TAKES SEID'S PLACE

Chinese Interpreter Comes Here From St. Louis.

FRANK TAPE IS HIS NAME

Portland Man Will Probably Remain in Immigration Service Here. Straus Is to Create a Place for Him.

Frank Tape, who succeeded Seid Buck, 3., as Chinese interpreter at this port, arrived from St. Louis yesterday and entered immediately upon his official duties under Immigration Inspector J. H. Barbour. The order to transfer Tape to Portland from St. Louis was issued geveral weeks ago and young Seld was to take the place made vacant in the Missouri city. Seld, however, demurred and tendered his resignation, not wishing to leave his home city where he has busi-ness interests which he does not wish

Mr. Sold remained in the immigration office until Tape arrived yesterday. On learning the desire of Seld to remain at Portland, Oscar S. Straus, Secretary of the Department of Commerce and Labor. who was recently in the city, declared that he would probably create a position for Seid in the service at this port. The Secretary informed Mr. Barbour that Seld is a man too valuable to lose, and would be retained in the service if such an arrangement as making a place for him here can be made.

Tape has been in the service at St. Louis for three years. He went there during the World's Fair as a sightseer. Soon after his arrival he was appointed to the position of Chinese interpreter, and it is said that he proved to be the most capable man who had ever been stationed at that post. He was instru-mental in breaking up an organized gang formed for the sole purpose of evading the exclusion law and bringing Chinese into this country by the hundreds. Nu-merous deportations resulted from his unceasing activity in the enforcement of Tape's name soon became a terror to Tape's name soon became a terror to Chinese not holding valid certificates of registration and identification. He is about 27 years old and is a native of San Francisco. He speaks English as fluently as Chinese. Mr. Barbour is confident that he will sustain his reputation as official interpreter during his stay at

On Sunday Secretary Straus met and gave an informal talk to the various employes in the Immigration Service at the office of Inspector Barbour in the Custom-House building. He told them that efficiency and not political pull counted with him, and as rapidly as they dem-onstrated their worth they would be pro-meted. He made it plain that honesty and hard faithful work would be the points on which he would judge of their He also took occasion to compli ment the local inspector in charge of the no means for transportation by the was showing he had made in enforcing the route between Coos and the Bay City.

Consul Cederberg produced statistics last evening to show the wonderful growth of Norway's merchant marine trade in this part of the globe during the past two years. In 1906 there was not a single vessel to visit this port flying the flag of his country. In 1906 there were six steamers and one sailing vessel, having a combined tomage of 15,637. During the seven months of this year, 13 Norwegian steamers of 23,671 tons net register have arrived at Portland. One of them, the Henrik Ibsen, has the dis-tinction of being the largest owned and operated by a Norwegian firm.

Mr. Cederberg accounts for the large number of steamers visiting the Pacific Coast of late by the fact that the Japanese have crowded them out of Oriental waters. Formerly and until very recent-ly many of the tramps were engaged in then gave his consent to receive the shipment and the task of loading the craft will be started today. The captain says the flour was badly damaged by being loaded in cars which had been used for hauling coal. After taking on 2500 tons of flour the Henrik Ibsen will complete her cargo with lumber. She will clear for North China ports.

Coming up the coast from San Fran-cisco the Henrik Ibsen had a narrow escape from being rammed and sunk by passing steam schooner, according to Captain Reinertsen. When off Point Reyes on July 12, at 11 o'clock at night, he says he sighted a steam schooner headed directly for him. It was foggy and she was nearly upon the Norwegian before being sighted. Y., were standing before Gunda's cage, watching him collect pennies from the crowd. Hischeliffe pulled out his pocket-book containing $250 in bills to see if his money was safe, whereupon Gunda deft-ly grabbed the greenbacks with his trunk and stuck them into his mouth. Two keepers rushed up and prodded the beast until he yielded the cash.

LAW IS UNDER FIRE HUSBAND FINED, WIFE LEAVES

> Klamath Men Attack the National Irrigation Act.

CONDEMNATION SUIT

Question Right of Government to Take Private Property for Reclamation Purposes-Say It Is Not Public Use.

Under the provisions of the National irrigation law can the United States condemn private property when such action is necessary for the completion of an irrigation project? The question of this right has been raised in the United States Circuit Court in this city by Alex Martin, Jr., and Fred H. Mills, of Klamath Falls. who assail the constitutionality of the irrigation law as enacted by Congress, Martin and Mills are defendants in an action brought by the Government for the condemnation of a strip of land adja-cent to Klamath Falls which is needed to complete the extensive irrigation project that is being carried out in Klamath The strip of land involved consists of about and and one-half acres, for which the Government offered the owners Which the Government offered the owners $1000, but the proposal was rejected and $3000 was demanded. The representatives of the Government considered this price in excess of the true worth of the land and upon reporting the matter to Washington were instructed to bring condemnation proceedings against Martin and Mills

Mills.

