

CAN'T BE MOVED BY FIERCE FIRE

(Continued from First Page.)

events beginning with the explosion in the Victorio mine and ending with the earlier meetings between the witness and the leaders of the Federation in Denver. To the extent that traffic with the "other side" in the war of labor and capital in Colorado was creditable, they succeeded in discrediting the witness.

Taking up the admission of Orchard in direct examination that he had been treacherous to his comrades in Cripple Creek by tipping off a train-wrecking plot, they developed the fact that Orchard entered the employ of D. C. Scott, who had charge of the railway detectives.

Orchard said that when Scott had met K. C. Sterling, a detective in the employ of the Mineowners' Association, and that Scott had paid his expenses and accompanied him to Denver on the trip when first he had met Moyer and Haywood. He said that he had agreed to report to Scott, but that he was lying to the latter, never intending to report to him and never did make genuine reports to him.

Crimes Great and Small. Orchard said that he went to Scott first because he had not been paid for his work at the Victorio mine, and he was jealous because he was given hard work like the "Wendover job, while the other men got the simple task of train-wrecking by displacing a rail.

More crimes, great and small, were added to Orchard's record today. The Cripple Creek woman with whom he committed bigamy had three sons; Orchard stole high-grade ore from a messmate; he stole two cases of powder from the Victorio mine; he stole powder to make one of the bombs for the train-wrecking at Cripple Creek; he stole powder to make another of the bombs for the train-wrecking at Cripple Creek.

Orchard said he also "high graded" while working in the Victorio before the strike. In his direct testimony, Orchard said he had reported to Davis the finding of powder in the Victorio mine. "Up to the time you told this to Davis, had there been any talk to you of proposed violence to the mine?" asked Mr. Richardson.

Proposed Victorio Explosion. "Yes, I'd heard the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners had blown up mines before," he replied.

Wards Off "Mincowners' Thugs." Suddenly, toward the close of the day, the defense took up the trip Orchard made to Southern Colorado with Moyer in the early part of 1904 and showed that Moyer feared to go south unguarded because "mincowners' officials" had beaten up innocent union men, and had sent for Orchard to aid in protecting him.

Orchard Under Cross-Fire. Proposed Victorio Outrage—Took Money From Both Parties. BOISE, Idaho, June 7.—When Orchard resumed the stand today E. F. Richardson began at once to ply him with a rapid fire of questions before answering Orchard's questions.

Confronts Brother Bomb-Maker. "Is E. Easterly in the room?" asked Mr. Richardson in a loud voice. A man stood up in the rear of the court and was commanded by the attorney for the defense to come down the center aisle and confront the witness.

Names Accomplices at Wardner. Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

ardson, "that you were not at Burke or Millan playing poker when this explosion occurred?" "Sure he lit the fuse. "I'm sure," came the reply. "I lit one of the fuses which fired powder under the mill." "Did you know Haywood, Moyer or Pettibone at this time?" "No, sir." "They were not with you at Wardner when the mill was blown up, were they?" "No, sir, not that I know of."

Rejoins Union in Colorado. The witness said it was his own initiative which took him to Colorado and said that no one connected with the Western Federation of Miners had urged his going. At the time, Davis, who had been in charge of the party which blew up the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill.

Made Money as High-Grader. Mr. Richardson next took the witness through his "high grading" experience in the Victorio mine. "When you said the other day that you had 'high graded' in the Victorio during the strike, you simply meant that you had stolen ore, didn't you?"

Proposed Victorio Explosion. "Yes, I'd heard the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners had blown up mines before," he replied.

Wards Off "Mincowners' Thugs." Suddenly, toward the close of the day, the defense took up the trip Orchard made to Southern Colorado with Moyer in the early part of 1904 and showed that Moyer feared to go south unguarded because "mincowners' officials" had beaten up innocent union men, and had sent for Orchard to aid in protecting him.

