

SAVED FROM JAIL BY HOT WEATHER

Jonathan Clement, Fruit Vendor, Makes Novel Plea a Winner.

TOO WARM TO MOVE ON

Hawker So Tells Policeman, and the Municipal Judge Upholds Him. Jimmy Kerr's Terminal Party Is Marred by Theft.

Hot weather is no justification for breaking the law. However, it is a powerful incentive in some cases, and Jonathan Clement gained his freedom in the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon by establishing that he was impelled to do wrong by the scorching rays of Wednesday afternoon, when the mercury was standing at 81 degrees in the shade.

Clement is a fruit vendor. Fruit vendors are required to keep on the move while peddling their wares about the business district. Reaching a shady spot at First and Alder streets, Clement moored his fruit wagon, got out a palm fan and abandoned the fruit trade for the more urgent business of keeping cool.

"You'll have to move on," said the policeman on the beat. "Not much—too hot," said Clement. "I said you'll have to move on," asserted the blue-coated public servant with that severe air of finality peculiar to Portland coppers and medieval monarchs.

"Too hot!" responded Clement, his dread of the heat proving greater than his fear of arrest. It was too hot to march the captive to the station, so the policeman called the patrol wagon, which has a neat shady cover. And the basement of the city jail is one of the coolest places in the city, so that Clement was not greatly inconvenienced by his arrest.

It sounded rather flimsy in the cool part of yesterday forenoon when Clement pleaded that it was altogether too hot to move on when he was ordered to. But the court must have had vivid recollections of the torrid rays of the day before. He said that intense heat often has a tendency to make men sluggish and irritable and that his was inclined to be lenient with Clement, provided Clement would promise not to loiter in the shade with his wares hereafter, Clement promised.

In Jimmy Kerr's luncheon party did not turn out to be altogether a success. He was unfortunately invited to a hotel to shave and wash away the dust of travel preparatory to looping-the-loop and performing other sightseeing feats. An obstacle in the way of this worthy plan lay in the fact that his razor was missing, so was his brush and comb and other toilet articles.

With a Nebraskan's native powers of deduction, Kerr reasoned that when he met his brunette guests. They were gone now. He seized his pen and wrote out a minute description of his erstwhile guests—not for the society column of the Sunday paper, but for the guidance of the police force.

With righteous indignation the colored gentlemen, when located, denied guilty knowledge of the articles. They said it was not so humiliating to be suspected of theft, but to be accused of robbing a host—their southern blood boiled at such an aspersion. The police were convinced of their innocence, but as a matter of form delved into the pockets of the dark gentlemen and brought up the stolen articles. After that Mr. Kerr's guests could do nothing but admit their guilt.

The city will try its hand entertaining them during the next six months. Mrs. M. McDonald, attired in a heavy winter cape and a light summer hat, was among the interested spectators at the Municipal Court yesterday forenoon. Mrs. McDonald admitted her course was not fashioned after a straight line as she started home the evening before. But then she had felt a slight attack of vertigo. Mr. Kay said he did not know what the lady meant by vertigo, but if it was the name of some powerful brand of whisky, he was ready to agree with her that such was the nature of her ailment.

McDonald denied indignantly that vertigo was a brand of liquor, but a swimming of the head brought on by eminently respectable causes and which was likely to attack any perfect lady. She added that while her life was not likely to be adopted as a model by any new ethical society, she managed to remain sober most of the time, and was surely sober on this occasion. She was

At the Theaters

EVERYBODY LOVES "JOHNNIE"

San Francisco Company's Best Offering at Marquam.

With the incomparable Arthur Cushingham in the cast singing the leading role, ably supported by Alda Hemmi, Maurice Reatty, Francis Abbott and Teddy Webb, the San Francisco Opera Company is making the hit of its phenomenal season at the Marquam this week in "Johnnie Comes Marching Home."

"The Charity Nurse."

