HUNDRED GOLFERS PLAY.

Best Field at Cleveland Ever in Amateur Game.

CLEVELAND, July 9 .- One hundred and two golfers, making up what is regarded as the best field that has been shown at a National amateur tournament, played the first 18 holes today in the qualifying rounds for the National amateur championship over the Euclid links. One hundred turned 36 holes to qualify. Thirty-two cards of 82 or under were turned in, with 10 only one stroke more than that, and with 10 more of 84 or 85.

with 10 more of 84 or 85.

The lowest scores of the day were made by Walter E. Egan, of Exmoor, Chicago; Walter J. Travis, the Garden City veteran, and Fred Herreschoff, also of Garden City, each making a 75. Close behind them were Ned Sawyer, of Wheat were champion, and W. Close behind them were Ned Sawyer, of Wheaton, Western champion, and W. Y. Whittemore, of Brooklyn, an ex-Harvard baseball star, each making the course in 76, while Jerome D. Travers, of Montclair, had 78, and Chandler Egan, of Exmoor; Harold Webber, of Toledo; Charles D. McDonald, of Oakmont, had 79 each. Charles B. McDonald, the veteran, made a 79 score. Chandler Egan finished in 79. J. D. Travers and Egan played partners, and finished in 78.

If 164 should be strokes for his round. It has should be the high qualifying figure, Barnes must do better than 80 tomorrow to qualify, much less to have the honor of being among the leaders.

Play tomorrow will commence promptly at 9 o'clock. at 9 o'clock.

John D. Rockefeller was an interested spectator. After watching the Barnes-Griffith match. Mr. Rockefeller turned his attention to the Chandler Egan-Jerome Travers match, which had a large gallery, and followed this for some time.

Both Egan and Travers played care-Both Egan and Travers played care-fully, and the belief that the two prob-ably would come together some time during the match play for the champion-ship lent interest to the match. Egan found the bunkers on both the short holes going out in the third and eighth, but finished the first nine holes in 33. Trav-ers was bunkered in the long seventh hole, but played perfectly otherwise, and finished the first half in 37. Harold Weber, of Toledo, who was a semi-finalist in the National tournament at Chicago two years ago, was the first to turn in a score under 80, going out in 39 and in in 40, or 79 for the course.

National Champion Eben Barnes amazed his friends by turning in a score of 85. He took 41 going out and 44 coming in, with sixes upon the 7th, lith and 15th holes.

House-Movers Do Serious Damage to Alder Street.

CARELESSNESS IS WANTON

Contractors Disregard Rules Laid Down by City Engineer's Department and Fail to Protect Asphalt From Rollers.

While the men in charge of Portland's municipal affairs were lying awake planning how to build more, better and permanent streets, a large residence, in two sections, was being moved up Alder street yesterday, to the very serious injury of that thoroughfare. The residence formerly stood on the Pennoyer property, cor-ner of Morrison and Tenth streets, from which it is being removed to make room for a business block.

The great weight of the structure, which is being moved on rollers without the use of planking for the protection of the street, is badly shattering the asphalt pavement and the course of the house is easily traced by the indentations the rollers have made in the averant. The action of the in the pavement. The action of the contractors in charge in not furnishing planks over which to transport the load is in utter disregard of the rules governing the moving of heavy structures imposed by the city authorities, who are censurable for permitting it. General A. W. Greely.

trude Greely and his son, A. W. Greely, Jr., the distinguished soldier and Arctic explorer arrived at the Portiand from Chicago Monday night. Early in the morning the party proceeded to Vancouver and was met at the ferry landing by Colonel A. B. Dyer when her ing by Colonel A. R. Dyer, who has been acting commander of the Department since the retirement of General Jocelyn sime time ago.

Rear-Admiral William T. Swinburn of the Facific squadron, whose flagship the Charleston is in the harbor, with his staff, had preceded the General, and was on hand to welcome him. General Greely's party was escorted to the post, where the Major-Generals' salute was given.

