TELEPHONES IN PULLMANS

OMAHA EXCURSIONISTS TRAVEL IN STYLE.

Private Exchange on Special Train Will Be Connected With Portland "Hello" System.

Governor Sheldon, of Nebraska, when he arrives in Portland next Sunday morning, with the Omaha business men's excursion, can call up Governor Chamberlain by telephone without getting out of his berth in the Pullman, if he so desires. Arrangements to connect the special train with the city telephone system are complete, and the connections can be made within five minutes after the Omaha party arrives.

train will be connected with the company's main exchange at West Park and Alder streets.

The telephone system on the train is complete in itself. It is used by the members of the party when the train is moving as well as when it is on the sidetrack, and conversation is carried on by persons at different ends of the train with ease. Arrangements for an elaborate reception to the Nebraska party, who will arrive in Portland at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, have been made by the commercial bodies of this city. The programme includes an informal reception to the visitors at the Union Depot at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Monday morning the party will be shown about the city on three big excursion cars, following which the excursionists will be entertained at luncheon at the Commercial Club at noon. The party will remain in Portland until 3 o'clock Monday afternoon.

CONFER WITH MR. BRISTOL

Furniture Dealers Worry Over Outcome of Trust Prosecution. Anxious furniture dealers, charged with being members of the Pacific Coast furniture monopoly, visited the office of United States District Attorney Bristol, in the Federal building, yesterday. Many of them are confessing to violation of the Sherman anti-trust law, while others are going slow, to see if there is not some loophole for escape from the indictment. Several of the visitors brought lawyers with them. It is expected that the majority of them will call on Mr. Bristol before their arraignment Monday. "Some of them will 'sweat blood' before we get through with them," said Mr. Bristol yesterday. He refused to say anything further than that a number had called on him in person.

Falls Prey to Sweetest of Delusions.

Nameless Wanderer Believes Himself to Be Cornelius Vanderbilt, and His Padded Cell a Palace.

CORNELIUS VANDERBILT arrived in Portland yesterday and spent an eventful day seeing things. Mr. Vanderbilt spoke freely of his plans for the future and said that the first thing he intends doing is to put Harriman out of the ring. He says he may buy Harriman's interests in the Pacific Northwest as a birthday present for a little cousin of his. Among other things Mr. Vanderbilt spoke of having visited Kelly's Butte recently out of curiosity. He said he saw Emma Goldman and Lillian Russell breaking rock there in male attire. He intends reporting this peculiar incident to New York headquarters. The eminent visitor said he would be in the city only until a special train comes from New York to convey him back home. Just where he comes from he failed to say and a careful inquiry failed to shed any light on the subject. During the forenoon he made a formal call on Judge Cameron, who graciously placed a padded cell at his disposal.

"It isn't half bad to be crazy in such a way as to believe you are one of the richest men on earth or elsewhere," said the Judge as Cornelius and his brain-storm were led away to a lunatic's cell.

Entire Squadron to Come North.

Advice received yesterday from San Diego, Cal., state that the flagship Charleston, of the Pacific squadron, accompanied by the gunboat Princeton, would leave the Southern port Tuesday and at San Francisco would be joined by the Preble, Milwaukee and Albany. The entire squadron will then proceed to Portland to take part in the rose festival and the celebration of the Fourth of July. The ships, under Rear-Admiral Swinburne, will arrive in Portland about the 20th.
