SUGAR HELD STEADY

Weather Prevents the Eastern Market From Advancing.

CHANGE MAY COME NOW

Raws Declined With Heavy Receipts From Cuba—Holiday Air in the Local Market—Eggs Are Somewhat Higher.

The unseasonable weather that, except for the last few days, has prevailed in the Eastern States, is responsible principally for the steadiness that has ruled in the sugar market at a time when advances are usually expected. Now that the weather in the East has turned warmer, it will likely have a stimulating effect on the Eastern sugar trade, which may be reflected by higher prices on this Coast.

At the same time that the cold weather checked the demand, there have been unusually large receipts of raw sugar on the Atlantic seaboard, which the refineries have not been able to take care of. The visible supply also had its effect, and the market was practically a buyers market. The total production to May 31 was 1,363,664 tons, with receipts since bringing it up to 1,378,000 tons, calling for an increased final estimate of 1,425,000 tons. Reviewing the raw sugar situation, an Eastern broker writes:

"The market hasn't been able to stand the strain of the week's big arrivals, the continued additions being made to the Cuba crop, the dull demand and the big stocks in the hands of the refiners. The conditions as they have developed have been unfavorable and the result is shown in lower prices. Afloat stock, unsold, and there is always sugar in this position to menace stability, has been offered, taken at declines, with succeeding offers only bringing forth still further declines. But, while unsold sugars afloat are responsible for many of the halts and declines in the sugar market, in the present season of falling values there have been other causes contributing, causes that affected the very foundation upon which the market has been built. The basis is production and consumption, and, as is maintained the ratio between these two elements, so prices move. The progress of the Cuba crop seemed to indicate an outturn of not over 1,300,000 tons, and in relation to consumption the probability that it might be curtailed and the big Summer season shortened by unfavorable weather was not taken into consideration. The refiners purchased big quantities of raw sugar. Wholesale grocers laid in big stocks of refined. Prices advanced. There has been good business, but if we had warmer weather it would be better. At the refinery ports markets refined has been moving out freely, but it has not been going into consumption fast enough. There is too much of it being held throughout the country. Such a condition does not immediately affect the primary markets, but it don't take long for it to work back. However, hot weather in this respect will improve things; we may make up a part of that which has been lost."

POULTRY IS NOT WANTED.

Chicken Quotations Are Slashed—Eggs Firm and Active.

The poultry market was in a sadly demoralized condition yesterday. Receipts, as has been the case every day this week, were unusually large, and buyers were slow to take hold. Some firms are still carrying coops received last Monday. Others succeeded in cleaning up their surplus by sharply cutting prices to 11 cents on hens and 14 cents on Springs.

Eggs were scarce and cleaned up well, though there was still a wide range in the prices quoted on the street, sales being made all the way from 22½ to 24 cents. There is a disposition shown in some quarters to keep prices down, though it is difficult to see what is gained thereby, as the retailers know full well that stocks are short and they are willing to pay the advanced price. Where one buyer refuses to accept eggs at the price quoted, others stand ready to take them.

A brisk movement was reported in the butter market at the prices that have been current for some time past.

CHERRIES AT BUYERS' PRICES.

Market Overstocked With Local Fruit—Potato Demand Slower.

More or less of a holiday air pervaded the fruit trade. Business was only fair, the demand being principally for such lines as are handled by the fruit stands.

The market is overstocked with local cherries, and although prices have been sharply reduced, the fruit is hard to work off. A car of oranges arrived last night and a car of Mississippi tomatoes is due today.

Buyers are not so keen after old potatoes as they were, owing to the high prices asked. Supplies are coming forward from unexpected quarters and a decline from the extreme quotation is likely. A car of old potatoes is due today, also a car of new potatoes.

Half Holiday in Wholesale District.

There will be a half holiday in the trade in honor of the Rose Fiesta today. Most of the retail stores will close their doors at noon and at the same hour the produce houses on Front street will cease to do business. The wholesale grocery stores will close at 1 P. M., and the banks will close at noon.

Total Stock Sales the Smallest Since Last Summer.

PRICE MOVEMENT NARROW

Surplus Reserves of New York Banks Practically Exhausted—Rumor of Market Pool in Union Pacific.