This morning the formal transfer of command from Colonel Dyer to the new ommandant will occur.

It is understood that the command of this Department was given to General Greely at his own request, he having often visited Vancouver, and being es-pecially fond of Portland and the Northwest. He has visited here many times his most recent trip having been made just after the San Francisco disaster. General Greely is a veteran of the Civil War and will retire on account of age in March of next year. His military career has been a most brilliant one and his explorations in the Arctic have made his name immortal. He and his family will prove a decided addition to Portland's social life.

ALBANY MAN IS PERHAPS Lad Affects Capture With Aid of FATALLY INJURED.

D. F. Young Uses Instrument in Quarrel With Joshua Ballard, Notorious Character.

ALBANY, Or., July 9 .- (Special.)-Using a scythe as a weapon, D. F. Young, a local painter, cut and perhaps fatally wounded Joshua Ballard here tonight. Young was mowing in front of his home in East Albany just before dark, when Ballard approached and a quarrel ensued. This ended in a fight, when Young picked up the scythe and attacked Ballard with it. Ballard's left wrist was cut, the tendon in his right arm being severed, and he received a severe gash in the head. He may recover if blood poisoning does not set in. Young had not been arrested at a late hour tonight.

Bad feeling has existed for a month between Young and Ballard, who were neighbors. It has been very bitter since Ballard's five children, including a 2-year-old baby, were all taken away from him and sent to the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society in Portland. Ballard declares Young was instrumental in securing that action. Ballard has long been a notorious character here.

GARFIELD IN YAKIMA VALLEY

Visits Sunnyside and Starts on His Way to Seattle.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., July 9.—(Special.)—Secretary Garfield concluded his tour of the valley today with a visit to the Sunnyside and reservation canals. He left the city accompanied by a number of friends and citizens and reclamation of-ficials at 8 o'clook and visited several orchards along the road to Zillah.

At Toppenish, Mr. Garfield received delegations from Sunnyside, Mabton, Prosser and Toppenish. Memorials were presented at a little formal gathering and Mr. Garfield briefly replied to the propo-sitions advanced. Mabton wants the lands around that town irrigated. The Prosser delegation urges that the Sunnyside canal be immediately extended in accordance with the original plans and Toppenish wants provision for the irrigation of a big tract of excellent land on the reservation at present unprovided for. The Secretary and his party proceeded by train this afternoon to Ellenaburg and from there will go to Seattle.

NEGRO ESCAPE IS RETAKEN

Old Jack, the Bloodhound. WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 9.— (Special.)—W. H. Davis, the negro con-vict who escaped from the penitentiary here Monday afternoon, was recaptured shortly after 8 o'clock this evening, Bert Smith, son of Captain Smith, of the prison, affecting the capture alone and unassisted near Umatilla. One of the hounds, Old "Jack," picked up the trail Monday afternoon and never lost it until Davis had been overtaken.

Young Smith is little more than a boy and the capture reflects credit upon him, the more so as he had no handcuffs and was compelled to drive the man to Uma-tilia at the point of a gun. Davis was lodged in jail and will be brought to the prison tomorrow morning. Kelly, who escaped Monday afternoon, is still at large, but authorities of the institution are confident that he will be captured within a day or so.

POLICEMEN SALOON LOAFERS

Alderman Turnbull Says Some Members Once With Chain Gang. TACOMA. Wash., July 9 .- (Special.) -Ten additional patrolmen will be allowed the police department if the Council concurs in the views of the police and license committee. Chief Malony had asked for 20 more men.

"There is no question that the department needs more men." declared Chairman Turnbull. "The trouble is that some of the men we have are not fit to be on the force. There are po-licemen wearing uniforms today that the Chief has had on the chain gang. Several of them are saloon loafers. I know of one case in the last few days where a uniformed officer lounged for 35 minutes over a bar in a saloon.
