Higgins is a fine pitcher, and played professional ball last season in Walla Walla. HAILSTORM SPOILS ROSES

HIGH WIND, ACCOMPANIED BY RAIN, SWEEPS OVER CITY.

Sudden Squall Comes From South and Rages Violently for Fifteen Minutes.

During a squall that came suddenly yesterday afternoon, the wind attained a velocity of 50 miles an hour, the temperature dropped 14 degrees in 15 minutes, and in a period covering two and a half minutes .65 inch of rain fell. The storm lasted a quarter of an hour and during six minutes of that time the rain fell in torrents. The Government gauge showed .25 inch to have fallen between 2:15 and 2:30 P. M.

The wind came up suddenly and blew directly from the south. During the height of the storm it was impossible to see for a distance of 100 yards. Umbrellas were practically useless and people who were far from shelter were wet through. Shortly before noon there was a violent hail storm. Hail stones as large as peas fell. Horses were badly frightened and drivers had difficulty in controlling their teams. The storm was local in its extent.

Between 12 o'clock, noon, June 11 and 6 o'clock P. M., June 12, 6.39 inches of rain fell. Since June 10, 1.02 inches of rain has been recorded. The year beginning September 1, 1906, up to 6 o'clock P. M., yesterday, was 42.1. Following the storm of yesterday morning, the weather predicts fair and warmer weather. Winds will shift to the north and summer weather will be on top again.

The river began falling yesterday morning and will drop to 18.5 feet by Saturday. The Upper Columbia and the Snake are falling. While the Weather Bureau will not predict river a great deal higher than five days in advance, the prospects for a flood are diminishing rapidly. The river at Portland has remained stationary for five days. A large part of the snow in the foothills has melted and to raise the Willamette at Portland above the 30-foot mark would require a protracted season of hot weather. Government records on high water, covering a period of 31 years show that the crest of the floods usually comes on or before June 10. The highest water in 1854 reached the highest point June 7.

The hall and severe rain storms of yesterday did considerable damage to rose bushes and fruit trees in Portland. The foliage was injured as the hail stones went through the leaves. The roses which were in bloom were spoiled.

LOS ANGELES CLAIMS ROSS

Outfielder Must Play Either with Portland or Los Angeles.

The little touch of winter that descended upon Portland yesterday morning and the June shower that passed through the city just about baseball game time, was just enough to call off the second game scheduled between Portland and Los Angeles. About 2 o'clock Manager McCredie went out to the grounds to look things over and decided to play ball. He failed to consult the weather man, so there was nothing doing.

YOUNG MEN GET DIPLOMAS

Annual Commencement Exercises of Hill Military Academy.

The commencement exercises of the Hill Military Academy were held last night in the Academy gymnasium. Sixteen young men, comprising the '07 class, were given their diplomas. A large number of friends of the graduates and patrons of the institution gathered in the large hall, which was profusely decorated with pennants, flags, evergreens and flowers.

The graduates are Otto Bradley, Merle Campbell, Walter Gleason, Dean Hayes, Benjamin Hill, Malcolm MacEwan, Frank Scott, Lewis Thompson, Jerome W. Hill and George White, of Portland; Wilbur Dallas, of Franklin, Pa.; Gerald Eastham, of Oswego, Or.; Albert Merchant, of Marshfield, Or.; and Charles Taylor, of Vancouver, Wash. Eight received diplomas for the scientific course and the other eight for the military course.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the entire class, in full dress uniform of the academy, marched into the hall and took their seats. After short musical programme, Mr. Reed addressed the graduates. He said in part: "I mean by success not the mere accumulation of money, but the best efforts of the truly successful man, put forth in directions for the welfare of society as a whole, and have no pecuniary return. I refer to the duties of citizenship, of labor for upbuilding the community, and of making it a better place in which to dwell."

After the closing of your school days you will end largely the period of dependence on others and will begin to decide for yourselves the things upon which your future is to be built. No man is ever disappointed without meeting failure, and disappointments and these must be made the stepping-stones for advancement. Never in history of the world have such opportunities been presented to young men. But at the same time there is required from each one who would succeed, a stern adherence to the principles of integrity. There is no place for anything that has been found best for society. Stated simply, the great basis for which every man must build his future is integrity. There is no place for one who may not be depended upon to do as he agrees, to speak the truth and to render an equivalent always for value received. In short, be true to yourselves and then you will be false to no man."

