

CLOSE SESSION WITH FIREWORKS

Gladstone Park Will Present a Brilliant Scene Tonight.

MUSICAL FEST A FEATURE

Several Able Lectures Scheduled for Afternoon Session of Chautauqua—Woman Suffragists Hold a Rally.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—In a blaze of glory the last week of the fourteenth annual session of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association will end tomorrow night. The management will follow the usual custom of giving a fine illumination of fireworks at Gladstone Park. William Kleins, who came from Germany a few years ago, will superintend the display, which will include many new and novel patterns. Fireworks will come immediately after the evening programme, which will be a musical fest under the direction of Dr. R. A. Heritage, musical director of Chautauqua, who will under vocal number, Miss Jennie F. W. Johnson, of Chicago, the Chautauqua soloist, will sing and Arthur von Jensen, pianist, will play number. The Chautauqua chorus, greater than at any previous session, will be on the programme.

In the afternoon tomorrow Dr. Ira Landrith, president of Belmont College, of Nashville, Tenn., will lecture on "Level Best Living." He made his first appearance this afternoon to a packed auditorium, and under the name of "Lil' Cabin." Dr. Landrith is the only man Chautauqua has ever had with a voice equal to that of Congressman Hawley. He made a grand plea for the home and said there should be fewer women working for wages and more working in the home. He is a Presbyterian. Nearly all of the leading denominations have been represented on the platform at this session.

Herbert Johnson will talk today. The Y. M. C. A. of Portland gave a special athletic and musical programme tonight that was one of the most brilliant annual sessions of Chautauqua. Under the direction of A. G. Grifley, they presented acrobatic feats that were received with the plaudits of the assemblage. The ball game this afternoon was the most exciting of the session and the Trunkmakers won in an eleven-inning game by a score of 7 to 6. The final game tomorrow will be between the same teams. Many effective speeches were made this morning at the equal suffrage rally and the women held a reception this afternoon. At the Forum tomorrow, Dr. Daniel Rader, editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate, will tell of his trip through Asia. Rev. J. D. Lee, of Boston, will talk on "Atrocities in the Congo."

The music today was especially good. Miss Johnson sang, rendering vocal numbers, and Miss Julia Beth Farrell, of Northwestern University, convulsed the audience with recitations. Dooly, Rev. Hiram Vrooman talked on "Civic Righteousness" at the W. C. T. U. Round Table this afternoon, and tomorrow Attorney F. E. Dutton, of Portland, will speak on "Law Enforcement," relating to the local option law. Mr. Vrooman preaches Sunday morning at 9 o'clock in the auditorium. Harry Parsons, of Trinity Church, visited the city this afternoon. Mrs. Millie R. Trumbull talked this afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. tent on "The Effects of Exciting Amusements Upon Children."

Address by Veteran Suffragist. The Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association occupied the forum hour. Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, vice-president of the society for Clackamas County and round table manager, introduced Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunaway, the veteran Equal Suffrage leader. In a few happy sentences, Mrs. Dunway said:

In meeting on this auspicious occasion with the many friends of equal rights for all the people whom I long ago learned to love and honor, as gathering annually under these ivy and shades, they may tribute to the world's heroes, living and dead, if the less I have to say of our time that we are reminded by the words of the poet, "The best of us are dead." After thanking the Willamette Valley Chautauqua Association for affording us one more opportunity to discuss the most important question which is to be voted upon by our fathers, husbands, sons and brothers at the June election of 1908, I take pleasure in introducing to you a characteristic letter from our beloved honorary president, Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe, who, regretting her inability to be with us in the body, has delegated to me the delightful task of reading her communication.

Mrs. Coe's letter in part: I am reminded, in recalling the stirring incidents of our last year's brilliant, though not yet completed, equal suffrage campaign, of the wonderful amount of local feminine talent which was stirred into action under the prospect of our enfranchisement at the June election of 1908. Although women did not, at that election, get votes enough to win out, we discovered ourselves in greater numbers and greater activity than ever before, and men discovered, as never before, (though some of them may have guessed it), that if anything so unfortunate could happen as that they should all be called away from home at once, there would be plenty of talent left among the women to fill all the offices.

What Women Could Do. While such a calamity isn't likely to occur, it might happen. In case of a war with the allied powers of the world, the discovery of a sea of molten gold at the north pole, or even at a great allied National political convention, called to nominate a non-partisan President of the United States. Under such a condition Abigail Scott Dunaway and Clara H. Waldo could grace the United States Senate, Mrs. Emma Galloway, Mrs. Elizabeth Lord and Mrs. W. Wynn Johnson could be Congressmen, and Mrs. Eva Emery Dye Secretary of State. Mrs. Fredrick Egbert would make a capital Governor; Miss Frances G. Gotschall would shine as State Printer, and nobody could outshine Mrs. Professor Allen as Superintendent of Public Instruction.

