ENTER FOR MEET JULY 3
Committee Secures Star Attraction for Celebration—Champion Will Try for a New 50-Mile Record at Irvington.

Dr. Emmet Drake, of the Fourth of July committee, announced yesterday that Barney Oldfield, automobile champion, has been induced to remain in Portland for the Fourth of July celebration and will be the principal attraction of the automobile races to be held on the afternoon of July 3 at the Irvington track. He will endeavor to reduce the world's record for 50 miles, which record he holds.

Many out-of-town people who were unable to attend the recent automobile races will now have an opportunity to see Barney Oldfield in races. Admission fee will be charged for these races.

Robert McCracken, George Eastman and Walter Honeyman, the committee in charge of the races and other athletic events to be held on the morning of July 3, request that all persons wishing to enter these athletic contests file their names with the Fourth of July committee in the Chamber of Commerce, between now and Monday.

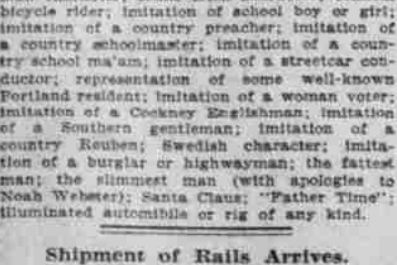

The committee in charge of the parade of horrors on the night of July 4 has requested the Chief of Police to furnish as many policemen as possible to accompany the parade to prevent accidents and disorder.

The committee having charge of the parade of horrors announces that any merchant who desires to contribute prizes for the different features in the parade, should communicate with the Fourth of July committee, and his contribution will receive due recognition.

The committee in charge of the parade of horrors also requests that those who wish to take part in the parade in any of the following characters communicate at once with F. T. Merrill, of such committee, in the Chamber of Commerce:

Burlesque band; bunch of clown horseback riders; bunch of eccentric "Country Club" riders; representation of a group of Indians on horseback; bunch of vaqueros or cowpunchers on horseback; imitation of farm wagon or hay ride, with comical groups; comical farm outfit—horses, cows, oxen or mules team; comical boat, with or without grotesque characters; comical automobile, with or without passengers; "hoo-doo" or "hobo" crowd in costume; noisiest bunch of boys in any costume, 20 in a bunch; imitation of Portland's "line" police force—to head the parade; group of messenger boys—with or without whisks—tall or short—large or small—young or old; the noisiest group of newbobs; group of imitation and race plantations; comical people; group of "cack-walkers"; group of imitation French cooks; group of imitation Chinese; unique or comical couple, on foot or in conveyance; "aided" representation (one or more); representation of a peddler; representation of a millionaire tramp; representation of "Uncle Sam"; representation of a woman in Indian dress; representation of Western Indian squaw, with papoose; comical single character (gentleman); comical single character (lady); comical character "hobo"; comical German character; comical Irish character; comical bicycle rider; imitation of school boy or girl; imitation of a country preacher; imitation of a country schoolmaster; imitation of a country school m'amin; imitation of a street conductor; representation of some well-known Portland residents; imitation of a woman voter; imitation of a Cooksey-Engelmann; imitation of a Southern gentleman; imitation of a country bumpkin; Swedish character; imitation of a burglar or highwayman; the fattest man; the slimmest man (with apologies to Noah Webster); Santa Claus; "Father Time"; illuminated automobile or rig of any kind.

SCHLEGEL GIVES REASONS
Portland Attorney Tells Why He Is Building in Rose City Park.

