GUARDS TO LEARN ART OF REAL WAR

Oregon Soldier Boys Will Be Taught to Handle Heavy Artillery.

TROOPS ARE MUSTERED IN

Instruction Will Be Given in the Placing of Submarine Mines. Third Infantry Will Reach

Fort Stevens Today.

FORT STEVENS, Or., July 7 .- (Staff Correspondence.) - Tomorrow the troops of the Oregon Guard new sta-tioned at this garrison and at Fort Columbia, across the river, will be given their first lesson in the martial art of coast defense. The Oregon troops were mustered and distributed for service today, and are now ready to master the details of heavy artillery warfare, such as would render the Guard of peworth in the event an enemy should ever attempt to force the harbor at the mouth of the Columbia.

The Guardsmen will be taught artillery warfare as thoroughly as the ten days in garrison allows. The instruction tomorrow will consist in explanations of the use of guns, calssons, poortary tangenting instruments. range-finding Instruments, plotting-boards and submarine mines Artillery and infantry drills will be held morning and afternoon.

The Guardsmen will be initiated thoroughly into the use of the big coast guns and carriages, as well as projec-tiles, fuses and explosives. The important subjects of power, light and communications and their use in coast defenses will be fully explained, as will the utility of position-finders and submarine mines, the defense of land ap-proaches and the duties of artillery

A detail of 21 men from the Third Infantry was made today for service with the engineer department and the mine command. Six privates and a non-commissioned officer were designated from each of three companies, A, C and K. These men will confine their atten-tion altogether to this submarine work, and will be relleved from other drills. The Third Infantry is due at Seaside tomorrow afternoon. A detail from that command spent yesterday at Seaside at work on the campsite of the regiment near that place. The regiment is under orders to entrain at Portland, at 11:15 A. M. Monday.

Programme of Events.

A programme of events for the entire coast defense maneuvers has been issued by Colonel L. H. Walker, Artil-lery District Commander. This pro-gramme, in the form of general orders, was made public today and is as fol-was made public today and is as follows:

Rearquarters Artillery, District of the Columbia, Fort Stevens, Or.—General Orders No. 50.—In order to carry out War Department orders for joint army and militia coast defense exercises in this district, and on account of the reduction of the number of days of such exercises from 15, as provided for in the "Proposed Programms of Instruction and Exercises" issued from these headquarters, April 29, 1907, to him, the following instructions are announced:

The period of drill and instruction will be from July 5 to July 11, both days inclusive. The period of simulated sctual hostilities will be from 8 A. M., July 12, to and including July 16. The regular troops will continue in camp until 8 A. M. July 20.

Master Electrician William E. Mapes. C. A. C., is appointed assistant to the Mine Commander, and will have direct supervision over the mine command during the maneuvers. Members of the submarine inine detail and those on duty in the engineer department, with the exception of the following, who will report to the District Artillery Engineer and the Mine Commander, will remain on duty with their respective companies during the exercises: Sergeant Leary, Privates Clark, Romaine and Ackarman, Ninety-third Company, C. A. C., and the detail from the Thirty-third Company, C. A.

Submarine Mine Work. During the drill period and at the drill hours these men will receive instruction in submarine mine work.

The commanding officer, Company M. Third Infantry, will furnish such number or men for duty at the power plants and searchlight, Fort Columbia, as may be described by the commanding officer of that post.

termined by the commanding officer of that post.

July 8, 9, 10 and 11.—These days will be devoted entirely to drills, the scope of work for each day extending over exactly twice as much ground as the work contemplated for each day in the "Proposed Plans." The drill work for each half day will correspond to that contemplated for each full day in the "Proposed Plans."

The first drill at the armament will be devoted to a description of the guns, carriages, range-finding instruments, plotting hoards, etc. The scope of instruction in submarine mining will be determined by the mine commander and that of the supports will be as indicated in the "Proposed Plan," and will be under the supervision of Captain John R. M. Taylor, Fourteenth Infantry, at Fort Stevens, and First Lleutenant Robert L Rees, Third Infantry, Fort Columbia.

Theoretical Instruction.

At times to be designated by the com-manding officers at Fort Stevens and Fort Columbia, all the officers both of the reg-ular garrisons and the Oregon National Guard, will be assembled at each of these posts and the following subjects discussed, a designated artiflery officer leading in the discussions:

alons:
Organization and administration of artiflery personnel.
Coast guns and carriages, projectiles, and explosives.
Power, light and communications, and their use in coast defense.

