

GRANGERS POOR TO HOOD RIVER

Delegates Gathering for the 34th Annual State Convention.

SESSION TO OPEN TODAY

Fruit City Extends Hearty Welcome and So Large is Attendance Additional Rooms are Required Even in Private Houses.

FEATURES OF THE SESSION.
Initiative and referendum laws. Good roads legislation and consideration of the Tuttle road law. House Bill 87, concerning the taxation of corporations. Consideration of transportation measures. Adoption of a resolution submitting the normal school question to a yes or no vote. Resolutions upon the rural free delivery system.

HOOD RIVER, Or., May 27.—(Special.)

Every train coming here today brought a good-sized crowd of grangers on the hands for the opening of the thirty-fourth annual session of the Oregon State Grange. The grange will be called to order promptly at ten o'clock tomorrow morning by State Master Austin P. Butler. All the officers and voting delegates will be here at that time. The greatest number of visitors will come tomorrow and Wednesday. The hotels are crowded and private rooms are being taken everywhere. Many grangers will be here during the next three days.

The programme for Tuesday consists of the formal opening of the State Grange and permanent organization followed by such business as may be introduced of a legislative nature. In the evening a public reception will be given to the visitors in the Commercial Club and Hon. E. L. Smith will greet the grangers in the name of all the people. Responses will be made by State Master Butler, State Lecturer J. W. Walden and other prominent members of the order.

It is too early yet to forecast grange legislation, but it is expected that several important measures will come up and will be hotly debated. Probably the most important of these will be an effort by the grange of Linn County to have the executive committee instructed to take up the State University referendum matter. So far the committee has never been instructed, although it opposed the referendum upon the appropriation filed by the Legislature at the last session.

Considerable interest is being taken in proposed road laws, transportation measures and postal affairs. The Tuttle road law is being systematically opposed by the grange, its provisions having been defeated in seven counties during the past year by grange influence. Amendments will be asked for.

Another matter which causes considerable interest is the normal school question. A resolution will be adopted asking for a yes or no vote by the people upon them. The people will probably be called upon to vote upon each school separately. The session promises to be very interesting to the public at large as well as to the members of the order. Social features will not be omitted and a large dance will be given at the close of the grange has taken on a great interest in Eastern Oregon and the people are making an extra effort to entertain their visitors in a true fraternal and brotherly spirit.

TAKE DEEDS FOR EVIDENCE

Moscow Land-Fraud Cases Devold of Dramatic Features.

MOSCOW, Idaho, May 27.—(Special.)—This was what might be called a documentary evidence day in the North Idaho land conspiracy trial of W. F. Kettinbach, George H. Kester and William Dwyer, for it was devoted entirely to the introduction of the Lewiston Land Office records which were the case at bar, by Register T. H. Bartlett, and the introduction of certified copies of the claims and the deeds acquired by entrymen and the deeds for the same when transfer was made to either one or the other of the defendants.

The prosecution sought to show by such evidence the alleged conspiracy on the part of the defendants to defraud the Government out of valuable timber lands. The only feature of the day was the laying of a foundation on the part of the defense by its cross-examination of Register Bartlett to show that Dwyer was sincere in the many contents which he instituted in the Lewiston Land Office. The purported facts are that when certain townships were thrown open for homestead entries, their ultimate intention being to change the same to timber and timber claims were made by those whose agents they were. Dwyer got onto the scheme and circumvented it by instituting contest proceedings, securing relinquishments and placing upon the claim parties who eventually deeded the land over to the Lewiston National Bank officers.

Other documentary evidence went to show, so the prosecution contended, that the defendants fraudulently acquired title to state school fund lands located in the immediate vicinity of Redmond and that the defendants had already secured title to.

LANDOWNERS HOLD UP ROAD

Tacoma People Want Extravagant Prices for Right of Way.

TACOMA, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—J. D. Farrell has issued orders to defer until a right-of-way troubles in Tacoma are settled. He believes extravagant prices are being asked for South side real estate wanted by the company. Lots for which owners paid $250 are offered for from $300 to $1000. The Union Pacific has offered as high as $250. Officials of the company say that is more than the land is worth. Owners of property along the Union Pacific right-of-way from Prospect street to South Sixty-fourth, South Tacoma, are organizing to fight condemnation proceedings instituted by the road. While definite details are lacking, it is understood that a pool will be formed of all the interests along the route in the hope of forcing a high price for the property. It is this the case will entail a long delay on the beginning of the Union Pacific work in Tacoma.

LITTLE GOOD LAND REMAINS

Greater Portion Open to Entry at Roseburg Is Already Acquired.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—Since the publication in The Oregonian of May 11 of news from Washington to the effect that approximately 21,620 acres of land adjacent to the Ashland and Siskiyou National forests, in this district would be released from withdrawal for forestry purposes and restored to entry August 22, the local Land Office has been flooded with requests for information concerning these lands. It should be explained that but a small part of the lands thus released are vacant and subject to entry under this order. Within this area are 12,180 acres of school land, 17,880 acres unsurveyed, and 27,520 acres of the Oregon & California Railroad grant. Of the remainder, 33,800 acres, private claimants before the withdrawal, and they were, of course, the more accessible and desirable lands. Probably 60 per cent had been entered by the order, most of which is of inferior quality or so inaccessible as not to be very valuable.