In Portland we could have Dr. Esther Pohl as Chief Medical Commissioner, and Sara A. Evans as Chief of Police. I don't know any woman who would care to be Sheriff, but come to think of it, we wouldn't need a Sheriff, as there would be nobody to be arrested or hung. But our brethren needn't worry. There will never be a place where nobody exists but women, and so long as men want the elective offices they can always have them, because women will never vote to elect women to important offices as long as men are on hand as candidates.

Fined for Illegal Fishing. ASTORIA, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—The case against Thomas Taylor, Harry Spencer and Frank Pearson, charged with fishing for salmon in the Columbia River without first securing licenses from the State authorities, were called in Justice Goodman's court this morning. The defendants appeared by their attorney, who entered a plea of guilty and each was fined $10 and costs. The fines were paid by the packing companies, which employ the defendants, at their settling grounds.

Government Proposes Extensive Improvement at Payallup.

TACOMA, Wash., July 19.—(Special.)—There is $127,000 available for the use of the Payallup Indian school and plans are under way toward converting the institution into the only Indian manual training school in the United States. The plant, when completed, will be superior to that at the Chemawa school at Salem, Or., which is the largest on the Pacific Coast.

SHERIFF EDWARDS IN PURSUIT OF JAILBREAKERS.

Shoots at One in Battle on Moving Freight Train—Hunger May Force Men to Surrender.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., July 19.—(Special.)—Twenty Indians, two sheriffs and a number of deputies and private citizens have been engaged all day searching for two escaped prisoners, Richard Berry and Peter J. Leslie, who got out of the county jail here early yesterday morning. At 1 o'clock this morning Sheriff Edwards caught sight of Berry and his companion on a freight train just as it was moving out of Toppenish and called to the men to come down. They made no reply and Edwards jumped onto the step of one of the cars and hanging on by one hand, drew his revolver and ordered Berry, who was nearest him, to surrender. Berry's reply was to commence to climb over the car, an action which Leslie immediately followed. Edwards then fired twice at Berry, but owing to his awkward position and the movement of the train, which was rapidly gaining speed, was unable to hit him.

KILLING FISH BY DYNAMITE

Law Said to Be Ruthlessly Violated at Head of Santiam.

SALEM, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—Reports from different sources indicate that trout are being shot and blasted by the hundreds near the headwaters of the mountain streams in open violation of the state game laws, and especially the Santiam River, the latest of which was brought in this evening by Tom Wilson, bookkeeper at the penitentiary, who just returned from an outing trip to the mountains in company with City Marshal Henry Smith, of Stayton, and the latter's brother, Tom Smith. Mr. Wilson says that scores of dead fish are to be seen lying at the bottoms of the deepest pools, where they have been killed and their air bladders burst by blasts of dynamite, and there are other evidences which indicate that the outrage has been going on for some time. Mr. Wilson will report the matter immediately to Master Fish Warden Vandusen and State Game and Forestry Warden Baker in order that an investigation may be made and the guilty parties brought to justice.

No Vote for Nonresidents.

ASTORIA, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—The resident voters of West Seaside have secured a written opinion from a local attorney stating that under the law, no nonresident has a right to vote at the coming city election on Saturday. They propose to challenge every ballot cast by a nonresident and should the "Home Owners Rule" ticket be successful, they will contest the legality of the election through the courts.

PARTY IS EN ROUTE

Mazamas Go on Foot From Detroit Station.

BOUND FOR MT. JEFFERSON

Because There Is 30 Feet of Snow in Hanging Valley, Base of Operations Will Be From Horse Heaven.

DETROIT, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—The Mazamas have now covered about one-half of the trail from Detroit, Or., to their camp near the foot of Mount Jefferson. Owing to unforeseen circumstances only about half of those expected were able to come.

Those who are now tramping the difficult mountain trails are C. S. Sholes, E. P. Shelton, M. W. Gorman, Nelson Gammans, F. C. Kiser, E. R. Phillund, Miss Agnes Plummer, Miss Anne L. Rankin, R. L. Gilson, John A. Lee, Walter Polman, Dr. Kerr, L. E. Anderson, R. A. Bernstein, H. E. Henneman and Francis Benfield. L. G. Hicks, Rev. A. D. Wagner and Mr. Rice have preceded the rest of the party. The Mazamas have secured W. Sprague as their cook. The party left Monday evening, July 15, for Albany. They proceeded to Detroit early this morning. On Tuesday afternoon the party followed by the pack train, walked eight miles to the junction of the Breitenbush River and Hanging Creek. On Wednesday morning the party took for the trail again and tramped to Breitenbush Hot Springs, where they remained during the afternoon. They expect to make the 15 miles to Horse Heaven on Thursday, July 18. Owing to there being 30 feet of snow in Hanging Valley, the base of operations will be from Horse Heaven instead.

