NINETEEN GIRLS GRADUATE

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT OF ST. HELENS HALL

Diplomas Presented by Bishop Scadding—Convention Week of Episcopal Church of Oregon.

Nineteen girls were awarded diplomas last night at the annual commencement exercises of St. Helens Hall. The exercises were held in the large gymnasium of the institution, and were a part of the convention week activities of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon.

The exercises at St. Helens Hall last night were presided by a procession of the girls of the institution from the hall to the gymnasium, which was effectively decorated. More than 700 seats had been provided for the occasion and the room was crowded. The girls were all dressed in white gowns and entered the hall singing "Ancient of Days," the professional at the school.

Rev. W. A. M. Breck, chaplain of St. Helens Hall, officiated at the exercises, assisted by Rev. A. A. Morrison, rector of Trinity Church. Bishop Scadding addressed the graduating class and presented the diplomas. The girls sang the anthems, songs and other parts of the choral service.

The members of the graduating class are: General course, Marguerite Crosby, Hazel Robb, Marie Louise Emmons, Mary Mercedes Sims, Virginia June Steffens, Hazel Irene Tichner, Hazel Frances Ferris, Jessie Hale, Hilda Hagedorn; college preparatory course, Mary L. Prizes were also awarded for meritorious essays based on a series of lectures on church history given by Bishop Scadding. Evelyn Wilson received first honors; Louise Emmons and Margaret Crosby, second, and Hazel Ferris, third. The productions of 11 other students were also given honorable mention.

The sessions of the Woman's Auxiliary, which convened at St. Helens both morning and afternoon, were interesting and well attended. Mrs. A. R. Hill, whose term as president ended, was elected honorary president for life. Other officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. W. A. M. Breck; vice-president, Mrs. Charles Scadding; recording secretary, Mrs. Walter J. Burns; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Adrian Oakes; recording secretary, Mrs. M. Fairlow; organizing secretary, Mrs. W. A. M. Breck; secretary of Junior Auxiliary, Mrs. A. C. Newell; treasurer, Mrs. Harry; diocesan organist, Mrs. Van Dusen; representative to general convention, Mrs. Charles Scadding.

Bishop Scadding in an address before the convention told of plans to erect a girls' dormitory, under charge of the Episcopal Church at Eugene, for the accommodation of young women attending the University of Oregon. The dormitory, if built, will be a memorial to Miss Mary Rodney. No definite plans for financing the project have yet been outlined. Addresses were also made by Rev. U. H. Gibbs, of La Grange; Rev. W. A. M. Breck, and Archbishop Chambers, of Portland, and Rev. J. M. Goodheart, of Ashland.

The diocesan convention will formally organize this noon at Trinity Church. In the afternoon the regular business of the