The suit came up in the United States Court yesterday on a demurrer to the complaint, the defendants contending that the Government does not have the right under the irrigation law to condemn property for other than public uses. Their position is that the Government is seeking to use this strip of land for private, rather than for public use. In opposing this argument the Deputy United States District Attorney took the position that the use of any land in reclaiming a desert can be considered only a public use of the use of any land in reclaiming a desert can be considered only a public use of that property. The question was taken under advisement by Judge Wolverton.

This is the first time the constitutionality of the irrigation law under which vast areas of this state are being made productive has been questioned. The decision of the trial court will be expectantly awaited since it is considered a vital question as affecting the different irrigation projects in progress and others that are contemplated in this state.

FRED D. WHITING

A REMARKABLE LETTER

St. Louis, June 25th, 1907. Werthelmer-Swarts Shoe Co., St. Louis, Mo. My Dear Sire:

I recently sold out all of my Arkansas interests and after July 1st, I will be down in Tennessee as a general salesman for Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co. but before I go I want to secure myself against another attack of the King of all Diseases-rheumatism, and I believe I can do this by wearing another of Dr. John Wilson Gibbs' "ELECTRI-CURA" shoes. About one year ago I was considered by friends and several physicans, a hopoless victim of rheumatism. I was reduced in flesh more than one-third, and my nervous system was a complete wreck. I spent about three months at Hot Springs, Ark., and eight weeks at Marlin Hot Wells, Texas, taking in all 116 hot vapor baths; I also spent eight weeks at Mineral Wells, Texas, drinking from 15 to 55 pints of the celebrated "Crazy Well" water. I returned from there to Little Reck, Ark,, and under one Is especially valuable during the of the most eminent physicians in the Summer season, when outdoor occucountry, I took a course of Goatlymph. After all of this I was able to walk without my crutches, but was very weak and suffered quite a good deal with my rheumatism.

One of your representatives, Mr. Jesse Prewitt, who is quie a warm friend of mine, insisted upon my trying a pair of Dr. John Wilson Globs' "ELECTRICU-RA" shoes. I was skeptical at first for I had had submitted to me by letter phone, telegraph, and through the intervention of friends, several thousands of "sure cures" for rheumatism, and I had sworn off ever trying anything else that was to take or rub, but as Mr. Prewitt as-sured me that if these shoes did not give satisfactory wear aside from their curative powers, he would pay for them, I consented to try a pair. I got well and don't know whether the shoes cured me or not, but I haven't a sign of rheuma tism and have gained back my lost strength and flesh, and I think so well of the shoes that I intend to wear them as long as I can get them.

Anybody who wants to know what I think about "ELECTRICURA" shoes, you may respectfully refer them to me, and I will take pleasure in stating what they have done for me.

Will you please let me know where I can get a pair of these shoes here in the city of St. Louis? Yours very truly, FRED D. WHITING.

Plain Logic Which Explains My Success

If I did not know to a certainty that the service I am prepared to render is superior to that to be had elsewhere, it would be foily for me to make the claims I do. There is no physician in the world so skilled and capable that exaggerated assertions will not quickly ruin his reputation and practice. The doctor who succeeds is always the doctor who is able to do a little more than ne tells the people that he can do, and whose ability permits him to say that he can do much. The afflicted do not rush unthinkingly to a doctor merely upon the strength of his statements. They look about for evidence of his skill. They observe the volume of his practice and investigate his professional standing. I invite the most thorough investigation. The more thorough the investigation the more certain is the investigator to become my patient, and the greater will be his confidence in the largest because I in-

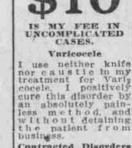

My practice is the largest because I invariably fulfill my promises.

"WEAKNESS"

"Weakness" in all its phases and in practically every case that comes to me for treatment is merely a symptom resulting from a state of chronic inflammation existing in the prostate gland. This inflammation may be a lingering result of some contracted disease, or may have been brought on by early dissipation, overwork, etc. In by far the greater number of cases the general health of the patient is perfect, there being no lack of either physical or nervous energy. No stimulants or tonics are needed, and if employed would only result in temporary excitement of the functions and positive injury to the tender and already disordered prostate. My treatment is a local one entirely. It removes all inflammation, swelling and tenderness from the prostate gland, establishes normal circulation throughout the parts and restores permanently and completely all natural functions.
