Hearst and Pulitzer Both After Chicago .Chronicle Franchise.

HEARST FAILS TO LAND IT

Walsh Would Rather Throw It Away Than Let Him Have It-Employes Suddenly Notified of the Suspension.

CHICAGO, May 21.-(Special.)-Some mystery attaches to the suspension of the Chronicle, announcement of which surprised employes of the paper, with its suddenness this morning. All day there have been conferences and variday there have been conforences and various rumors about its successor, these narrowing down to W. R. Hearst and Joseph Pulitzer. Hearst was especially anxious to secure the Chronicle plant and Associated Press franchise, but it is understood that John R. Walsh refused to sell to Hearst and prefers to throw away an asset worth at least 150,000.

Hearst's representative announced this evening that all negotiations were off so far as his chief was concerned.

Late this afternoon the Chronicle force was ordered to assemble at the office, it

Late in the evening the force was dismissed and H. W. Seymour, the editor, announced that he was going to retire. Asked if the paper had been sold, he said: "You will have to ascertain that from the purchaser. Seliers rarely talk."

John R. Walsh flatly declined to answer any questions which would clear the situation. Meanwhile, the employees are rapidly being absorbed by other Chicago papers. It is believed that Joseph Pulitzer will break into the Chicago field, the opportunity being especially good at this time.

The Chronicle was a success at the start. Its first reverse came the year following its birth, when after the nomi-nation of William Jennings Bryan, following his famous "Cross of Gold" speech, it boited the regular Democratic Presidential ticket and supported the nominee of the gold Democracy, John M. Palmer, of Hilnois, and General Buckner, of Kentucky. After the defeat of Bryan the Chronicle regalated its prestige and was one of the leading newspapers of the West until 1900 when it practically bolted Bryan again, giving him only nominal support. his famous "Cross

In 1904 it repudiated Democracy altogether, and came out boldly for Roose-velt and Republican principles.

Wheelock, editor of the Pieneer Press, took on today a semblance of color when it was stated that a syndicate had purchased the stock controled by James J. FIVE COUPLES DIVORCED Unhappy Pairs Sundered by Judge Gantenbein in State Court.

Marriage vows of five couples were dis-solved by Circuit Judge Gantenbein yes-terday. These decisions by the jurist granted divorce to a father of eight chlidren and husband for 34 years, a bride of dren and husband for 34 years, a bride of an unhappy 12 months and a sweet-faced little woman clerk employed in the office of County Clerk Fields who was deserted by her husband 13 years ago. His testimony that his wife was cruel and in-sanely jealous was corroborated by his 25-year-old son, Earl, who testified he had offered his mother money to obtain a fivorce, believing separation would better parents and children. Bidwell was given a decree, in consideration of which he allowed the custody of his two minor children to Mrs. Bidwell. These children, Hazel, if years old and Herman, aged II. are now in charge of the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society. The father will pay $20 a mouth for their board. The two committees had been appointed to consider ways and means for bringing about a restoration of normal conditions in the building trades in this city. The committee from the Builders' Exchange, headed by Secretary James A. Wilson, submitted a table showing the scale of wages paid in 35 leading cities in the United States. In nearly all trade it was found that the scale paid in San Francisco was from 2½ to 15 per cent higher than that paid in Seattle, where was paid the next highest scale.

It was found that plumbers, steamfitters and pastitures were paid 6 1-4 cents and hour more in Seattle than in San Francisco. With those exceptions this city pays the highest wages in the country. 'I had a cold hang on for over two months, which developed into catairh of the head and stomach. My breath be came so offensive that I shunned people, as they did me. The mucus from my head kept dropping into my throat and I would hack, cough and spit constantly. It was disgusting and caused me intense mortification. My stomach was upset and I had no appetite. I used a dozen remedies before I tried Chamberiain's Cough Remedy. That settled it—it touched the weak spot, and effectually cured me. I used but three bottles of it, and the result was wonderful.