Until Sunday night the stock company at the Star Theater will present "The Charity Nurse," a melodrama with a heart story and in it Miss Margaret Pitt, Raymond Whitaker, Mr. Diamond and Mr. Conroy are seen to advantage. The story is an unusual character and the plot is filled with unexpected situations. The staging of the play is attractive, general attendance. There will be matinee Saturday and Sunday. The Star is always cool and the performances are always popular.

"A Wicked Woman" a Favorite.

One of the favorite bills in which the Allen Stock Company has appeared at the Lyric is "A Wicked Woman," which is attracting so much attention to this theater. It is a play for all classes, being intensely thrilling and dramatic in action, with abundant scenic interest and plenty of scenic drawing crowded houses at each performance. Do not miss "A Wicked Woman."

Juvenile Court Day at the Oaks.

This is Juvenile Court day at the Oaks, and all the young wards of Judge Frazer's court will be entertained. They will be given free rides on the buses, free bumps on the bumps, and indeed, everything will be given them free. A certain percentage of the receipts will be contributed as a nucleus for an open-air fund for the youngsters.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

Ethel Barrymore to Present "Captain Jinks" and "Cousin Kate."

Ethel Barrymore is to be the attraction at the Heltig Theater Friday and Saturday evenings, July 5 and 6, and is to be presented by Charles Frohman on the first night in the Clyde Fitch comedy, "Captain Jinks," concededly the most enjoyable and the most popular of her plays. She has been seen since her stellar birthright, and then the play on that occasion was this year's "The Life That Kills" as the comedy. It seems today even more brilliant than at its initial production and it really comes with all the flavor and refreshing qualities of a new work, as well as mellowness of a classic. On the second night Mr. Frohman presents the comedienne in her delightful impersonation of "Cousin Kate." Seat sale opens July 3.

"The Life That Kills."

"The Life That Kills" is the suggestive title of the melodrama which the stock company at the Star Theater will present all next week, commencing Monday night. It is the story of a woman who has been seen west of Chicago before. For excitement and surprise "The Life That Kills" is in a class of its own. Seats can be reserved in advance.

"A Fair Rebel" Comes Next.

It will be good news to those who like romantic drama to know that the Allen Stock Company will present at the Lyric next week, commencing Monday afternoon, the beautiful stage romance, "A Fair Rebel." It is a play that wins all hearts because of its pure atmosphere and its daintiness. The play, as a whole, could not be excelled for all classes of theater-goers. It is important to remember that the Lyric is always cool and comfortable during this warm weather.

Next Week at the Grand.

Great expectations are based on the announcement of the new bill at the Grand which commences Monday afternoon. There are no less than five comedies to be presented. The highest salaried team in vaudeville will lead the list; it is Dolan and Lechner in "A High-Toned Burlesque." Others are the Tuxedo troupe of gymnasts; Tom Gillen, "Finnigan's Friend," and Georgina Clark, the Scottish nightingale.

AT THE VAUDEVILLE THEATERS

"The Iceman," at the Grand.

The most popular man this time of year is the Iceman. At the Grand this week there is a sketch, "The Iceman," which is as funny as can be, and Adele Palmer & Co. who are presenting it score one of the several hits on the bill. Cooke and Clinton are women who use a rifle better than a soldier can defeat Buffalo Bill in a target contest. Fulgore, the man of many faces, makes a dozen lightning changes at every performance. There are several other clever entertainers. Three shows daily at the Grand.

Gus Williams at Pantages.

Gus Williams, the famous vaudeville comedian, is one of the comedy treats of the season. Thunders of applause and shouts of laughter greet him at every performance at Pantages, this week. Besides his big romances, there are several other distinct innovations. Silent Tala, the burlesque magician, and every performance. There are several other clever entertainers. Three shows daily at the Grand.

STAINLESS FLAG SUNDAY

Pastors of Churches Throughout the Country to Observe June 30.

In accordance with resolutions adopted at the National convention of the Anti-Saloon League, held in St. Louis November 21, 1906, nearly all the churches of the country will observe Sunday, June 30, as "Stainless Flag" day. Portland pastors will preach next Sunday on the temperance question, and as far as possible will endorse the address of Dr. C. S. Chapman, on "The Stainless Flag," which brings out the fact that all saloons, whether open on Sunday or not, are law-breakers. The address also contends that licenses for saloons are unconstitutional and illegal. Thousands of copies of this address printed in pamphlet form will be distributed at the churches of the city next Sunday, and many thousands more throughout the United States.