Orchard Under Cross-Fire. Proposed Victorio Outrage—Took Money From Both Parties. BOISE, Idaho, June 7.—When Orchard resumed the stand today E. F. Richardson began at once to ply him with a rapid fire of questions before answering Orchard's questions.

Confronts Brother Bomb-Maker. "Is E. Easterly in the room?" asked Mr. Richardson in a loud voice. A man stood up in the rear of the court and was commanded by the attorney for the defense to come down the center aisle and confront the witness.

Names Accomplices at Wardner. Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

grade ore from a roommate's trunk and selling it for $10. The roommate, John Thompson, had "high graded" the ore.

Got Money From Both Sides. "I told Scott I was going to try to find out something about Easterly," "So?" "Yes, I told him that."

Orchard said that when he returned to Cripple Creek from Denver, he reported to Detective Scott and Sterling, but did not tell them about his interview with Haywood and Moyer.

Identifies Another Accomplice. "That's the man with whom I made the bombs," he replied.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

Orchard admitted that while he was in the Idaho mining country he became quite a gambler, playing poker most of the time. He was asked how he voted the day the unions decided to go down to Wardner to blow the Bunker Hill & Sullivan mill, and said he did not remember. Mr. Richardson wanted the witness to name all who attended the meeting. He gave the names of five or six.

The Wonderful Pianola. The greatest and most popular of all achievements in the history of the musical world. The one and only player recognized and endorsed by the great artists and educational authorities.

There is not a vestige of doubt today of the Pianola's place in art. It stands upon the highest plane. It has solved the last problems in the matter of placing good music in the homes of every lover of melody.

THE HOUSE OF HIGHEST QUALITY. Exclusive Agents in Western America for the Wonderful Weite-Mignon Piano.

353 WASHINGTON STREET, CORNER OF PARK. And Stores in All Important Pacific Northwest Cities.

CONGER DIED A POOR MAN. LOS ANGELES, June 7.—A petition for letters of administration for the estate of E. H. Conger, late United States Ambassador to Mexico, was filed today by Sarah J. Conger, his widow.

PEABODY'S LIFE THREATENED. KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 7.—James H. Peabody, former Governor of Colorado, who is here on business, said last night in an interview that he had, since the Haywood trial in Boise began, received several anonymous letters threatening his life.

PAUCITY ON GENOA BOURSE. NEW YORK, June 7.—According to private advices received in financial circles, the panic on the Genoa, Italy, began with the preparations for May session.

HOME SERIES NO. 3. Bridget, the Cook, who's always Jolly, Says Ill-health's from thoughtless folly. "My mistress and all the children," says she, "Are healthy and happy as they can be."

TREMENDOUS PRICE CUT! ALL BEEF Except Loins and Prime Ribs 5c PER POUND. For 2 hours—TODAY ONLY. From 9 A.M. to 10 A.M.—From 2 P.M. to 3 P.M.

ALL DAY LONG Delicious Veal Sausage 12 1/2c Per Pound! This is one of the choicest and daintiest of meat dishes for Sunday dinner.

MUTTON Chops, Stew, Roast, Leg of Mutton. VEAL Shanks, Stew, Roast, Chops, Loins. PORK Shanks, Roast.

THE HARRY WOOD MARKET. "HOME OF GOVERNMENT-INSPECTED MEAT" Cor. First and Alder. Two Entrances.

Specialists for Men. This institution has been located here in Portland since 1883, and during this long period we can honestly say that the satisfaction we receive in seeing thousands of cured cases...

Constipation, Piles and Fistula. Cured by up-to-date methods. Not temporary relief, but a positive, permanent cure guaranteed.

ST. LOUIS MEDICAL AND DISPENSARY. CORNER SECOND AND YAMHILL STREETS, PORTLAND, OREGON.

GARFIELD WILL TOUR WEST. Spends July 13 in Portland, Then Goes to Klamath. ORGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, June 7.—Secretary Garfield, of the Interior Department, who is soon to leave...