SERIOUS CHARGES MADE

Ashley & Rumelin to Be Made Defendants in Suit for $5000 Damages-G. E. Tripp Is the Plaintiff.

Alleging that he has been victimized by Alleging that he has been victimized by loan sharks, robbed of the wages of the bardest kind of labor and finally forced but of a good position, G. E. Tripp, through his attorney, J. F. Watts, will this morning file a damage suit for $5000 against Ashley & Rumelin.

Tripp in the complaint that will be filed alleges that he borrowed $60 from the defendants. April 6, 1902, while employed by the Southern Pacific Company and that he paid $1 a month for 20 months, and in-terest at an exorbitant rate. At the time he secured the money, he signed a note for $60 and he now alleges that Ashley & Rumellu have changed the date on the note to make it read April 5, 1907. He alleges this to be a direct forgery, and claims that the brokers are attempting to collect from him again the money which he says he has paid and for which he holds receipts.

Furthermore he alleges the defendants annoyed him and notified his employers of the loan, and otherwise harassed him so that he finally lost his position. He says he was at Astoria at the time the note dated in 1907 was produced, and that he had nothing whatever to do with mak-

Herman Enke Makes Settlement in Pending Divorce Suit.

An amicable agreement as to property interests was reached yesterday by Her-man Enke and Annie Enke, his wife, divorce case is under advisement with Judge Sears in the Circuit Court. Through his lawyer, Mr. Enke piaced $3.-e00 in property and money in the hands of Mrs. Enke's brothers as a trust fund for her support and the support of her two youngest children. The husband is to re-tain the custody of the three older chil-dren. This agreement will probably be ratified in the decision rendered by Judge Sears in the divorce suit.

Herman Enke, who is wealthy, owns a cleaning and dyeing business valued at 1150,000, besides other property worth $75. MO. He brought the suit against his wife alleging that she harassed him to such an extent that it interfered with his business She filed a counter complaint, but refused to appear in court. Her brother testified that she is insane at times.

SLOW PROGRESS IS MADE

Argument for Dismissal Occupies Day in the Atwood Case.

Slow progress was made yesterday in the trial of Dr. H. T. Atwood in Judge Gantenbein's department of the Circuit Court. Atwood is charged with having performed a criminal operation on 16-year-old Hattie Fee. Most of the morning was occupied by John F. Logan, Atwood's lawyer, with an argument on a motion for dismissal on the grounds that there is no law under which Dr. Atwood can be prosecuted in this state. Judge Ganten-bein oversuled the motion bein overruled the motion.

Mr. Marquam says that he has made very reasonable effort since the order every reasonable effort since the order of the Circuit Court was made to procure the money to make the payment, but has not been able to do so. That he is over 80 years of age, in poor health and has nothing to give as security for any advance or loan of money except his interest in the property, which in its present condition no one will accept as security.

He asks that a reasonable time be granted him to secure money to pay the costs and proceed with the prosecution of his suit.

THREE DIVORCES GRANTED

One Wife Alleges Descriton After @2

Years-Tells Sad Story. Three divorce complaints were heard be-fore Judge Frazer yesterday in the Circuit Court and decrees granted in each case. One of the strangest cases was that case. One of the strangest cases was that of Mrs. Hattle D. Moodie, who, after living with her husband for 22 years, and rearing a family of seven children, charged him with deserting her. She married Andrew Moodie in Ellendale, N. D., April 16, 1885, and they came to Portland in 1891, where her husband made money in the housemoving business. Last year, she said, he became infatuated with another woman and left his family to go with her to Sacramento, Cal. Mrs. Moodie and should not undertake the reforming act after marriage. Root was allowed his decree, and received a few words of adice from the court. Mrs. Dora H. Beringer testified that her husband, William E. Beringer testined that her husband, William E. Beringer, was ad-dicted to the use of liquor, and deserted her in 1891. He said he was "not cut out for a married man," but his wife had suspicions that another woman figured in

Bring Back J. R. Earle.

Deputy Sheriff Leonard left for Los Angeles last night, to bring back to this city, J. R. Earle, alias King alias Jerome, wanted here by the Juvenile Court authorities on a charge of perjury and of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. It is charged in the complaint that Earle enticed a young girl into a saloon and bought her liquor. Earle, after being arrested, managed to get away from the detectives. His bondsmen are standing the expense of having him brought back. Chief of Police Gritzmacher received news last night that Barle has employes of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, who left the service of that corporation on a strike last December, have joined hands with the local option voters of Sellwood and will labor to carry that precinct for local option in the June election. Petitions have been filed directing that the question of prohibiting saloons in Sellwood be sub-mitted to a vote again this year and i order to make reasonably sure of carry-ing their cause, the local option workers have joined four dry precincts with Sell-wood. The combined vote in the five pre-cincts will determine the question of whether saloons can be longer retained in Sellwood or not.

In his enthusiasm, a member of the Carmen's Union declared last night before the Federated Trades Council that 37 members of this union are working to have the combination of precincts go "dry." The effect of such a result would "dry." The effect of such a result would be to put out of business the saloon that is now conducted at the Caks, the property of the Portland Rallway, Light & Power Company. The Oaks is located in Sellwood precinct. Last year Sellwood precinct proper was linked with but one other precinct, which was "dry," and the vote in the two precincts gave only a small margin project local ording Cona small margin against local option. Con-sidering the new combination of pre-cincts and the attitude of nearly two-score of men looking for revenge, the prospects for the saloons in Sellwood precinct are said to be rather dublous.