The object of the united anti-saloon effort by the ministers of the country on this particular day is to arouse public sentiment to the rights which it is claimed the people have under the Constitution to banish the saloon. The contention of the preachers is that the liquor traffic is inherently evil and therefore against the best interests of society.

The Portland Interier Association, at a meeting held while Dr. Chapman was in Portland, immediately after he delivered his "Stainless Flag" address in the Taylor-street Methodist Church, endorsed the celebration of "Stainless Flag" day. The local branch of the Anti-Saloon League is distributing 6000 copies of the printed address in Portland and nearly 15,000 are being sent to pastors of the state.

SEVEN DEVILS OPEN

Steamer Mountain Gem to Carry Ore From Mines.

BRIGHT HOPES REALIZED

Steamer Built to Take the Place of the Ill-Fated Innaha Will Go to Upper Snake River—Plenty of Ore Ready for Shipment.

The steamer Mountain Gem, which was sold to a Lewiston, Idaho, man early in May, will again go into commission and will operate between Lewiston and the Seven Devils country carrying ore. The dream of the promoters, who first conceived the construction of the ill-fated Innaha will at last be realized. Later the Mountain Gem will operate below Kennewick as a supply boat for the Oregon Short Line.

The Mountain Gem was built at Lewiston in 1904. She was designed to take

"The Life That Kills."

The place of the steamer Innaha, which was wrecked at Wild Goose Rapids the year before. The backers of the enterprise went broke and sold out to F. C. Allen, of Lewiston, who leased the steamer to the O. R. & N. Co. When the matter was settled she was sold and the charter partly revoked. The latter transaction was consummated early in May. Since that time the Mountain Gem has been tied up.

In the country above Lewiston and tributary to the mouth of the Grande Ronde, there is a large quantity of valuable ore awaiting shipment. There is also a large amount of ore at Pittsburg Landing. When the water falls below a navigable stage on the Upper Snake there is a large amount of work to be done on the Upper Columbia in connection with railroad construction.

Lumber Cargo Clears at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., June 21.—(Special)—The schooner Fred E. Sander cleared at the Custom-House today for Redondo with a cargo of 500,000 feet of lumber, loaded at the Clatsop Mill Company's plant.

AGENT SECURED FOR REDONDO

F. P. Baumgartner Will Handle Local Business for Steamer.

The steamer Redondo, under charter to Schuchbach & Hamilton, of Seattle, to operate between Portland and Sound ports, will make her first trip from this port July 6. She will carry general cargo and will stay under present conditions every ten days. The Redondo is due to leave San Francisco today and will arrive in Portland Monday afternoon.

The Portland business will be handled by F. P. Baumgartner, and the Redondo will dock at the foot of Couch street. Albert Schuchbach, representing the firm of Schuchbach & Hamilton, was in Portland yesterday and completed arrangements with Mr. Baumgartner. For present indications business will require the services of a second steamer and the company is at present making arrangements for the second vessel to begin operations within 60 days.

It has been definitely settled that the Redondo will make four ports of call on Puget Sound. They will be Seattle, Tacoma, Everett and Bellingham. At the southern end Astoria and Portland will be the ports of call. The announcement was made in The Oregonian yesterday of the establishment of the line there has been enough freight offerings to assure the success of the line with two steamers and a five-day sailing schedule.

J. MARHOFFER TO ABERDEEN

Disabled Steamer Ordered to Gray's Harbor for Repairs.

The steamer J. Marhoffer, which lost her rudder on the Shoalwater bar several days ago and was towed into Astoria by the tug Tootosh, has been ordered to Aberdeen for repairs. Orders were issued yesterday for the vessel to proceed to Portland and go on the drydock, but an hour later they were changed and the Marhoffer will proceed to Gray's Harbor.