Frank Schlegel, an attorney in the Commercial block, presents several excellent reasons for purchasing and building in Rose City Park. He is rearing a home that would be a credit to any neighborhood in the city. Referring to an inquiry as to his real reasons for buying, he said:

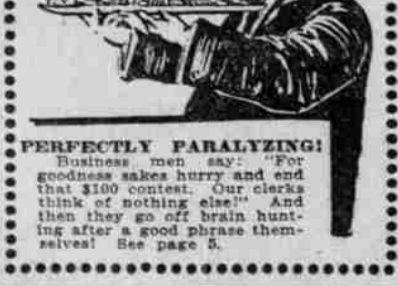

"My reasons for going to Rose City Park are as follows: All improvements and conveniences were granted to me, such as graded and gravelled streets, cement sidewalks, Bull Run water, 15-minute car service, electric lighting, and telephone. Beside this, on the street where I am erecting my home, not less than 100 feet were sold to any one individual and not more than one house can be built on this 100 feet and there is a building restriction of $2000; all residences must be set back a stipulated distance from the streets. These assure me not only breathing space but some system and regulation in a residence district."

Progress on Mr. Schlegel's home is being made rapidly. The basement excavation was finished several days ago and the framework is nearing completion. The finishers will be on the ground very shortly.

Baggage Agents Meet July 15.
General baggage agents of the Harriman lines will hold an annual family meeting in Portland, July 15. The agents will represent all railroads in the United States under the Harriman regime and will discuss subjects of interest to the agents in their own departments. The session will probably last several days.

Eugene Men Pay Fines.
Two more of the furniture-dealers who were indicted for violating the Sherman act appeared before Judge Wolvertson yesterday and pleaded guilty. They were B. B. McKinney and H. M. Manville, of Eugene. They are partners and each was fined $10.

From Portland to Pacific Ocean Reaches in Two and a Half Hours

BAY CITY ON TILLAMOOK BAY

Bay City is 57 miles directly west of Portland. If Stark street were continued along the base line to the coast, it would pass through Bay City. It is beautifully located on the east of Tillamook Bay. By the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company's line, it is only two and one-half hours from Portland. The line, says the run will be 55 miles, and E. E. Lytle, who is building the line, says the run will be less than two and one-half hours. Tillamook was named by the Indians and means "the gathering of the waters." This name was probably suggested by the fact that five rivers enter the bay. They are the Frank, Tillamook, Wilson, Kichis and Miami. These rivers drain one of the richest sections of the United States. The Nehalem, 12 miles north, passes through another very productive region in Oregon. It is also tributary to Bay City, its ocean shipping point.

Bay City is the only market in an empire of exceptional resources. Tillamook County has an area of 100 square miles. It is Oregon's best and most profitable dairying country. There is grass all the year round and 10,000,000 gallons of milk were produced last year. Tens of thousands of acres of land are available for this purpose. The average profit per cow, per year, in 1906 was $65.

Here is one of the richest timber countries in the world. It is estimated that there is now standing, ready for use, 4,000,000,000 feet of spruce; 5,000,000,000 feet of hemlock and 20,000,000,000 feet of fir. Small fruits and apples are great producers. For berries it cannot be beaten. Bay City is the only outlet and market.

The head of deep water navigation on Tillamook Bay is at Bay City. The "Lytle" road, the Pacific Railway & Navigation Company's line, has its headquarters at Bay City. This road already has 18 miles in operation from Hillsboro to Buxton. A contract has been let for the construction of 20 miles from Bay City north. By October, more will be ready for operation. The line will enter Portland over its own tracks by next year.

Bay City has within itself the resources that promise to make it the largest and best city on the north Oregon coast. Its destiny is a mere matter of development. It is already a thriving town; growing rapidly and when within two and one-half hours from Portland it will advance rapidly enough to make investments in its property a substantial thing. It is the history of all new cities that the greatest profit is made by those who buy before rail connections are built, and hold their land until the road is completed. This is certainly true of Bay City.

A FREE SITE IS OFFERED FOR THE FIRST SAWMILL

Special inducements are offered for factories that will locate in Bay City. Opportunities for profitable investment are better in Bay City right now than in any other part of Oregon or the northwest. If it's half as good as we say it is, it is good enough to look into at once. Complete information given and all letters answered personally. Address either of the offices mentioned below.