4. Position of finders and their use in Simulated Actual Hostilities.

July 12 to 15 inclusive: Commencing at S A. M. July 12 a condition of actual hostilities will be presumed to exist, when the garrison will be constantly prepared for attack. Observers will be constantly on duty in range finding stations, and will report through tactical channels to the battle commander the entrance to the mouth of the Columbia River of any vessel larger than a fishing boat.

At the sounding of "Call to Arms" all manning details of gun and submarine mine detachments will take their proper posts at "double time." The supports will hold themselves in readiness to "fall in" for action, and will be prepared at all times to oppose any attempted landing of the enemy.

to oppose any attempted landing of the enemy.

Under the direction of the district commander landings or attacks will be attempted at different times of the day and night at each post by troops from the other post or from the camp of the Oregon National Guard encamped mear Gearhart representing the enemy.

The duration of the camp of instruction and exercises being short for the required purpose, no officer or enlisted men will be excused from any drill or maneuver, except in case of absolute necessity. During the period of drill and instruction, officers and enlisted men of the Oregon National Guard may be authorized to be absent at such times as will not interfere with their attending all drills and instruction.

How Time Will Be Occupied.

How Time Will Be Occupied. Service Calls—There will be roll-calls at reveille and retreat daily, and check after taps each night; the officers of the day will take the report of all roll-calls and check, in person or by telephone. In the event of the armament being manned at taps no further check of the personnel will be made. The following service calls will daily be sounded at the administration building of each post, and repeated by a musician in each camp; notified in each case by the district commander at what time they may go to their meals.

The Guard—At each post the guard will be as constituted by the commanding officer, and will be made up of both regular and militia shidiers. The officer of the day will be detailed from the company officers of the Gregon National Guard.

Blank Ammunition—During the period of the exercises when it is desired that blank ammunition be used in the guns and mortars, orders to that effect will be sent by the battle commander. To facilitate the use of such ammunition, disappearing guns will be retracted so that the muzzies are just above the parapet.

Reports—The battle commander, the frecommander, battery commander, communication officers, range officers, battery officers, commanding officers of the reserve companies, the commanding officers of the reserve companies, the commanding officers of the reserve as instructors, will keep accurate records of events, and at the end of the encampment will submit reports covering the duties performed by them and their command. Officers of the Oreson National Guard on duty with the reserves will indicate the impressions received by them from their duties with the armament, the obstacles encountered, and the difficulties experienced.

Reports from the position finding station should indicate the time of receipt of orders for action, when firing commenced and ceased, the target used, the king of ammunition used and the number of rounds fired.

LOSES MILLIONS, BUT PAYS *BACK ALL MONEY.

At End of 14 Years Edward W. Bailey, Although Poor, Faces World With Clean Hands.

CHICAGO, July 7 .- (Special.) .- Edward W. Balley, who 14 years ago in the famous pork corner lost $4,000,together with the men assoclated with him, last night mailed out checks for $60,000, thus wiping out the last cent of indebtedness. He has not much money left, but faces the world with clean hands.

For 14 years the payment of his obligations has been an obsession. Un-der the rules of the game, he could have gone in bankruptcy, or "gone broke," and either method would have cancelled the obligations in the eyes of the law. But Mr. Bailey took a dif-ferent view of things. He owed cer-tain men certain amounts of money, SEATTLE, Wash., July 7 .- (Special.) -Both the cup challenger Seattle Spirit and the defender, Alexandra, are to be raffled at once. The Spirit was built by Ted Geary from subscriptions made in the form of a purchase of tickets for the raffle, and it is related that Geary has not yet collected all of the $2600 that he put into the boat it-self. The British Columbians sub-scribed $3200 in the same manner to pay Fife, the famous English designer, for the Alexandra, and as soon as the fleet of yachts gets back to Victoria the boat will be raffled. Immediately on both sides of the line steps will be on both sides of the line steps will be taken to get funds to build the yachts for next year's cup races. Everett yachtsmen have notified the Seattle Yacht Club they will challenge the right of this city to defend the cup won yesterday and a series of trial between the two cities will be held next year.

following article would not have been written.
Senator McGowan calls me various hard names, saying very littic else. I am fully aware that all who advocate the referm of certain abuses are usually denounced by the beneficiaries of these abuses. But I have learned that the American public takes very little stock in the statements of that side of a controversy which depends on vilification of its opponents for support. Hence