The J. Marhoffer was built at Aberdeen and was owned by the Olson & Mahoney Company. She was towed to Portland and her engines installed by the Willamette Iron Works. She was on her first trip to the North when she hit the sand on the Shoalwater bar. The steamer was commanded by Captain Nygren. The accident was similar to that which befell the steamer Daisy Freeman on the middle sands of the Columbia River bar.

SHIP DALGONAR ARRIVES IN

Carries General Cargo From Hamburg for Portland Firm.

ASTORIA, Or., June 21.—(Special)—The three-masted British ship Dalgonar arrived in this afternoon 1771 days from Hamburg, with a general cargo consigned to Meyer, Wilson & Co. Captain Iblster reports a fairly good trip after leaving Copenhagen, where he put in three days for some minor repairs, except that he was 41 days off the Horn, where he encountered some severe weather. Just before reaching the Horn the ship's steward was taken ill, and died, and was buried at sea. While off Staten Island the Dalgonar spoke the British bark Conway Castle en route from Antwerp for this port. About two weeks ago she sighted a square-rigger, evidently headed for this port, and supposed to be the German bark Siam from London.

Made Fast Run to the North.

ASTORIA, Or., June 21.—(Special)—The first letters received from the salmon canneries at Nushagak river, Bristol Bay, Alaska, have arrived and report that all the vessels from the Columbia River had reached port safely. The ship St. Nicholas, carrying supplies for the Columbia River Packers'

Association's plant, made the run from port to port in 16 days and this is thought to be the record. The letters were dated on June 6, and state that on the previous night 19 boats from the Association's cannery made drifts in the river and averaged 100 King salmon to the boat, indicating that a big run was coming in.

Marine Notes.

The schooner Alvena arrived up at Westport yesterday. She will load lumber for the South.

The steamer Svea cleared yesterday for Port Angeles with a cargo consisting of 700,000 feet of lumber.

The steamer Costa Rica, from San Francisco, arrived up at an early hour this morning. She brought passengers and freight.

The steamer Alliance, for Coos Bay, sailed last night with a full passenger list and all the freight she could handle.

The steamer Melville Dollar, formerly the John C. Howard, sailed from Stella yesterday. She is loaded with ties for Guaymas, Mexico.

The steamer George W. Elder, with a large passenger list and a full cargo of freight sailed last night for San Pedro and way ports.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

In this nineteenth century to keep up with the march of progress every power of woman is strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is far greater than ever. In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicine. They relied upon roots and herbs to cure weaknesses and disease, and their knowledge of roots and herbs was far greater than that of women today.

It was in this study of roots and herbs that Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

MRS. C. E. FINK
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

This medicine made from native roots and herbs contains no narcotics or other harmful drugs and today holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any medicine the world has ever known, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the laboratory at Lynn, Mass., which testify to its wonderful value.

Mrs. C. E. Fink, of Carnegie, Pa., writes:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—"I wish every suffering woman would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write to you for advice. It has done me a world of good and what it has accomplished for me I know it will do for others."

When women are troubled with Irregularities, Displacements, Ulceration, Inflammation, Backache, Nervous Prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women
Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Out of her vast world of experience she probably has the very knowledge that will help your case.

Men's Diseases Cured to Cured

Different doctors have different ideas in regards to cures. Some call a suppression of symptoms a cure. They dose for drug effects or claim that nothing more can be done. But the real ailment remains, and will bring the real symptoms back again, perhaps the same as before, but very likely leave the patient in a much worse condition. I claim that nothing less than complete eradication of disease can be a real cure. I treat to remove the disease, and not merely the symptoms. I search out every root and fibre of an ailment, and I cure to stay cured.

"Weakness"

I not only cure "weakness" promptly, but I employ the only treatment that can possibly cure the disorder permanently. It is a system of local treatment entirely original with me, and is employed by no physician other than myself. This may seem a broad assertion, but it is just as substantial as it is broad. So-called "weakness" is but a symptom of local inflammation or congestion, and a radical cure is merely a matter of restoring normal conditions throughout the organic system, and this I accomplish thoroughly and with absolute certainty.