After the diplomas had been distributed the class marched out of the hall. The foot was then cleared for the drill, all the spectators, who were occupying seats in the center of the hall, moved back to the wall and left a large open space in the rear. The judges of the drill were Captains R. C. Scott and M. J. Denny, of the Third Regiment, O. N. G. In the first drill eight of the larger boys competed and the gold medal first place was won by Clarence Stoddard and a silver medal for second place was won by Lewis Thompson. The next drill was open to the smaller boys and the gold medal in this class was won by Samuel Swiggett.

THREE RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Annual Commencement of Gillespie School of Expression.

The seventh annual commencement of the Gillespie School of Expression occurred at the Heilig theater last night in the presence of a large audience. The exercises were under the direction of Mrs. Emma Wilson-Gillespie, to whom the success of the past year must be very gratifying. This has been the best year in the history of the institution, which is one of the most unique and effective schools in the Northwest.

Three graduates received diplomas last night and contributed most of the entertainment. They were Miss Cora Madeline Shaver, Miss Margaret Shelley and Miss Sophia Geary Shaver. The two latter having completed their post-graduate work.

After the invocation by Rev. T. B. Ford, Miss Minnie W. Hatfield rendered a beautiful and difficult violin solo with splendid success. Then Miss Shaver gave a group of three children recitations, consisting of "Billy Millie's Circus Show" and "Little Mandy's Christmas Tree," by Riley, and "Like Grandma Used to Do," by Stearns. She allowed these to be given by a number of other students of the school, appeared advantageously in this number. Miss Higgins acted as accompanist.

WET GROUNDS STOP GAME

West Side High and Columbia Teams Fail to Play.

The championship ball game of the Interscholastic League, between the West Side High and Columbia University, scheduled for yesterday afternoon, was postponed because of wet grounds. The game was scheduled for Multnomah Field, but when the boys arrived they found the field too wet. The game will be played at the Multnomah Field on Friday.

The teams stand an equal chance of winning. The first time the two teams met, High School won, 1 to 0, in a very close and fast game. Later Columbia met the Portland Academy, and lost 1 to 4. High School played the Academy and won, 4 to 5. The other teams, Hill, the East Side High and Allen were each defeated by the first three teams. That put Columbia, Portland Academy and the West Side High School in the post-season series. The first game of this series was played between Columbia and the Academy, Columbia winning 5 to 4. High School and the Academy met next and the High School won 4 to 4. This put the Academy out of the finals, and left the finals to Columbia and the High School.

Columbia probably has the best of the High School in fielding. In hitting the Academy probably has the best of the High School in fielding. In hitting the Academy probably has the best of the High School in fielding.

The Themodist is THE Great Improvement in the Construction of Piano Players That Critics Have Been Awaiting. Even the original appearance of the Pianola itself, ten years ago, did not create a greater enthusiasm than the marvelous "Themodist." It has taken over six months to catch up with the advance orders for this new model of the Pianola, and even now the supply is limited.

Only With the Pianola

The supremacy of the Pianola is still more decisively emphasized by this latest and greatest improvement. The "Themodist" accomplishes the seemingly impossible and marks in the most positive manner the great superiority between the Pianola and a host of other piano players—which are, at best, but poor imitations.

DR. PERKINS' SANITARY REFRIGERATORS

The Dr. Perkins principle is the creation of a positive and continuous circulation, which is at all times forcing fresh, pure air into and expelling impure air from the Refrigerator. No other Refrigerator can show such a positively pure, fresh air circulation, and it is from this system that the "Sanitary" has derived its name. The commonsense simplicity of these Refrigerators is shown in the accompanying illustration. Fresh air enters the Refrigerator at intake "A." Air-chamber "B" being constantly filled acts as a tempering chamber. The forcing of fresh air into this chamber expels a proportionate amount of partially cooled air into chamber "C" where it is further cooled, and immediately drops to provision chamber "D," where the warm and impure air is forced through outlet "E." Dr. Perkins' Refrigerators cost no more than ordinary refrigerators and are far more efficient and economical. We are showing many styles and sizes in our Basement Department.
