BELMONT STREET IMPROVEMENT.—Belmont street, if improved as now proposed, will have several kinds of pavement. Between East Water and Ninth streets there will be crushed rock, and then comes a fill across Asylum slough. Between East Water Armanian streets. tween East Tenth and Twentieth streets crushed rock will be used, but starting at East Twentieth street hard-surface payement will be laid to East Thirty-fifth street. From that point out to the top of Mount Tabor probably gravel or crushed rock will be used. Owing to the importance of Belmont street it was hoped that hard-surface payement would be used out to Sunwayida. It would Moves into New Quarters.—The Oregon State Federation of Labor and the Labor Press yesterday moved from Drew's Hall into new office rooms at 167% First street. The regular meetings of the Federation and the allied union be used out to Sunnyside. It would have been used between East Tenth and Twentieth streets, but the property owners objected and asked for crushed rock, which, it is asserted, is almost as expensive as the hard-surface pavement. Beimont street is the longest and most important street extending eastward from the river, and there are still hopes that a suffere hard-surface navement may be uniform hard-surface pavement may be secured on it as far as Sunnyaide.

CHANGES IN BANK'S OFFICERS.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the Bankers and Lumbermen's Bank held yesterday, Mr. G. K. Wentworth, of Chicago, Ill., president of the Portland Lumber Company, of this city, was elected president of the Bank to succeed Mr. D. president of the Bank to succeed Mr. D.

"Any talk of that sort is absolutely ridiculous. The management of the theater has spent between $40,000 and $50,000 in remodeling the theater and most of that money went in giving the theater absolute safety in the way of fire protection and the best possible fire escapes. Vaudeville at Marquam.

In spite of the popping of the pament incident to the clown parade, the big vaudeville show given by an organization of foreign and domestic talent at the Marquam last night was

The American Specialty Company is probably the most important vaudeville aggregation that has appeared in a Portland theater down to this date. The entire show is interesting to a degree, and suggests the Orpheum performances and those we were went to see in the golden days of the "consee in the golden days of the con-tinuous" where the silvery Bronx and the Hudson wend their ways. It is a pity that neither Keith nor Proctor nor Beck were in the audience last night. They might have discovered some new top-liners. There were 14 numbers on the bill and each of them was well received by and each of them was well received by an audience that was inclined to be critical and knew what it wanted.

Naturally there was great interest in the kinetoscope pictures of the Rose Carnival parade. The pictures were remarkably clear and gave a fine pictured reproduction of the two finest processions Portland has ever indulged in. The views certainly did not lack in local color, and many faces of prominent participants were visible as the inent participants were visible as, the film unrolled.

It was in a large measure ladies' night for the artists who appeared, the feminine performers distancing their masculine associates for the sweepstake honors. The appearance of Dorothy Bernard, who was for several years Portland's pet child actress, was the signal for an ovation which must have been very grafifying which must have been very gratifying to that young lady. Miss Bernard has not figured on the local stage for a year, in which time she has made a marked advance. She has grown into a strikingly beautiful young woman, and has acquired an easy and self-possessed stage presence. She sings a medley of burlesque popular songs in medley of buriesque popular songs in a capital fashien, and was enthusiastically recalled. Her song is a decided novelty which is being featured in one of New York's current roofgarden shows.

Miss Thornton's yodle songs caught the space of the sudjecter and she was forced.

Since the death of the late Fritz Emmett good yodlers have become almost extinct but I know for a fact that there is one who is very much alive and very much of a yodler, because I heard Miss Thornton last night. Miss Bertha Cordray, niece of John F.

Cordray, the well-known manager, made her first appearance in vaudeville in a pretty little sketch in which see acquitted herself capitally. She is a promising young actress and given a little more assurance, which will come with experience, should make a name for herself.

The Landauer Troupe appeared in a number of statuary groups which were splendidly posed; the Royals did a comedy musical act; Recardo, the magi-clan, gave a most interesting and amusclan, gave a most interesting and almo-ing demonstration of his powers as a wizard, while B. The show is a big generous treat of vaudeville and is entirely worthy of the public's patronage. It will be repeated this afternoon, and night and until Sunday night with additional matinees Saturday and Sunday.
