of H. W. Ker-

WILLIAM DAVIS' J. H. BENNETT.

40 of which have been spent on the mat, the wiry little Frenchman is knocked out, his last engagement was with the Olympic Athletic Club of San Francisco as an instructor, but like others he lost everything he possessed in the great earthquake except a vacant lot where his house once stood and his Gallic accent, which is still working. Christol has just left for Mount Hood settlement, where he will visit his old friend, Marius Dumas, formerly proprietor of a large restaurant in San Francisco, but now a prosperous apple-grower. Before going he remarked to a crowd of interested onlookers at the Mount Hood Hotel: "Yes, I am what you call knocked out. I have what you call dyspepsia. 'Tee mont's' I sleep in ze open air. I chop ze wood, sleep outdoor. When I come back—poof, zere will be nozing to eat. Again I will be myself."

Was Star in His Day.

Battle-scarred and disfigured, Christol is a unique figure to the athletic world of today, and in his time was the associate and instructor of wrestlers whose prowess was phenomenal and whose names are still a byword in sporting circles. Billy Muldoon, Clarence Whistler, Evan Lewis, Duncan C. Ross, Edwin Bibby and a host of others once deigned to take instruction and profit from his

Once Wrestled With Bear.

From a diary which he has carefully preserved was gleaned the fact that the ex-champion is a founding, having been found in the streets of Paris and brought up in an institution supported by the church until he was old enough to enter the army, which he did, and served through the Franco-Prussian War. In the encounter he had his collar-bone cut in two with a cut-throat, the top part of his left ear went, and he was taken prisoner. When he recovered and was released he came to America, took up acrobatic and athletic work under the instruction of a fellow-countryman, and joined him in a trapeze act with Barnum & Bailey. With the great circus he traveled in many countries, but finally retired from the sawdust arena to devote his entire time to athletics.

During one time in his career he took up a spectacular act in which he boxed and wrestled with a bear. They were performing at Woods Museum, in Cincinnati. Christol was a little too convivial, having left a party of friends just before the performance, and was unwatchful.

SAINTS WIN FROM BREWS

FINE EXHIBITION OF BASEBALL

AT ST. JOHNS.

Game Between Tri-City League

Teams Draws Big Crowd.

Score Is 4 to 1.

The St. Johns baseball team of the Tri-City League added another game to its credit yesterday afternoon, when the Giants hooked up with Manager Helser's Brews. The score at the end of the ninth was 4 to 1, and the large crowd of St. Johns residents who trooped out to witness the exhibition nearly went wild with enthusiasm.

There was plenty of good fast ball-throwing, the class of ball that the rabid fan will sit and watch for hours. Charlie Moore, the elongated slabster who danced around Manager McCredie's infield last year, was there with bells when it came to pitching. He had a skidoo sign on the Brews and allowed only three safe hits. Pender, who did the delivery stunt for the Brews, demonstrated to the satisfaction of the audience that he, too, was qualified to occupy the mound. Five hits were made off his delivery, and he is credited with eight strikeouts.

St. Johns must win three runs in the third. Pender gave two passes, and a pair of errors by Wood allowed both runners to score. The Saints made another run in the eighth. The Brews made their lone score in the third.

PREPARE FOR SPRING MEET

Hunt Club Members Arrange a

Good Card.

Members of the Portland Hunt Club are making great preparations for their annual Spring meet, which will be held at the Irvington racetrack Saturday, June 8. There will be eight events—six running races, a parade and a drill by the Hunt Club members, which will be paraded in by the clever riders who rode in the drill given by the club at the society circus. Interest at this time, however, is centered in the two big feature races, the two-mile race on the flat and the 2½-mile steeplechase.

The course over which the steeplechase will be run will be in the field, and being the best event of this kind ever given by the club, the members of the club who delight in putting their mounts over the brush hurdles are taking great interest in this race. At a number of the annual meetings given by the club there have been hurdle races, but a steeplechase over a carefully selected course, with all of the jumps placed where the entire crowd can get a full view of the timber-coppen will be something new.

The race will be for cold-blooded horses that have qualified as hunters, and already there is a scramble among the club members for mounts. The race will be in charge of A. M. Cronin. The other big event of the meet will be the two-mile race. This will bring together the best thoroughbreds owned by members of the club. A. M. Cronin will start Moreno, who won the race two years ago. Mrs. F. G. Buffum will start her big, handsome son of Coloma, Will Wehrung, and Ted Chase will have the leg up. This will be Wehrung's first start in the two-mile race. W. Davis will start J. H. Bennett. Bennett was badly beaten last year, but he was sent to the race practically a sick horse and never had a chance. He is being slowly prepared for the race, and if he is beaten there will be no excuses. Bob Crawford, Rose of Hells and others will be entered.

J. C. Muebe has charge of this race, and he hopes for a big field. Bert Tongue's Oregon Kid won the race last year in hot low style. Mr. Tongue took the iron horse out in front and made every pace a winning one. It is to be regretted that the Kid will not start in this race, for a number of horses that were beaten last year will start again and the owners are anxious to hook up with the Kid again over the same distance.

The three-eighths-mile handicap dash and the five-eighths-mile race will also be interesting events. The fields in both of these races will be large. Then there will be a quarter dash for the kiddies and their ponies. Any lad not over 18 in town owning a pony 14 hands and under can enter this race and ride. This race has always been an attractive one for the youngsters, and last year there were about 20 starters in the scramble. The fun of the afternoon will be the
