

RESIGN, BUT ACT NOT RECOGNIZED

Mayors of French Cities Block All Municipal Government.

WALL UP TOWN HALL DOORS

Winegrowers' Grievances Taken Up by Municipalities, With Result That Southern France Is in State of Misgovernment.

PARIS, June 12.—The government appears to be determined to refuse to accept the resignations of the municipal officers so long as their resignations are not accepted by the prefects, and as no representatives of the central government can be appointed to carry on the duties of the officials who have resigned, a deadlock has thus been created, and so long as it continues all municipal acts or works are suspended.

In a letter to the Mayors, Premier Clemenceau today warns them of the serious results to the people they represent if the officials carry out their determination not to perform their functions. He points out that the law of 1884 gives him a month in which to decide whether he will accept their resignations or decline them, and that in the meanwhile the resignations would not become definitive. The Premier, therefore, was not called upon to appoint administrative commissions until the expiration of a month, and under the law the municipalities are responsible for properly carrying on the duties of their officers.

MEXICO PROPOSES PEACE

Her Delegates to The Hague Are Pledged to Humanitarianism.

MEXICO CITY, June 12.—Minister of Foreign Relations Mariscal, speaking for President Diaz, outlined the attitude of the Mexican government before The Hague conference in the following words: "It must be understood that the Republic of Mexico will not have that vital interest in the particular questions which will be debated by the body of the delegates to the peace conference at The Hague as will the powers of the first class. Owing to the particular stage of development which our country has just reached, to our inspirations and to our aims for the future, we care little for the somewhat technical discussion which will probably be indulged in on the question of disarmament; that is, we will only approach such in the broad spirit of humanitarianism.

In this spirit our delegates are instructed. Mexico desires peace—universal peace, if such a culmination is within the realm of the practical, but her delegates will be advised to lend her of their influence to any such chemical or physical disarmament, which consummation, however devoutly wished, we think is more a matter of the millennium than of the present. "Although Mexico has a well-equipped army, its functions, as seen and directed by the present administration, are more those of a police power than of an instrument for aggression or even defense. By all the logic of present conditions, the fear of aggression from European powers is not even a remote contingency, nor is there a shadow of a probability of trouble with the United States. Therefore, our army, and what little we have of a navy, is maintained solely that a state of absolute peace and security may reign in international affairs in order that the resources of this country may be developed."

DIVIDED WITH THE MAYOR

(Continued From First Page.) eney for me. Langdon and Heney also promised the same thing." Did Rudolph Spreckels make any promise? "No, I never spoke to Spreckels." "Did you tell Burns all the facts?" "I did. I told Heney and Langdon also. I told the truth. I made my statement to Heney, Langdon and Burns at the same time."

JURY CENSURES CHAUFFEUR

RANBURY, Eng. June 12.—The inquest into the death of H. C. Johnson, of California, was held here today. Mr. Johnson was killed in an automobile accident at Edges Hill, near here, June 10, and at the same time three other members of the party—his wife and Mr. and Mrs. James Black, of Philadelphia—were seriously injured.

the Restaurant Men's Association. Ruef identified the contract as the one he had referred to when he told the Mayor that he (Ruef) had a contract with the French restaurant men. Mr. Campbell then offered the document as evidence. The contract simply provides for the retention of Abraham Ruef, for a term of two years, as attorney for the French restaurants, known as Delmonico's, Marchand's, the new Poodle Dog, the Pup and the Bay State, and places the retaining fee at $500. Ruef said the contract was signed in February, 1906, a few weeks after he had received the $2000.

Admits He Was Equivocating.

Mr. Heney's redirect examination of Ruef was brief and pointed. "Mr. Ruef," he asked, "at the times you stated that you had not given the Mayor any of the French restaurant men's money, were you under oath? Were you telling the truth then?" "I am telling the truth now," Ruef replied. "Then you were not telling the truth then?" A pause, Ruef crossed and recrossed his knees. There was resentment in his voice when he finally answered: "Well, the natural deduction that I was equivocate on the proposition then."

FATHER ANSELM IS DEAD

Rev. Father Anselm, O. S. B., of Sacred Heart Church, one of the best-known Catholic priests of the Pacific Northwest, died suddenly at the Sacred Heart Parish house, 823 Milwaukee street, last night of heart disease. He had been ailing for a few days, but was not considered by his physicians to be in a serious condition. Father Anselm was 59 years of age, and was born in Wurtemberg, Germany. He was ordained in 1868.

Rev. Father Anselm.

Engelberg, Switzerland, 25 years ago. In 1880 he came to Oregon, where he labored in the educational and mission field. Father Anselm is said to have been one of the most learned men on the North Pacific Coast. For a number of years he was professor of Hebrew, Greek, history and moral theology at Mount Angel College. He spoke Syriac and a number of modern languages fluently. Nevertheless, his manner was that of a simple and trusting child. No man could have been more modest of his learning. IS A TITLED ENGLISHMAN

Story About Murderer Barrington's Blue Blood Revived.

OTTAWA, Ont. June 12.—An announcement by an evening paper that a man now in jail at Clayton, Mo., for the murder of James F. McLaughlin, has been identified as a titled Englishman who went to South Africa as a private in the Strathcona Horse, created a stir here.

ST. LOUIS, June 12.—The assertion that "Lord" Frederick Seymour Barrington was the slayer of James F. McCann, is a titled Englishman is accepted here as simply another identification of the prisoner. Percy Tressler asserts he was formerly a corporal in the British Army and served through the South African War with "Frederick Seymour." He held a lengthy consultation with the prisoner several days ago at the jail and declared the prisoner to be Frederick Seymour, member of a prominent English family. Yesterday Tressler was refused further admittance to the jail.

AMERICAN GETS MIXED UP

Four San Francisco Brothers Said to Have Precipitated Fight That May Involve Serious Results, as Bribes Are Passed. MEXICO CITY, June 12.—Salvador with a force of regular troops today defeated a body of revolutionists and Nicaraguans, who yesterday captured the port of Acajutla, and who later attempted to move on the Salvadoran capital. The invading forces were driven back to Acajutla, and are now making a stand there. The battle was fought near the town of Sonsonata, which the invaders endeavored to capture.

TAKE TOWN EASILY

Salvadoreans Defeat Enemies at Sonsonata. Sonsonata, which is well garrisoned, is about 12 miles from Acajutla, on the Salvadoran railroad, which connects the port of Acajutla with the capital of the republic. As soon as the invading force entered the harbor they were poorly defended. They then seized a train, which happened to be at the terminus of the road at the time, and swiftly moved on to Sonsonata. Meanwhile President Figueroa had heard of the capture of the town and ordered an immediate mobilization of the Salvadoran army. A number of troops were rushed by train from the capital to Sonsonata. During the night the invaders surrounded the town and attacked it this morning, with the result above stated.

CONSPIRE TO START REVOLUTION.

About a month ago John and George Moissant are said to have entered into a conspiracy with a whole lot of other men, to start a revolution in Salvador, the officers of the garrison at Sonsonata were bribed and on the day set for the capturing of the town the coffee given to the troops was doctored.