NEW YORK, June 20.—Small as was the aggregate of transactions in stocks today, the figure falling to the lowest total since last Summer, the narrowness and torpidity of the market are but inadequately conceived from that. Reading and Union Pacific absorbed a large preponderance of the total dealings. Moreover, much of the business was transacted in the first hour, after which the activity dwindled to a point of idleness. During the afternoon, the record of transactions ran down to a few feet of tape from the ticker for each hour, with a slight demonstration in Union Pacific during the first hour, carrying it up over a point. This constituted whatever there was to the market.

Today's statement of sub-treasury operations showed a gain in cash by the institution since the last bank statement of $4,035,000. This includes the payments for the gold shipped abroad. As the surplus reserves of the banks stood on last Saturday at $4,514,625, the sub-treasury requirement already has been sufficient to practically exhaust them. The New York money market is still receiving a balance of receipts on the interior currency movement, but this item is believed to make a small offset to the above showing. Foreign exchange in this market was well sustained at the gold export rate.

An unfavorable impression on holders of copper securities was caused by admissions of the prospect of a reduction in the price of copper to break the deadlock now existing between buyers and sellers in the trade. Favorable weather for the growing crops was reported, and the market had nothing to contend with from that side.

The only explanation of the Union Pacific advance was the report of a stock market pool in that stock. The advance was lost during the day and the last prices of the day showed small declines in the majority of stocks.

Bonds were steady. Total sales, par value, $732,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

SAVES AGED WOMAN'S LIFE

George L. Hall Hero of Fire on the East Side.

Through the prompt and vigorous action of George L. Hall Mrs. I. Hazzard, an aged woman, was saved from being suffocated on the top floor of the rooming-house at East Seventh and Salmon streets, yesterday morning. Mrs. Hazzard was in the apartment above the front lower room in which a fire had started from a gasoline explosion, and was nearly overcome with the smoke that poured up from below when Hall ran up a ladder set against the rear of the house. Mrs. Hazzard had managed to reach the rear window, but was helpless. Mr. Hall seized her, dragged her out of the window and carried her down to the ground, where she was revived.

The fire was confined to the room in which it started. The room was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. H. Lawrie. Mrs. Lawrie was filling the tank of the gasoline stove when the fluid caught fire. Mrs. Lawrie escaped without injury. C. L. Peck, who lives in the house, seized a garden hose and turned water on the fire and kept it in check until the firemen arrived.

Mrs. O. Peck has the house leased and owns the furniture of the room, which was destroyed. She carried insurance which will partly cover the loss. The house was little damaged, but the loss on the furniture is about $200.

Pain in the Side nearly always comes from a disordered liver and is promptly relieved by Carter's Little Liver Pills. Don't forget this.

SELLING IS HEAVY

Has Weakening Effect on Chicago Wheat Market.

PRICES DROP A CENT

Favorable Weather for the Domestic Crop Is the Chief Reason for the Unloading—Foreign Advance Ignored.

CHICAGO, June 20.—The wheat market opened strong because of an advance of 1d at Liverpool. Liberal sales by leading longs, however, soon started prices downward. Favorable weather in this country for the growing crop was the chief reason for the selling. During the remainder of the day the market fluctuated, but bearish sentiment seeme dto predominate and every advance brought out increased selling. The market closed steady. September opened ⅝@¾c to ¼@⅜c higher at 95¼ to 95⅜c, sold off to 94c and closed at 94⅝c.

Firm cables and small local receipts strengthened the corn market, which closed steady. September opened ⅛@¼c higher at 54 to 54¼c, sold off to 53½c and closed at 53⅝c.

Oats declined in sympathy with wheat, but rallied and closed firm. September opened a shade to ⅝@¾c higher at 38c to 38⅝c, sold at 38⅝c and then declined to 37⅞c. Final quotations were at 38c.

Provisions were quiet and easy for the greater part of the day. At the close September pork was down 12½@15c at $15.75; lard was down 2½c at $8.80, and ribs were 5c lower at $8.65.

DOMAIN A PUBLIC TRUST

Judge Hunt Intimates There Will Be Fraud Cases in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., June 20.—Judge W. H. Hunt, in charging the grand jury summoned for by the United States Court, after referring as usual to minor offenses subject of inquiry, dilated at some length upon land laws, dwelling upon the fact that the public domain is a public trust, and that it was intended for bona fide settlers only. Therefore, it was incumbent upon the jury to protect these rights. This is taken by many to indicate that there will probably be indictments along these lines, but of course, this is more or less a surmise. It is expected that the jury will be in session ten days.