ASLEEP AT THE WATCH

THOMAS GOLDEN LIES IN WAIT FOR ERRING WIFE.

Policeman Takes Him in Tow Before He Realizes the Object of His Wearisome Quest.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—After following his wife and William Golden from their home in London and locating them here, where he claims they are living as man and wife, Thomas Golden fell asleep on the lawn in front of their home while keeping watch for their return, and was arrested by a passing policeman, "on suspicion." The officer found a revolver on Golden's person and he was arrested in Police Court today on the charge of carrying concealed weapons. When Golden told Judge Gordon the story of his marital woes, the judge sent him away his revolver, then released Golden.

According to Golden, he brought his wife from New South Wales after marrying her three years ago. He lived here for a time, and introduced her into his family. Suddenly the two and a small child disappeared. Golden tracked them to London, and returned with them to Seattle. Later the trail led back to San Francisco, and here he found a marriage license record of May 21 showing William Arter, of London, and Patricia V. Golden, of Sydney, N. S. W., had been licensed to wed. His arrest in front of their home followed.

REELS AND FALLS INTO RIVER

Man Drowns at Hood River in Few Minutes After He Goes Under.

HOOD RIVER, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—In full view of a score of onlookers who were unable to aid him, Ralph Smith, a man employed on the Hood River road, fell from the new railroad bridge into the Hood River yesterday, and when taken from the water he was dead. Smith was walking across the bridge with a roll of blankets on his shoulder when he was seen to reel and fall into the river. As quickly as possible a boat was lowered on the river and brought him to the surface. Although it is stated that but eight minutes elapsed between the time he fell into the water and was brought ashore, it is thought that he was in the water for a longer time. Investigation by the coroner and a physician, it is claimed, revealed symptoms of epilepsy and it is thought he was killed by impact with the water from the high fall.

EQUIPPED WITH WIRELESS

Pacific Coast Company Has Apparatus Put on Two More Boats.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—The Pacific Coast company today entered into a contract for the installation of wireless telegraph apparatus in the steamships City of Puebla and Queen. This work will be done immediately when completed will give the Pacific Coast Company four boats for the San Francisco run which will be equipped with wireless. There are eight wireless stations between Seattle and San Francisco. Experiments from the President show communication can be had with boats on the shore at all times. When the President sails for Nome next month, experiments will be made to show how far communication can be maintained on that run.

BOY IS HELD FOR MURDER

Lad of 11 Years Kills His Playmate in Anger.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 27.—Temple King, aged 11, died this morning as the result of being struck behind the ear by a sharp rock hurled by Vestal Ramsbottom. The two boys quarreled Sunday afternoon. Later Mr. Ramsbottom called West and when he refused to come she asked Temple to bring him. Temple went after the younger boy, who hurled a rock, inflicting fatal injuries. At a coroner's inquest over the body of Temple King tonight it was ordered that Westfall Ramsbottom be held to the juvenile court to answer for murder.

Posse Settles Down to Siege.

Deputy Sheriff Dickerson, of Colfax, and Marshal Mullen, of Endicott, are still heading a posse in the Rock Lake country, expecting every hour to starve and wear out the horse thieves who have so far evaded the large posse by hiding in the rocks. Their flight through three counties has been an exciting and tiresome one, and unless they find friends they will be compelled to give up, as all escape is well guarded.

WITHIN STATE ONLY

Railroads Limit Washington Demurrage Law.

MILL MEN CRY "HURT"

Declare It Will Curtail Number of Cars for Single Shipments.

New Law Will Go Into Effect June 12.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—Railroads operating in this state have agreed to recognize the reciprocal demurrage act passed by the last Legislature in so far as it pertains to traffic originating within and consigned to points within Washington.

A rigid enforcement of this rule will mean a serious curtailment of the number of cars provided to move shingle products, and will be a serious blow to the lumber and shingle industry. Orders have been issued that cars will not be supplied where the destination is given. This move is intended to circumvent the lumbermen who have taken the position that they are not compelled to give the destination of cars when loading them. The first clash with shippers will come over the demand for a statement as to destination, and an appeal to the courts will likely be made on that issue which will determine the right of this state to regulate interstate commerce.

If shippers attempt to evade the new railroad rule by billing a car to a point near the state line, then attempt to change the destination, the roads will compel the payment of demurrage to the original destination and may compel a reloading.

The new law becomes effective June 12 and is similar to an act passed by the last Oregon Legislature.

SALEM PEOPLE AFTER LANDS

Attorney Will Insist "Actual Settler" Does Not Mean Resident.

SALEM, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—About 50 prominent residents of Salem have formed a posse of their own to see that the purchase of Southern Pacific lands, and have employed L. H. McMahon to conduct the litigation that may be necessary. They will locate upon the timber lands in one body and stand together in the contest for the right to purchase at $250 an acre.