While some of the party will be engaged in taking excursions, the fishermen of the party will be fishing in some of the fine streams and lakes in the country. One means of amusement during the evening hours is meeting for singing and speaking. A number of botanists are among the party, so that they can tell each other what they have found and discuss the common topics of interest. Very fine weather has been encountered so far, and it is expected that the favorable natural conditions will add to the success of the climbers.

PAVE STREETS OF CHEHALIS

Vitrified Brick Will Modernize Business Section of Market Street.

CHEHALIS, Wash., July 19.—The Chehalis City Council has passed the ordinance for paving Market street, and with its publication this week has become an assured fact. Bids to contractors are also being advertised and it is the intention to push the work without any delay to insure the paving being finished before adverse weather sets in. Vitrified brick is to be used and the paving will cover Market street from the Northern Pacific depot to the St. Helena Hotel. The estimated cost is about $30,000, to cover which it is proposed to issue bonds.

CAPTURED BY CLEVER RUSE

Alleged Forger Grew Bold in Cash- ing Checks in Idaho Towns.

BOISE, Idaho, July 19.—(Special.)—J. K. Castle has been arrested here on a charge of cashing a forged check for $600 at the New Wilson Hotel, at Salt Lake, on June 25. He is a salesman for Mayer, Wise & Co., of Cincinnati, manufacturers of novelties. After cashing the check he disappeared from Salt Lake and the officers have since been watching for him. He also cashed a check for $50 at the Ban-nock Hotel, at Pocatello, and one for the same amount at the Dewey Palace, at Nampa. In each case he signed his firm's name, with his own attached. Chief of Police Francis has been on the watch for him and sent him decoy letters. One of these reached him at American Falls and he at once came here to get the order, which the firm whose name was signed was represented as wishing to give. When he stepped off the train last night he was taken into custody. Sheriff Emery, of Salt Lake, is on his way here to get the man.

PLEDGE FUNDS FOR MISSIONS

Oregon Quakers Meeting With Success in Work Among Indians.

NEWBERG, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—At yesterday's session of the Oregon yearly meeting of the Friends' Church the entire afternoon was taken up in hearing reports of the missionary work being carried on by the church among the Indians on Kales Island, Alaska. Some 15 years ago one of the members of the church who was stationed on this lonely island (Charles Edwards by name) teaching school, and carrying the gospel to the natives, was foully murdered by white men who were smuggling whisky in to sell to the natives. This made the island hallo-

WHY HAS Weinhard's Beer

ALWAYS MAINTAINED UNDISPUTED SUPREMACY ON THE PACIFIC COAST?

QUALITY

Is the Correct Answer

We have always used only the very best materials, carefully and scientifically handled, by expert brewers. That is one of the reasons why our beer is so wholesome and health-giving. It contains everything that makes perfect beer. The best barley-malt, selected hops, unequalled yeast, incomparable, sparkling Bull Run water, all combining to make "Weinhard's" the most popular beverage on the Pacific Coast.

During the past few years we have spent a large amount of money to keep our plant in advance of the demand for our beer. Our storage capacity has been more than doubled. We have just finished the most modern ice plant in America. It is up to the minute; there is nothing better in existence. Our malt houses have been rebuilt, enlarged and improved. We aim to produce "Model Beer" in a "Model Brewery." That we have succeeded is attested by the immense popularity of our product.

"Weinhard's Beer" is produced regardless of expense, and the effort of every department is focused on the principal aim of the management, to produce the best beer obtainable anywhere.

Oregon Supreme Judges Assist Indiana Man to Carry Fight Against Saloons Into the Federal Tribunal.

SALEM, Or., July 19.—(Special.)—Judge Samuel R. Artman, whose decision declaring the issuance of a license to a saloon is a violation of the letter and spirit of the Constitution of the United States, on the ground that the saloon is a menace to the home and the health, peace and safety of the Nation, has won such wide renown, delivered his address upon "The Legal Status of the Licensed Saloon" to an audience which crowded the auditorium of the First Christian Church to its utmost capacity tonight and was frequently interrupted with applause.

Conspicuous in the audience was the strong representation of the bench and bar of the state, district and county, from the most modest and commonplace practitioner to the highest officer of the Supreme Court of the State. And, since the purpose of Judge Artman's lecturing tour is to raise funds with which to carry an appeal of the question from the decision of the Supreme Court of the State of Indiana—which reversed Judge Artman's ruling—to the Supreme Court of the United States, it is a significant fact that the majority members of the State Supreme Court present contributed liberally to

BARBERS' STRIKE A FAILURE

Men Are Returning to Work in the Shops at Tacoma.

TACOMA, Wash., July 19.—(Special.)—The much-advertised barbers' strike is about to become a thing of the past. Yesterday three union barbers went back to work in the larger shops and two men in each of the smaller shops, this action resulting from an agreement between the bosses and the journeymen. It is expected that the differences will all be settled tomorrow and that next week will find the trade restored to its normal condition. At no time was the barbers' strike a very serious affair. No efforts were made to enlist the sympathy of the other unions.
