BURGLAR CONFESSES ALL

HARRY ITIENNE, TREASURER OF CHURCH, UNDER ARREST.

Admits Robbing Room in Lodging-House—Also Short in His Trust Accounts.

Forsaking the righteous path of salvation for the profession of burglary, losing his high standing as treasurer in a church and looting a room of a lodging-house, at last landing in the City Jail, is the brief tale of Harry Itienne, aged 19 years, a native of Panama. He was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Sergeant Jones and Acting Detective Tichenor on a warrant issued out of the Municipal Court, and now faces a charge of larceny in a dwelling.

Itienne, who is a bright young man and a fluent talker, has long been treasurer of what is known as the Fourth Missionary Church, a religious organization composed of Panamanians and other South American people. He held the funds of the society in this city, and upon being taken into custody yesterday afternoon in a furniture factory at Water and Belmont streets, he declared that he had been robbed recently and was therefore short in his accounts with his church.

Itienne was badly frightened when placed under arrest, and later weakened and made a full confession as to the charge on which he was wanted, that of robbing the room of H. H. Jenkins and G. H. Clark, 204 Corbett street of $40 cash, a gold watch and some articles of jewelry. Although he had previously denied knowledge of the crime when confronted by the detectives, this time he broke down and said he might as well tell all.

After making his confession, Itienne led Jones and Tichenor to a corner of the furniture factory, where he raised up some old rags and disclosed the stolen gold watch and chain and a ring. These were taken by the detectives and are held as evidence. As to the money stolen, Itienne declared he became frightened and hurried it into a vacant lot, but this tale is doubted by the officers.

The burglary occurred Tuesday night, and was reported to the police the following morning, when Jenkins and Clark awakened to find they had been robbed. The officers learned that Itienne had been rooming at the same place, and from information they gathered as to his habits, suspected him. Thursday they went to his place of employment and accused him, but he remained unshaken and denied everything. They gave him until yesterday afternoon to decide what he would do, and finding him still unwilling to admit the robbery, served a warrant on him and placed him under arrest. He then confessed.

ROSE CARNIVAL SEPARATE

NOT MERGED WITH FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION.

Committee Decides on Old-fashioned Observance With Up-to-Date Features.

Portland is to have a rousing old-fashioned Fourth of July celebration, with "new and up-to-date attractions." Such was the sentiment expressed at the mass meeting held at the Council chambers last night. Owing to the political meetings which were held at various places in the city the attendance was small, but the enthusiasm of those present was abundant.

The following officers were elected by the general committee: President, General O. Summers; vice-president, H. H. Newhall; secretary, Lee M. Clark; assistant secretary, Frank D. Nicklin; treasurer, A. B. Steinbach.

Frederick V. Holman spoke as a representative of the Rose Carnival, and said that in his opinion the rose festival should be a distinct event. Roses would be in their most perfect bloom between June 10 and June 17, and he thought that the date of the proposed Rose Carnival would depend largely upon the condition of the flowers. It would be some time in June. It was decided to not blend the roses and the fireworks.

Fred T. Merrill wanted "an old-fashioned celebration with up-to-date attractions." He thought a part of the day might be spent in witnessing a series of automobile races at the Irvington race track.

Several speakers thought an expense fund of $5000 would be sufficient, and were in favor of a larger fund if necessary. H. H. Newhall said the Push Clubs of the East Side had put themselves on record, as favoring a big celebration. Letters were read from E. M. Brannan and L. M. Fischler pledging subscriptions and hearty co-operation; also from W. P. Olds and Wallace Nash, the two latter regretting that they would not be able to attend the date of celebration.

On motion the names of John D. Mann, Fred T. Merrill and W. P. Olds were added to the general committee. A. B. Steinbach, John D. Mann and S. A. Arata were appointed a committee to wait upon General Summers and notify him of his election as president and secretary, respectively.

Dan McAllen, who acted as temporary chairman of the meeting, in a flowery speech, insisted that an "up-to-date" baby show be made a special feature of the celebration. As he failed to embody his request in a motion, no action was taken. On motion the president was empowered to appoint citizens to serve on the following committees: Auditing, advertising, music, floats, transportation, reception, finance, literary and fireworks.

Secretary Lee M. Clark said that B. H. Blossom, a real estate man of this city, expected to be on Mt. Hood the night of July 4, and had proposed to illuminate the mountain with red, white and blue fire, provided the committee would furnish the materials.

The committee adjourned, to meet at the Council chamber on next Monday night, at 8:30 o'clock.

Will Fight to Keep From Pen.

YANCOUVER, Wash., May 17.—(Special.)—Frank Rabbits, who was taken into custody several days ago on charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, because of an attack he made upon his wife with a butcher knife, was arraigned today in the Superior Court before Judge W. W. McCredie, and pleaded not guilty to the charge.

Ex-Prosecuting Attorney W. W. Sparks will defend him. His bond was fixed at $1000, which he is unable to give. His trial will be held in June.

Three Times a Bride at $8.

ALBANY, Or., May 17.—(Special.)—Though she twice found marriage a failure, Mrs. Mary M. James was wedded again one day after the statutory six months had expired following her divorce from Thomas I. James. She was married here yesterday to G. W. Bradley. Mrs. Bradley is a bride for the third time at the age of 38.