It is understood that McMahon will sue for the character of the land. When the government made sale of the land mandatory, it must have intended that compliance with the terms of the grant would be possible. But the new law makes it impossible if an actual settler on timber lands in the mountains must be held to the same regulations as the settler on the timber lands in the valley. Much of the timber land is of such a character that it could not be used for agricultural purposes.

Since the Government gave this to the railroad company on condition that they sell to "actual settlers," it must have intended the term "actual settler" to indicate a settlement and residence according to the character of the land. When the Government made sale of the land mandatory, it must have intended that compliance with the terms of the grant would be possible. But the new law makes it impossible if an actual settler on timber lands in the mountains must be held to the same regulations as the settler on the timber lands in the valley. Much of the timber land is of such a character that it could not be used for agricultural purposes.

PICKS UP EGG OF A SHARK

Albany Man Finds Curious Rubber-like Thing at Newport.

ALBANY, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—The egg of a man-of-war shark is in the possession of Thomas Glaze, of Albany. Much of the time of the shark is spent in this part of the state. He found it last week on the beach near Waldport.

The egg is about one foot long and six or eight inches wide. It is flat and dark in color, and very much resembles a dark rubber bag, both in appearance and texture. The egg is covered with a thin, tough, rubbery membrane. One end of it is covered with a moss-like substance, where the egg was fastened to the bottom of the ocean. In accordance with the custom of sharks, which leave their eggs there to hatch. The end of the egg where it was attached to the earth is exactly like rubber.

SAWS OUT A WOODEN GOAT

Polk County Farmer Exhibits Great Natural Curiosity at Salem.

SALEM, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—Bresse Gibson, a prominent farmer of Polk County, who has originated many curiosities in which both art and nature combine their efforts, has presented the Salem Board of Trade with a wooden goat that he saw on the shore at the end of a tree. When the bark was taken off the tree the surface was very rough, presenting at a short distance the appearance of the hair of a goat. To the ordinary observer that was all that was unusual about it, but Gibson could also see that by sawing straight down the trunk he would get a slab that would not only be a perfect goat, but that would show the rounded sides, the flanks, legs and head. He sawed the section, stuck in a couple of sticks for horns and a wooden goat that it would tax the efforts of a wood carver to excel. The piece has been given a place in the Salem Board of Trade's new quarters on State street, where it excites the wonder of all who see it. The Board of Trade has a fine-haired stuffed goat in its rooms, but the real goat cannot hold its own in interest, while Bresse Gibson's wooden goat is on exhibition.

Richardson fits in every particular the description of the man for whom a $1000 reward has been offered by Fresno County, California. The man is charged with killing a deputy sheriff of the county at Fresno, while resisting arrest. The murderer was caught in the act of burrowing a residence by the deputy sheriff, and when called upon to surrender, shot and killed the deputy.

The man who is under arrest has been working at a livery stable at Meadows the past two months. Constable Kilborn received one of the circulars giving a description of the murderer and observing the resemblance and actions of the man, immediately placed him under arrest and notified Sheriff Winkler, of this city.

SAWMILLS FACING CRISIS

Loggers Threaten to Stop Work if Prices Drop.

HOQUIAM, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—The lumber business on Gray's Harbor has become very grave during the past two days and the mills were never so close to shutting down as today. Several plants have said a shutdown was evident and only those mills doing their own logging will be able to run should the situation become worse. Logs have dropped to $10 per thousand during the past few days and loggers claim they will close camps if the prices go lower. This will make a difficult market in the local market and a slump in prices is daily expected.

RAYMOND MILLS ALL BUSY

Rumors of Shutdown Regarded as a Joke—Cheap Logs a Benefit.

RAYMOND, Wash., May 27.—(Special.)—The rumor recently circulated to the effect that the mills of this harbor would close down for a period of from 30 to 60 days, owing to the unsettled condition of the lumber market, is denied and treated as a joke by the mill owners of this city, who claim that no mills here will close down, except in one of two instances where additional machinery is to be installed and the output enlarged. Several steam schooners and sailing vessels are now in harbor taking on lumber, and others are on route here from California ports. The new mills of the Clerin-Hamilton Lumber Company, Crech Brothers Lumber Company, Stone Lumber Company, John W. Dickie & Son and the Raymond Shingle Company are all being pushed to completion and will be in operation before the summer is far advanced. These new mills will increase the lumber market in this harbor to more than 500,000 feet. Owing to the large supply of timber and low price of logs the local mills will be the last to suffer through the declining lumber market.

WIDE DIFFERENCE IN BIDS.

Divergence of $20,000 in State Contract Let at $81,805.

SALEM, Or., May 27.—(Special.)—The Board of Capitol Building Commissioners today awarded to Welch & Mangels the contract for constructing the new wing of the State Insane Asylum. The bid of this firm was $81,805. Other bids were: F. B. Southwick, $98,478; H. N. Eley, $99,280; F. A. Erickson, $102,060. It is considered remarkable that there should be such a wide difference in the bids, the highest being 25 per cent above the lowest. It is apparent that if the successful bidder makes a fair profit, the highest bidder would have had a pretty good thing. This is the largest building contract the state will let this year, unless, perhaps, the contract for the new Home for Feeble-Minded should be let in one contract, in which event it might exceed this amount a little.
