NO PRUNE CORNER

Eastern Trade Has a Wrong Impression.

DISTRIBUTED

Armsby Is a Heavy Contractor in Clark County, but His Operations Are Confined to That Section.

A rumor has been current in the Eastern prune trade lately that certain packing in-terests in this section have been trying to corner the new crop of Italian prunes, The story appears to have originated in Clark story appears to have originated in Clark County, Wash, judging from the following letter written by F. L. French & Co., of Ellaworth, Wash, to their agents, W. B. Winslow & Co., at New York, and just printed in a trade paper:

"We have been spending our time among the growers. It is very hard to buy goods, and now that the price has advanced, growing the trade fail deliveries. Thus we ers will not make full deliveries. Thus we will have to buy at higher prices to fill the prunes, as they are paying more than others. They are trying to control the market. They have on hand a great quantity of last season's crop and have done everything possible to get out reports to the effect that the crop is short, in order to un-load their old prunes at a good figure. They have also held the new crop unless they have begun to sell within the last few days. Their actions have greatly misled the trade in the East. We expect a drop in prunes when they and some other packers begin to

'So far the business has been very unsatstactory to us, as we know the growers will deliver short, and we must buy addi-

It is probable that Mr. French refers to the operations of the J. K. Armsby Co. in Clark County, but from all that can be Clark County, but from all that can be learned, he has not cornered the Italian prune crop, even in Clark County, to say nothing of Oregon. Armsby's Washington purchases are estimated at about 50 cars out of a total estimated yield of 150 to 170 cars in that section. Of the remainder of the Clark County contracts, which equal about 50 per cent of the probable yield, a number have been made by Lazalle Bros. of Albany, and other packers.

As Armsby's operations are confined to Clark County and the big crop of Oregon will be well distributed among the various packers of this state, it is different to see how any comer can be seened. low any corner can be worked up on Italian prunes this year.

evident that a lower range of quotations will be necessary to cause a movement.

Anywhere from 22 to 24 cents was asked for eggs on the street and no one seemed to have a very clear idea as to the actual value of this article. Receipts were small the hops here, which may interest some of your readers.

I have been through all the hop-growing districts of Kent; the vines have started well and are now about half way up the poles, but they have a severe attack of aphis blight and some of the large growers are already spraying their hops. The weather has been very wet and cold the last few days; this is against the hops, and in favor of the lice, and if this weather should continue it will be serious.

The London market today is very firm and holders are asking be per cent more money. There are not many sellers. The stocks of hops here are small, nearly all the growers have sold.

Oats and Barley Weak.

The weakness of both outs and barley are the features of the cereal markets. In the former line the trouble is occasioned by the former line the trouble is occasioned by the former line the trouble is occasioned by the many old oats on hand, which the holders are analous to get rid of before the new crop comes on. The barley market just now is suffering from a lack of demand. Wheat continues firm, but the market is very quiet.

FRUIT BRINGS HIGH PRICES.

California Quotations Are Fifty Per Cent

Although the fruit senson is well advanced, prices on most varieties hold up close to the opening figures. This is particularly the case with California orchard fruits, on which shippers sake 50 per cent more than they did at this time inst year. Portland jobbers, however, seem to think that seasonable declines are necessary and certain fruits, particularly apricots, are being sold here for actually less than they cost. This is a very pleasant thing for the consumer, but rather hard on the wholessiler.

Business was active yesterday and most fruits and vegetables were in good supply. The advance in the potato market has come to a halt, as buyers object to payring the high prices demanded for out etock and are turning their attention more to new potatoes.

Front street was full of poultry yesterday, and huyers were few and far between the wood on 500 gentless and part of the supply, some of which has been on hand since Monday, was carried over another day. It is evident that a lower range of quotations will be necessary to cause a movement. Anywhere from 22 to 24 cents was asked for eggs on the street and no one seemed to have a very clear field as to the actual.

Speculation in Stocks Practically at a Standstill-No Dividend Action Is Taken by the Directors of Reading.

NEW YORK, June 19 .- Speculation in stocks was practically at a standstill today. The sh professional traders attempted to make me mething of the Reading directors' meeting. but little success attended the efforts to revive expectations that the dividend would be increased. The trading in Reading during the first hour represented the effects of these efforts. Small as was the result, it amounted to a large proportion of the day's transactions. The price movement was al qually insignificant,

The $2,500,000 gold engagement for shipment to Paris, added to the $1,000,000 which went out by today's steamer, was about equal to estimates. Paris also took $1,000. one from the pants of Engine court, but the recession was not sufficient to pre-clude the possibility of a continuance of the gold outgo, which has now reached the sum of $15,800,000 since the movement began. Foreign bankers are not disposed to see any warrant in this movement for sup-posing political or other troubles to be for-shadowed. The possible position of the Bank of France offers sufficient explanation for of France offers sufficient explanation for the efforts of that institution toward re-cuperation. On June 13 its gold holdings amounted to $544.815.250, compared with $588,388,755 on June 14, 1806. The star-ment of the previous week shows its bill holdings to be $55,500,000 in excess of a year suo, and its note issues $29,000,000 on the same comparison. Even the receipt of the gold now in transit for Paris, it will be seen, will leave a considerable margin be seen, will leave a considerable margi-be seen, will leave a considerable margin of recuperation still to be effected before last year's position is equaled.

The influence of the movement on New York bank reserves is none the less impor-tant. The rate for call loans was higher again today in spite of the almost complete stagnation of the stock market, and rates for time loans rose. or time loans rose.

Henry Clews Discusses the Uneasiness Caused by the Japanese Agltation-Praise for Hughes.

Henry Clew's, writing of financial affairs in

The street continues more or less disturbed by the possibilities of Government interfer-ence with corporation methods. The action taken against the anthracits coal combinacially as the opinion is general that the Government stands a fair chance of winning its case, although the latter is likely to occupy a considerable length of time in the courts. As an offest to this, however, there was the admirable veto message of Governor Hughes upon the 2-cent fare bill at Albany. Governor Hughes took the ground that two wrongs did not make a right; and that because the rail roady had offended in some particulars the state was not justified in exercising a vin-dictive spirit in the administration of jus-tice. Governor Hughes' arguments were statesman-like, sound, and unanswerable; and have certainly raised him still higher in the have certainly raised him still higher in the ranks as a man of conspicuous ability, good judgment and high character. Considerable unsasiness was shown at times over the Japanese agitation. This is absurd. Japan does not want war with the United States. Such a contingency is unquestion-ably farthest from the minds of those who control the destines of this new power in ontrol the destinies of this new power in the Pacific. Even were Japan disposed to crosse swords with the United States, her rulers are too keen to risk certain defeat. Japan can not afford to go to war with a country of such not afford to go to war with a country of such was resources as the United States.
